

Jane wrote it to us - "With her usual impulsiveness, Mrs. Betner rushed to him on hearing he was a Captain, telling him 'who she was'
 and asking how he felt about 'dering'. He looked a little surprised - bowed slightly - and silent - She hurried to just burst into tears when it 'I could help it!' she you were not singular in that We all wept, like Genl. See himself he alone calm and self possessed.
 hope you say the will of God done now, do you not you ladies Madam" he replied his, and those of his brave comrades had not as yet quite true submission to the Aunts - God give them grace

Thank Cousin Louis N. Y. for the delicious strawberries - they are the second ones we have seen since 1st / 1865.
 Dearest Grandma,

I am determined to take advantage of this opportunity, a fast day, and therefore a holiday - to write you this long promised letter.
 Altho. dear Grandma in these sad days I feel little able to write, or do anything else but think and grieve - The last trial has greatly grieved me - Poor Aunt's trial, I fear this is an end of all her troubles, and that can hardly dare to hope for her recovery - I thought on that unhappy Saturday night and Sunday, I looked forward to the worst - fearing a prolonged imprisonment, but oh, did any of us ever dream even, of this - I look forward to the saddest termination - Having always been so careless myself, I feel so thankful that, as it happened, I have nothing to reproach myself for -

I sometimes fear I was not prudent enough when before our Judge, and if I had kept perfectly quiet things wd. have terminated more favorably - but I thought this silence was a confession of guilt and so answered them -

The long moon and more for dear Maxima - Mr. Free, Thana, yourself, and we three, will get great comfort from her - I feel much worried about Aunt Anne - This last trial coming with all the other public trials bears hardly on her delicate health and indeed everything seems gloomy and I feel tempted often to give up in despair and believe if there were any Presbyterian convents, would retire to one, and selfishly live away my years apart from the world and all in it - When I look back to a very few years ago when my life seemed so bright and I had such a light and happy heart, it seems a sickening dream - and I already feel like a wreck - No earthly power need try to rouse me from it - no human being ever had or ever could have, any influence over me, and my God alone can bring comfort and rest to my worn out, weary soul -

Mrs. Vertner and her daughter Maggie, are now returned to P. Gibson and their return seems to have greatly startled the people - Aunt Jane relates an interesting conversation between a Confederate Captain, who had surrendered with Lee, and was present at the interview with Grant. and Mrs. Vertner who met him on the boat, on her way down the river - I will write you as Aunt except walking through the Tuilleries and Champs Elysees which gardens are just across the street from this place They are devoted mostly to the amusement of the children and courses of the city who seem to spend most of their time in them. The children have been very much carried away with the little plays which they have in the booths which are scattered about the gardens, and ever since Doris first sight of them she has been able to talk of nothing but how "Punch and Judy jumped up and down" Well I don't intend to write you such a stupid letter again but will send this in order to show you that I have not forgotten you yet, and to tell you that we are all well and having quite a pleasant time. I send a letter to Clarence which I wish you would ask Cousin Louis to forward for me I will give the direction. You must try and write us once and a while or else get some one of the family to do so for you. I hope that your health still remains good. All join me in much love to yourself and the rest of the family. I remain your loving grand daughter Sallie

love to the baby

I am almost ashamed to commence a letter to you at this late date but you see I believe in the old proverb, "Better late than never", and now I must make some of my many excuses which I am afraid you will think are very poor ones. The whole time that we were in London we were out of town entirely, and when we came in at night we were all so worn out that we were obliged to retire immediately if not sooner. When we reached Paris I determined to write you immediately but intended to write you immediately, but Fanny got ahead of me and despatched a letter by the last steamer and I thinking it would be pleasanter for you to hear from us at different times waited for the next steamer. I hope that these excuses will serve to make me appear to you a more affectionate grand-laughter than I am sure you must have thought me before this. When we get settled for the winter I intend to write you regularly. We spent a delightful week in London but the weather has been so dreadful ever since our arrival in this place that we have not had much pleasure and the worst of it has been that we were obliged to go out in it, as I had wished to have our wardrobes for the winter arranged here. We intend to leave this place for Dresden next Tues-day but I am afraid that we will not get to studying until the 1st of Dec.

I feel quite anxious to begin as I know so little and need to know so much I intend to study hard while I am in this country so that when I return to America I may be worth some-thing, for I never wish to have it said of me that "he has no sense".
We were glad to receive your letter of the 20th of Oct, but were sorry to hear that you had such a dull day after we left

I do hope that your many friends in the Heaven will come in often this winter and while away much of your time for if they do not I am afraid you will have a stupid time, but you have one consolation in having so many nice books to read. I should be quite happy if I thought that we had really been any comfort to you this summer, but we were always obli-ged to make such flying visits that I do not think you could have enjoyed them very much. I wish that we could have been with you this winter. We have not yet heard a word from Willie and I am afraid it will be three or four weeks before we can receive any letters we feel very anxious to hear of the con-summation of the affair about which the poor boy has been so worried for so long a time and I expect that he is now quite happy in the possession of his new and lovely wife. We have not been to any places of interest or amuse-ment since our arrival in this place us, but I am afraid that he did not receive the letter as we have heard nothing from him. The letters we received from home were written just after our boy William returned, and they write us that just before his arrival, there was a letter received for him, from a friend much loved in Louisiana in which he requested that the wedding might be postponed for ten days, and they <sup>say</sup> that he put on such a lony face and looked so sober when he read it that they really thought it had been put off for at least a year, he is in a perfect fidget until he possesses his dear Annie, and we feel quite anxious to hear of it, he has been thinking so much about her since his arrival at home that he has not yet favoured us with an epistle. Aunt Anne writes Ma that she had better not spend much money here in the hopes of an income from the plantations for she does not think that master William intends doing much this winter but amuse himself with his bride though you know he promised great things while he was in New Haven. Until this week we have had delightful weather nearly ever nearly all of the time since we have been here. but this week we have been having a little snow which is the first that we have had this winter, I am very much afraid that we are not going to have much sleigh riding or skating, I had expected to enjoy myself very much during the holidays in that way but am doomed to disappointment.

The Americans and English <sup>gentlemen</sup> who are here are next week going to give a large ball to the ladies of the town in order to return some of their many kindnesses and I believe it will be a grand affair, none of us intend to make our appearance, as we are not prepared to attend balls, except John who I think will have a gay time, as he scarcely knows any ladies here and does not know how to dance the round dances at all. You I expect will be perfectly shocked when I tell you that we have a Ballet Dancer as a teacher, but we do not intend learning the Ballet in order to appear upon the stage, but are merely trying to learn how to be graceful, whether we succeed or not remains to be seen.

My dearest Grandma

How I do long to see you. We have been in Dresden over four weeks ~~now~~ and to think that I have not written to you yet. Tomorrow is Christmas day and we are going to have a Christmas tree. Mama has been buying presents all last week for us. Please tell Mary that I will write to her the very next time. Mama writes tell Harry please to write soon to me she has not written to me since I left New Haven. We go to school now to a Miss Mieller who is very kind to us we are trying now ~~how~~ to learn German it is not hard at all. Mrs Meinell who stays in the same house with us her little girl goes to school with us and we have a real nice time. How I wish Harry and Mary were here to go with us. We went to drive yesterday afternoon and had a splended time and we saw the house that Schiller the great poet lived in when he was a child his house is about 3 miles from Dresden We are going to The grand Cathedral tomorrow morning to church We went to the opera last week to see little red riding hood and it was so pretty in Dresden the ~~Opera~~<sup>Opera</sup> commences at half past six and it lets out at nine and when they have anything very fine it keeps up untill ten. # How is Emmie Frobridge give her my love and tell her I hope she is well love to all and keep a good share for yourself.

good Bye your ever devoted Granddaughter

Essie Mordoch

Left our Southern friends woud <sup>have</sup> been not a little astonished had they seen Sallie and dancing every round dances that was danced that day night & evening Quadrills, as too "stupid for anything". But here every one dances them and there is no harm in them - If a gentleman is dirty disagreeable, the lady can soon "cut him dead" (rather inelegant) as a young <sup>girl</sup> heiress told us yesterday she had treated one who at the party which she wished to cross the floor, instead of offering his arm, placed it around her waist - Sallie was standing near when it occurs, and she described very amusingly the look of this funny Irish gal as she turned a dizzy <sup>spin</sup> upon with the cry "God!" and the man has got his arms around ~~her~~ <sup>her</sup> ~~waist~~ <sup>waist</sup>

They are all telling me to hurry, so I must close - as our letters must go for to you & all - Best Aunt love to write - May must answer your letters - Will write Cousin Louis soon - Your beloved Grandmother

Mrs. J. A. C.

Dresden.

June 14th, 1868.

My dearest Grandma,

I have just finished my first letter to sister, Annie, and must write you now, altho. a long letter from Ma to Uncle Tom last week will give you late intelligence of us - Our last from you, all is mine from Cousin Louis, which came in good time was most welcome to me, if he woud write oftener, we woud be much better pleased, You, dear Grandma perfectly astonish & delight - You are a most regular, good correspondent, and we look forward to your letters as our only informers of your sayings & doings no. 64 Elm St. I fear all the rest are but poor correspondents, as not even the childrens answer the numerous letters with which ours, are constantly plying them - But I suppose they are as busy as ever at school and play, and really get little time for letter writing -

Essie and Dora still go to a letter not far from here, but complain of their scolding teacher so that I hardly think they will remain there very long - I hope they will soon have a teacher in the home with them, for five or six hours a day, who will read to them, sit with &c. while practising, I walk with them to be which will suit us much better than the present arrang-ment of sending them to school where we are afraid they are not improving as fast as they might -

We plot along, that is John & I in our German, and I hope will in about two months longer be able to speak it with ease - Our teacher tells us the first six weeks are mortifying in the experience to the pupil, that one must understand just so much, before he can feel you understand anything.

Mr. Laughs, stills on some bright morning we will wake up to find we have immersed from our previous ignorant state and can speak German - It will I can assure you be a bright day, with a vengeance, for one, if it ever arrives - Already I can ~~say~~ talk a little, that is can sometimes make myself understood; our servant girl is so perfectly delighted at our progress that she screams with the joy at every word & after say Ah, Fraulein, das ist Deutsch, immer besser und ~~best~~ besser - (as Miss, that is Dutch, & always better & better).
She is our unfailing complimenter - Our poor teacher is the personification of a German scholar - A master of French, English, Latin & German, teaching the latter comparatively, with the English & French, but we find him, all that we could desire - He is precise to the back bone - and I find all are of this language is precise, and they are precise - but good, pure minded, simple hearted, but by no means simple - headed -

Dresden too, is by no means wanting in amusements - A grand party given by the American Consuls wife, last week which John, Sally and I attended. Enjoyed exceedingly - We returned home about about three o'clock, having danced until I thought I would drop.

up to that time - Enjoyed every moment of ~~my~~ <sup>the</sup> time and should not object to another just like it - We attend another, given by Col. Morrison, to whom we had a letter of introduction thro. Mr. Yattman. The family or rather Mrs. M. is originally German, her name was Boudschader - We are promised the pleasure of meeting a number of Saxon officers at it - which I must tell you is by no means an agreeable idea - At Mrs. Campbell's, we were told to watch them and we might judge of what German officers as a general thing were - and rarely they did ~~we~~ could not themselves be - There are but two or three who visit much among the Americans - these are liked very much, but beyond ~~that~~ this I think German officers are throughout rare characters. The custom with them is on the announcement of supper, to drop all their acquaintances and become as rapidly as possible - acquainted with the contents of the table; after piling their plate, with the choicest things may of them repaired to the gentlemen's dressing room, others to the band room, where they astonished the natives, by walking into their plates, with muscle hand & mouth, remused us fear, to forks & knives and without any more ado, demolished the supper.
& this with a few bottles of "Prin" (wine) our gay German officers prepared themselves for the after dances -

that has a wife and goes to housekeeping, it must remind you somewhat of the days, when Pa & Ma, just moved out here to live, we got along very well happily, and Annie is a great comfort to me; I hardly know what I must do without her she says she will not a few lines in this to you -

I will be so glad when they all come back from Europe, they will be so much company and will make his home so much more agreeable to Annie - Well I must say good bye with kisses of love my Dear Grandmother, I will try to write often to you - I was sorry to hear of Mr. Archibald's death - Live long to Uncle W. & Aunt C and the rest, believe me

Dear Grandmother,

I have been intending for some time past to give you another one of your pocket-knives, but have been kept very busy indeed, with my business, until the last week, since which time I have been quite sick, for four days did not take a mouthful, but am now fast improving, and regaining my strength, which has been greatly diminished, for so short an illness, but now the only trouble is that I still have to be very careful of my diet, not able to eat any solid food, however as my business is becoming pressing, I hope to be able to go to the plantation in the carriage, I am not strong enough to ride on horseback as yet and the weather is so cold

I trust my dear Grandmother is keeping well though all this cold weather she must be having in New Haven and how then the long and dreary spring to pass through before you can have pleasant summer weather again -

We get a constant supply of letters from all the dear ones in Germany they are real good about writing, and I am happy that they seem so comfortably situated and are at home once more, I so long to leave this troubled country and take my dear wife to see them - All the former pleasures of plantation life which you can probably recollect are gone now, that the Government has fired all their gentlemen; I wish some of them could see the constant appeals I have from the old ones for fire and food, who would under the old regime be well

I regretted exceedingly to hear of Uncle John Arks tells that he had no idea that he was such people's health. They stay in New Haven was
of such character that I did not find time to write on them. Are the cords pulled in New Haven, and are they yet in business? Do you also know if the office is doing to support his wife and family?
All Louis's letters are packed and head with much pleasure and I will take the earliest opportunity of writing to him, hoping that he will like to read the letter. Uncle Wm. Hunt & wife the children of Mr. Tracy say they will like to be

Dresden Sax
Jan 28. 1855.
My Dear Grandmother,
I regretted exceedingly to hear of Uncle John Arks tells that he had no idea that he was
and family?
of writing to him, hoping that he will like to
John Murdock.
I assure you that you have constantly been in my mind. Should you hear the various exclamations of joy at the receipt of a letter from you your heart would surely be gladdened. Thus you write so frequently and each letter assures us of your good health.

Jan 22nd 1866

Ever since hearing of your wish to see me, through your letter to your Grandson I have been intending to write and thank you for it. It would give me great pleasure to see and know the beloved Grand Mother of my dear husband. We are now living here, in his old home, and though it is all very pleasant, still I wish so much his Mother and Sisters were here too. It would, no doubt, amuse you to see our first efforts at house keeping. 'Tis all so new to us, I hope though after a while we will succeed Cousin Ellen Buller & her sisters will come to stay with us this year I expect. They are very pleasant and will be quite an addition to our small household.

Mr. Murdoch frequently receives letters from Europe and I take such interest in reading them. Tho' I have never known any of them, I feel quite an affection for his "dear ones" They have welcomed me so kindly into their circle, I do so wish for their return home.

I intend writing soon to the little ones Dora and Essie to thank them for the pretty Jan they sent me. It was so thoughtful, such children as they are,
one would not have expected it of them.

I hope most truly you will enjoy good health
during the cold weather In this climate, it is very mild and pleasant although earlier in the season it was quite cold.

Hoping, My dear Madam,
I may one day meet
you, I am

Respectfully & Affectionately

cannot understand it, but if you had to deal with them you would soon change your ideas of law, for the whole of the most abominable disgraceful race, nothing but slavery will ever make them anything. Little Aunt Essie, is just as fat as ever, and full of good humor, but constantly is sighing that the family will never get together again, she amused me greatly.
Aunt Ellen with her two daughters has staid in New Orleans, has been a little sick, but now from worrying about her business which has been very troublesome to her, than anything else. The two keep well, and slowly move along in the "even tenor of our ways", I get very blue at times about the riggers, and long for the time, when they will all be sent north, or out of this country, otherwise we do very well, and I go for comfort and to be cheered up, to Annie, who is a great help, to your dear Grandma.

Cousin Mount. Esq. Dec 4th 1866

My dear Grandma;

It has been about two weeks since my last to you, which was sent to the boat and by return of the boy, came your letter of Dec: 4th but I think you meant Jan: as Mr. Aubeter had died. When I wrote last I had just recovered from an attack of sickness, but now I am as well as ever, and have enjoyed fine health ever since.

Annie and I returned yesterday from Vicksburg, for which place we had gone on the "Dutchman" and returned by the same boat, I must do business, to try to lease my place out in the swamp, I did not succeed, but hope on Tuesday that I may do something with a gentleman, from your portion of the county, <sup>i.e. a "Yankee"</sup> if he is fully reliable, and will return as he promised.

Our latest dates from dear Ma, are of Dec: 30th she had just heard of my having joined in the Holy Bands, much to their pleasure as well as mine, they had seemed very anxious to hear it was on, fearful of some accident, as they thought I was so completely laid myself at the prospect - but now it is getting on towards three months since the time, so that I am fast feeling the importance and dignity of your own life; I forgot to tell you that we had no cages printed, or we would have sent them to you all -

Our winter is fast getting on, already the trees are beginning to show signs of spring, and this will probably be our last cold spell, we are having a cold rain to night, which I trust will bring clear weather soon, that I can go ahead with my ploughing, which is now very backward - but with you, I suppose, you feel as if you were just getting in to it - the girls had just tried skating when Eliza wrote and now expecting great pleasure from it, it being a great pastime in Dresden - their letters are so interesting that each one makes me long the more, to be with them. Cousin Ellen Butler and Henrietta, will be down this week to live with us, most of their things ~~had~~ come and she is only waiting for me to send for her; they will be company for Annie, who I know must feel the loneliness intensely, when I am away from the house, which is a great deal of the time. All news well in Port Gibson, Aunt Isaac is to leave in a day or two for New Orleans, going to pay Aunt Ellen a visit of several weeks - Aunt Anne's health continues pretty good, much better than she had expected, the only trouble is she allows these hateful niggers to mow her life out of her, as they do most every body - I know you all

Annie wrote to <sup>5</sup> you in my tent, which I hope you have received - she is always greatly interested in your letters, and often is the first to read them, she longs to know you, but I fear dear Grandma, I will not be able to come north this summer, plantations are not like they used to be, and require the constant attention of the owner, and the greatest vigilance, to prevent anything from going to the dogs - I trust you will let me hear from you as often as you have heart for, I am always glad when I get one of your good kind letters, next to Mother I hold you in greatest esteem - I am kept very busy on affairs here and am only able to write at night and on sunny days, but I shall always find a place to write to my dear Grandmother -

Annie sends a great deal of Love, and believe me

Your attached Grandson
William -

My dear Grandma

I am ashamed to say that I have not written to you but once since I have been in Europe and that was in Paris. I have been waiting for a letter from Harry but I have not received one yet; she promised to write to me as soon as I got here. It has been snowing all day but as soon as it falls it melts. Fannie got a letter from cousin Louie yesterday and he said Dr Cleveland was dead. Mamma has been sick for four days but she is better tonight. She went to an auction three or four days ago and came home with a chill and has been sick ever since with fever and headache; where Mamma went they had china to sell and she bought a good deal, some of it is beautiful and is about a hundred years old. There has not been any sleigh riding this winter and only a little ice for skating; just long enough for us to learn how to skate. I am just getting well of a bad cold.

Mamma is going to Shandow a place in Saxon Switzerland about <sup>an</sup> hour's ride from here in the cars to look for a place to stay in the summer and she is going to take Dora and I with her. Mamma is only going to stay three or four weeks in Saxon Switzerland and then she is going to the other Switzerland with Fanny Sally and John and leave Dora and I with in Saxon Switzerland. As it is getting late I will <sup>bid</sup> you good bye your ever loving daughter Essie Muddan

place on the middle aisle where we got a splendid view of all - On Good Friday in both Churches the open sepulcher was to be seen with a figure or waxen image of the Saviour was to be seen, which of course surrounded all day by Catholics who esteem it the greatest of privileges to kneel before the grave - It was touching as well as awful, poor infirm women, and cripples creeping almost to it, then with clasped hands and tearful eyes kneeling gazing at the supposed, worthy object of worship - Over the altar in the Kings church I do not think we have written you is a beautiful picture of the ascension which only two or three times in the year is performed, besides this there are two or three others, one of the Madonna's Child, worthy of notice - You will be glad to hear that Ma has quite recovered, growing quite strong and bright again - We are going to have a young sister, Geo V. Citron who is near Heidelberg at school, to visit us next week, and we hope to make some excursions into the country in order to see more of the environs of the place - It is to be hoped, soon to be bright again, will again, as we have had a very trying winter - I forgot to mention an American wedding we attended a few weeks ago, and which we enjoyed so more worthy than Dr. Bacon could be to tell of his last Sabbath, in which he is distinguished himself, renders him

 hardly to holy as amongst occasion - Mr.
 Yearman sent us
 an account of the sermon, which was both before a
 of the same habb
 shines proof - I hope however
 we have your Dredgers
 in April 12
 as all
 he what he reads
 any will - All

Dear Sir,
 quite a long one from Cousin Louis to you of March 12th gives us the last acct.
 of your sayings and doings in New Haven, your letters come regularly, always when you do not; Cousin Louis seems to write in your stead, thus giving us always late and interesting news from you all - A letter from Maria to Ma, yesterday stated they (at home) had been favored with but three of her productions - that they were much prized, but few and far between - Perhaps it reminds you of a similar case which your Granddaughter is equally fond of - The greater part of Ma's letter having been written to you, and Cousin L. keeping you up with our movements, ~~we~~ we were left to epistolize the home folk. Our correspondents there are like clocks - Ma and Annie, write long & frequent letters - while Ma as you must know - never runs down - They too have had their many troubles, even as poor Willie in his pink plantation attempts - Aunt Eller with her children you have heard is living in New Orleans, in order to be near her lawyer, and to give Nora the advantage of a city teacher this winter - The old Judge is as exacting as ever - not long since wrote ordering Aunt Eller to send Blanche back to Park Gibson, and bring Maurice to N.C. that enough had been spent already on the former, and that Mar, must now have her share - The Judge leaves no stone unturned to worry Aunt E. and Chs. they try to hope that it is only his old hatred against the Murdock's that induces him to act so and that in the end he fully intends to leave them provided for, it is certainly to be feared that <sup>the</sup> ill advised charge he is now making in his first will, that confusion out of the confusion, little can be secured - A short time since Uncle Butler's old house caught fire, and after the herculean efforts <sup>of the fire gentlemen</sup>, after taking the entire nursery, the fire was extinguished by a high wind which whirled through it all, threatened Aunt A's house, and but for the promptness of the gentlemen of P. G. both houses must have gone - Thanks to merciful God and all, however Aunt A's house was released, and the Parsonage also.

The spot remembering it was the house of their beloved Pastor's orphans a subscription of $1000, or was raised to we will see how they will give many their accounts.

repair damage, The poor old house was almost pulled to pieces, thinking that it wnt not be saved, all united in tearing down, shutters, window sashes & mantlepieces from the it, so that now it is sad to look upon - Fearing that you do not hear from them often, & thinking you might like to hear I have written this - Willie is much worried over many matters what seems to go against him, and Aunt A. thinks he woud sometimes become desperate - but for his possession of a wife - that she has since, & they all due fails, is charming away his cares & troubles, he says she is truly his Guardian Angel Here, we are deep in Easter week for which preparations among big & little have been making since several weeks - Yesterday, all the Americans in Dresden in spite of a big wind, & an unfriendly rain turned out to witness a procession in the Catholic Church, in which the King, the all the priests and the bishop, the Grand Prior & Priors, the rest of the royal family with the maid of honor etc. marched up the small but devout procession, which thro. the immense cathedral wound its way, then up the middle aisle, thro rows of soldiers and entering the altar, performed their duties and retired. for this and the fine music, we were obliged to promise to knelt during the services, or not obtain a so much to be done before leaving - I suppose her return next fall depends entirely on the turn affairs will take in the coming few months - Our family, now was so completely broken up, as it is now - but it will only make the few together now, cling closer than ever to each other - Could you dear Grandma but have spent the last few years of your dear life, in peace with us in our southern home, how delightful it would have been; - a thing which we all ~~have~~ always longed to have you do, but which has always seemed impossible -

We are beginning to feel rather more at home here now - and I suppose will after a time begin to like it - altho. now that seems to me to be an impossibility - though I have almost come to the conclusion, there is not such a thing as an impossibility in this world -

Please ask Uncle Wm if Ma left no directions with him about our pocket money - how much she would allow us each a month - I have not a cent of money now - I could not even go out in an omnibus if I wished to - Ask him if he will send us some, as soon as possible -

I hope we shall hear from Ma in two weeks as we told her to write as soon as she reached New Orleans - I do hope she will not be detained by quarantine, as it will be hot on board the ship to remain so long - My greatest anxiety however will be for her after she leaves New Orleans, on her way up the river by to Natchez, where the boats nearly always have to run past some battery or rifle firing - however they may all be so engaged up the Red river Just now that our firing on boats, is going on -

I hope Mary received my letter written on by Mamma the last time she visited us - and that quite soon get a nice answer, now that Mamma has gone, I will not

Bethel & at Rodney. On the Sundays, he preaches in Rodney, we attend church at Lakeland so we have services every week. Mr. Murdoch, I believe wishes to add a few lines.

so I will close. Cousin Ellen Butter joins me in love to you.

Believe me, affectionately,
Your grandaunt,
Annie A.M.

Cousin M. May 22nd 1868

My dear Grandmother
Your kind
letter was received only a few days since, and I thank you truly for it. I am so sorry to hear you are feeling so weak and badly, and hope the warm summer weather will make you better. I wish very much Mr.
Murdoch and I could go on North to see you this summer, but he is so busy, that he cannot possibly leave. I hope, though, we may be able by another summer, to visit you. I would, of all things like to be with you when the family returns from Europe & can well imagine how delightful it would be.

Cousin Ellen Butter, with Ruth &

Henrietta, expects to leave in a week, or ten days, for the North taught him so that I feel as they will spend the summer. Though I knew you well & am in Wilkesbarre with their pet convinced I should fully share a share. Mr. Maddoch & I will be his feeling of love for you - entirely alone when they leave, I have not seen the ladies but we will have, or ought to - in Fort Gibson, for some time, have, too much, employment - as I have been absent so as to feel the time hang heavily - visit to my Mother, but Mr. M. I am not troubled at all about was there a few days ago & the house keeping. The servants they were all well. Aunt are excellent, & I have been Aunt, had resumed house little to do. They are the old keeping. Aunt Ellen & daughter family servants & you know have returned from New Orleans them I suppose. So they are all together again.

I don't think your estimate of my dear husband, is at all exaggerated. He is truly all you think him, & I assure you, he has in no way out grown, his <sup>old</sup> love for his grand mother - He so frequently tells me of little things which occurred, when he was a Mr Wheeler, of Virginia, who with you, & what you had preached to ~~me~~ alternately at
