On your way up to the top of the mountain

*At the beginning of the year 1700 there was a great flood in the river Po which inundated the plain of Pavia and the surrounding country. The water was very deep and reached the height of several feet above the level of the ground.
The people were compelled to leave their homes and seek shelter on the higher parts of the land.
Many houses were washed away and the people lost all their possessions. The flood lasted for several days and only subsided when the water had been carried off by the current of the river.*

¶ And in the same day when the people were gathered together to hear the law, he said unto them, If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself. He that is of God heareth God's words: but the world cannot hear them, because it hateth them not that hear them not, but it hateth me because I testify of it, that it is not God's works which it doeth.
