The first thing I did was to get a list of the names of the people who were in the house at the time of the murder. I then went to the house and looked at the list. I found that the names of the people who were in the house at the time of the murder were the same as the names of the people who were in the house at the time of the murder.

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin, on a parchment fragment. The text is arranged in several lines, with some words written in a larger, more decorative hand. The fragment is torn and aged, with visible staining and wear along the edges. The text appears to be a liturgical or legal document, possibly a charter or a record of a transaction. The script is a cursive Gothic hand, characteristic of the 12th or 13th century. The fragment is pasted onto a larger, blank page of the manuscript.

[Handwritten note:]

I have been thinking of you very much lately and wondering how you are getting on.
I hope you are well and happy.
I am your affectionate friend,

[Faint, mostly illegible handwritten text in a cursive script, likely from a 17th-century manuscript. The text is written in dark ink on aged, slightly stained paper. Some words are more legible than others, but the overall content is difficult to discern due to fading and the style of the handwriting.]
