Garth,
Aberfeldy,
Perthshire.

October 6. 84.

Dear Sir,

I have to reply to your note asking me to write an article on forgeries.

The fact is I have at present as much work on hand as can well be attended to. The political and material state of matters in that part of the world is anything but satisfactory, and you might do well to postpone

dealing with this until you see the result of the visit of the Transvaal Delegates, as well as that of the prime Minister of the Cape, who is on his way to England.

I shall be glad anyway to give you every information in my power,

Yours very truly
Daniel O'Connell

Dear Sir -

I feel very much complimented by your kind letter and wish I could fall in with your request for I do indeed know a good deal about East London having spent the last 35 years of my life working in it.

It is however quite of my power to express in writing what I should like to do re

Mr. Booth's facts.

Perhaps you will just let me think the matter over and I will write again -

Yours faithfully

My dear Sir—

I delayed replying to your kind request that I should write an article on the East End until I had thought—

The matter well out & I feel quite sure that I am not the man for that work—

I have spent my life since 1854 in East London & have done what I can to meet difficulties that have arisen in this big district: but the one thing I am not up to is writing an article—

Believe me

Yours very faithfully—

Dear Mr Percy

There are two reasons
which I fear
will prevent
me from complying
with your kind

First I have

Dear Mr Percy Hunter

I am very sorry always to have to return a
refusal to your requests. But the fact is I never have any time
now to write to magazines having more to do than

My rather limited
strength allows

I must
therefore kindly
excuse me
