My dear

Sir

I thank you very much for favouring me with the lecture from the Liberator. I should have presented it yesterday had I not been engaged to prepare it to be read, in order to create a person must present it. I am sure you have so many & honestly admitted to attend. I feel happy to thank you for the ability & courage with which you have contested & to be sure to believe in it.

Yours truly

Wednesday May

My dear Sir!

I rather wait till I can return your thanks for yesterday's kindness accompanied with a request for a further mark of your favor.

I have made every arrangement for the instant accomplishment of the object which was laid down yesterday, & a Gentleman will be with me about 2 o'clock to take charge of the vessel leaving it to its place of destination, so that the very day the preliminary steps may be taken & the whole finished without the least possible delay.
The points of which I hope you will soon witness the an mutual satisfaction.

And now my dear Sir what can I do to escape from this place where I cannot remain as long as 15th N. Day? I owe 3 Pounds which with the fees for an annual I cannot pay or cannot render to the Bank with your further obligation by the loan of 10th Pounds which will defray the expenses of the Haberdashery Company Rules &c. Yrs. T. C. Pearson.

Mr. Thelwall has requested me to forward to you the two little pieces of poetry herewith inclosed, the "Reply to a Poem of Ed Vaux" & the "English song without a Sibilant," & to make his apology for not sending before, only the want of time for Transcribing has prevented him, & also from sending some other articles.

I have myself taken the liberty of sending translations of two little Odes of Horace, which are, I believe, as literal as possible, consistent with a proper attention to Rhythmus.

I am
Sir

your very Obedient, Humble Servant

A. S. Thelwall.

of an article so valuable to the Revenue as Coffee - I would also recommend that an accurate estimate of the probable consumption of roasted grain might seem among the Memorial - This estimate should rather be formed on a low than high calculation and it might be advisable to address also to Mr. Laskington half a Dozen lbs of the ground roasted grain and a sample of it in unground state - With regard to your proposal for the sale of the grain I have succeeded in obtaining a promise of a renewed consideration of your Memorial and I hope the Enclosure there expressed for relief from the Prohibition may be deemed sufficient but I

Sir

I suspended all correspondence on the subject of the Breakfast Vegetable Powder until I could procure some positive information on the subject.

The Secretary does not conceive that there is any legal restriction on the fabrication and use of the roasted grain in private premises. It is only the sale which is at present prohibited by the Construction of the Law and the Parliament in the House of Commons replied to my letter that if there should be any opposition for an alteration of the Law the Treasury would take it into consideration.

He diffidently seems to be law for the tab can be permitted without scandal acc of it for the advertisement of office.

I suggest to you whether in my Memorial you may like to send direct to the Treasury, for I am going to Paris on Friday next, you might think it expedient to suggest proper that the Tab should be excluded from Coffee Dealers Shops and whether it might be enacted that unground grain should not be sold for the the ground grain would be most difficult that the ~~market~~ grain is an unground state would greatly assist the poor man who has little fuel to command and few conveniences to use for the purpose of preparing the grain - this I think also would be useful for the poor generally or business would not be a long process - I say this out as a mode which may tend to remove some objections of the Treasury who are naturally suspicious of the Excise against the advertisement
