

Contemporary Letters to P.W. Bunting

W.EWART GLADSTONE CORRESPONDENCE&

The OUTIDANOS correspondence:-

- 2 Letters and 4 postcards from Gladstone ipse.
 - ✓ 1 Letter Frederick Harrison re Pseudonym
 - ✓ 1 Letter draft from Percy W.Bunting to W.E.G..
 - ✓ 1 Letter Copy of " " " " to L'pool Daily Post.
 - ✓ 1 Letter same hand from Messrs Isbister(?) ~~inxxxxxx~~ giving details of Leonard Scott's Share in the disclosure.
 - ✓ 10 Letters & 12 Postcards W.E.Gladstone to P.W.Bunting
 - ✓ 1 Signed envelope to ditto.
 - ✓ 1 Letter Mary Gladstone ~~xxxxxxx~~ re her Father to Mrs B.
 - ✓ 1 Letter Marquis of Dufferin and Ava declining to write on W.E.G.
 - ✓ 1 Ditto John Morley
- W.E

*+ Allen Shaw
2 sons?*

Ely. Dean of.

Vol. VIII. April. 1868.

The Congé a' Elie.

"Outdiano" disclosed in 012304h35

Gladstone's Speeches

Descriptive Index Bibliography

A. Tilney Bassett

Melburn

1916

Liverpool Daily Post & Mercury
1889 re Ouhidange Article -

2 October Wednesday London Correspondent re.
Daily News on authorship
"a little staggering" but as a denial "it seems foreign to the manner of the Cont." 3 October Thursday re-affirms statement only a week or two before public did he intimate to Mr. Buxton desire to withhold name -

"New of the Day" - Mr Gladstone's statement that Journal in question has no authority for attributing article to him given prominence as second § -

Editorial of two columns deal with article, its supposed author & its subject - "Whoever wrote the article" it represents Mr G's views -

4 October Friday London Corresp. on the above statement i.e. not a denial of authorship. How did the secret leak

(con)

our? "That is a matter for Mr G This Editor" Interest abroad obuying up of the copies certainly the article

5 Oct Saturday - Italian Press refuses to accept G's authorship but publishes London Telegram attributing it to him "The Attack

7 October ^{Monday} on "The Triple Alliance" is heading - the Berlin Letter published

8 October Tuesday Contemporary Review article via Vienna is attributed to Mme de Novikoff - anticipated that Lord Salisbury will take severe notice of the article attributed to Mr G. as an "incitement to European war"

9 October Wednesday. London Con. again refers to the subject. & Weekly Article by Mr G. in 1858 of similar kind -

10 October Thursday - Ditto re Daily News article of 18/10 in Edinburgh Review -

(con)

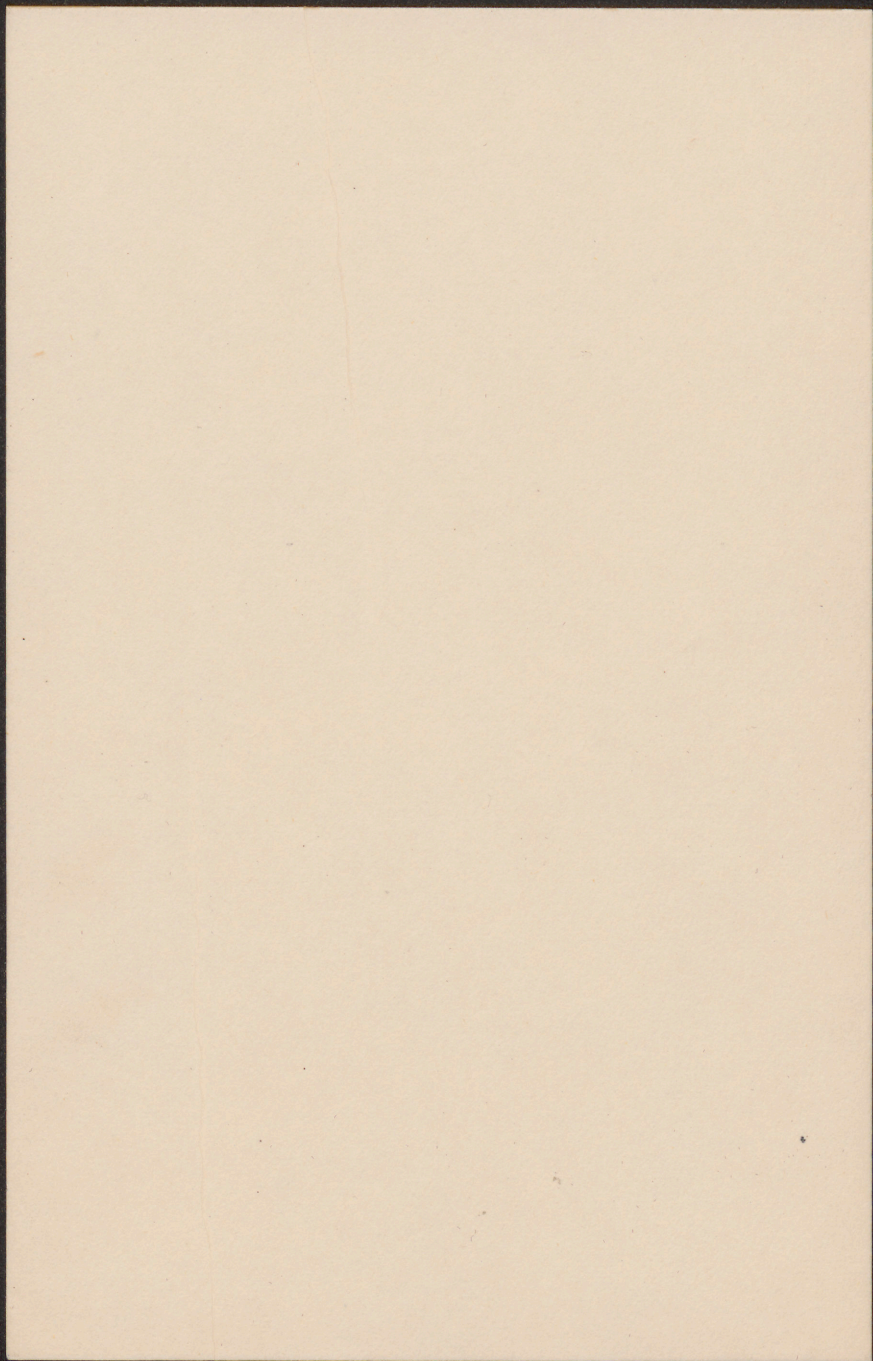

30 October Wednesday

Lord-Cor. & Ishelin as Cullin sent to the Bank by W.E.G. with letter of 30th

31 October Thursday

"Mr G & the C. Rev"

- Desist by these letters that they have given anyone authority to disclose identity of writer -

Daily News.

1 October 1889

Editorial p 4 opens

Adams & half of it -

"The C & R - with easier late 1/2 first place in public attention than hitherto by virtue of the article on Triple Alliance & Italy's place in it with which it opens -
--- It is vain for bull-dozers to keep a secret which is revealed in every page of this essay -"

Editorial 12 the Times 3 October 1889

"The proudest defiance ever yet given to the Triple Alliance -" etc in following few days' issues -

11. 6. 1919. I am writing to you last night Dear M. G. I have seen the letter by your letter has not actually left home

~~I have~~ ^{I have} very much emphasized & dissatisfied to find that there is ^{some} truth in the story told by the Liverpool Daily Post; ~~etc~~

A clerk of Messrs J. without the knowledge of M. N. or myself, in replying to the Leonard S. C. (who are not the agents of J. but who buy a large number of the Review sheets every month) the clerk for J. seems to have added a paragraph ^{to his letter} stating that the article was yours. He has kept no copy of the letter, but says that he told them that the authorship was to remain a secret. This is not consistent with their ^{statement} story & I cannot recall which is correct until I get a copy of the letter for which I have cabled.

I am immensely grieved. The fact of course ~~belongs to the secret~~ ^{told its commission} to the printer & anybody else who handles only too glad to do it; it; but that any one in the office should have told it to outsiders is a ^{great} ~~great~~ breach of confidence.

I am conscious that it is poor work apologizing after an accident of this kind, but for what it is worth Mr Kierulff & I both wish to express our extreme regret. Further, if there is anything whatever which either of us can do to mitigate unpleasant consequences ~~we~~ we shall be only too glad to do it.

You will have seen Messrs. Scribner's contradiction in yesterday's paper. It occurs, ^{both} to me & myself that perhaps that - how better remain as I stand

~~24~~

My dear Sir,

Yours, very sincerely

Wm. W. Phelps

9

1887

10, Downing Street, Whitehall.

Dear Mrs Davis

It is a real great & refreshment to have read this most-excellent article - Really the first time I feel I have understood the Egyptian Question. There have so long been it, never giving" that I am pleased to call my mind ^{to} ~~that~~ it heartily because I saw that those who had done so, seemed as much puzzled as those who had not. How delighted the writer must be today, when he finds his trembling hopes actually fulfilled in the P. M.'s school letter day. How I feel capable of arguing with anybody, & beating everybody.

I fear the article to my Father & me & he was as much delighted as I was - which is saying a great-deal - he does not mind being quoted as thinking the article quite first rate.

Many thanks for letting me see it. I could not help correcting a few misprints

V. J. M. G.

Gladstone

V. 6

38, Westbourne Terrace,

W.

3. Oct:

1889

My dear Bunting,

I am indeed

sorry that your letter of the 30th has been delayed.

It only reached me today.

Being addressed to me simply Haslemere, it was delivered by the post to a Frederick Harrison, living at Haslemere, who is a Danish gentleman

Why Outidanos?

which means a high class frivolous fellow, a term of contempt. Outis is the Homeric for Nobody in particular.

I do not know who may have written Outidanos, but I do know that he represents the diplomatic scrap only known persons to Mr. G. & Lord Stanhope, which Mr. G. himself told me in the same words recently. Also who knew where porcelain at Christie's came from in 1870?

who makes frequent tours in the provinces. In due course he forwarded it to my house, Blackdown Cottage, which I left last Monday, & so to me here.
I am sorry that I have made another arrangement in re The great Skike.

Yours sincerely
Frederic Harrison.

GOOD WORDS.

SUNDAY MAGAZINE.

CONTEMPORARY REVIEW.

15 & 16, TAVISTOCK STREET,
~~56, LUDGATE HILL,~~ COVENT GARDEN,

LONDON. Oct 5 1857.

~~E.C.~~

W.C.

ISBISTERS'

SCHOOL BOOKS.

PRIZE BOOKS, &c.

Copy

To the Editor.

The Liverpool Daily Post.

Sir
My attention has been called to a paragraph in your issue of Thursday last, in which your London Correspondent speaks of the authorship of the first article in the current number of the Contemporary Review. I must ask you to say that the statement so far as it refers to myself is entirely inaccurate.

Yours obediently
(signed) Percy William Bunting

158.47822
SCHOOL BOOKS
PRINT BOOKS &c

GOOD WORDS
SUNDAY MAGAZINE
CONTINENTAL REVIEW

LONDON
1867

Copy

In the Library

The Librarian's Office

For the purpose of the present work, the author has been obliged to select a large number of words from the German language, which are not found in the English dictionary. These words are given in the original form, and are accompanied by a short explanation of their meaning. The words are arranged in alphabetical order, and are given in the original form, and are accompanied by a short explanation of their meaning. The words are arranged in alphabetical order, and are given in the original form, and are accompanied by a short explanation of their meaning.

Looking over the list, the reader will find many words which are not found in the English dictionary. These words are given in the original form, and are accompanied by a short explanation of their meaning. The words are arranged in alphabetical order, and are given in the original form, and are accompanied by a short explanation of their meaning. The words are arranged in alphabetical order, and are given in the original form, and are accompanied by a short explanation of their meaning.

10

Copy of autograph letter from the Rt Hon W.E. Gladstone to the Rev McNeill Hawarden Oct 6/89.

My dear Sir.

You have done me very great honour by sending me your translation from the Zend Avesta; and I have profited greatly this morning by reading in your Preface 'Introduction'.
Though I am only in the outer court of the temple of Philology, I am sensible of the extraordinary interest attaching to the Zoroastrian religion, & grateful to those who like you give us such aid in understanding it. I wanted to mention it and refer to some authorities forth purpose of throwing light upon the question whether the belief in a future life gained, or lost ground with the lapse of time. Only in the case of Greece have I any knowledge of the quellen, and there I think that both the doctrine and religion generally as an influence lost greatly throughout the Hellenic & classical ages.

Some small presumption appeared to exist in behalf of the belief that in Persia also [in regard to (something like the omitted)] the future life & the retribution with which it was there combined there was a similar downward process. I hope I have not stated this too boldly, or used any arts to conceal my ignorance

Accept my best thanks for your kindness. Perhaps if I am able to visit Oxford you will allow me to profit by your conversation; and meantime let me remain

Yours faithfully
W. E. Gladstone

L. A. Mills Esq (810)

Coladstone

v. 6

19, Norham Road,

Oxford.

Oct 21st 91

To the Editor of the Contemporary Review
my dear Sir

A proof of Mr Gladstone's article (as which I enclose - note from him to me) I venture to ask you to look over the accompanying article.

It was written thrice your copy at your suggestion, I believe^x, and you kept it sometimes

^x We corresponded about it I think, my colleague Darmstadter giving you an article.

at last on my regret returning it with the friendly remark that you had given it a good deal of consideration but on the whole don't think you could give it a place. Now the subject is up, & attention is excited.

Canon Cheney my intimate friend to whom I introduced the subject of Broadbent who cites my XXXI
S.B.C. and Book of the East especially in his ^{in his Banquet} Banquet in Gladstone in recent month's Nineteenth Century. At any rate I am sure you will like to refer

10-21-91

Your memory on the point even if you do not let you say to print.

There is no ~~whereas~~ in print any such summary.

I delivered it as a lecture here after correcting it by shortening at your suggestion. It excited a good deal of attention & I am holding conferences on it (his term)

Sayre has been consulting also. Yours very truly

A. H. Mills.

Cornell University.

Ithaca, New York, Oct 21. 1889.

Dear Mr. Bunting:

Yours enclosing a cheque for the Oct. article finds me here at Cornell where I am spending a short time giving a course of lectures. Thanks for the enclosure. I shall endeavor to obtain the information you want about the Denver man. It will not be difficult for me to get the facts. The Contemporary has made another sensation.

Is it really Mr. Gladstone this time? I am invited to give a short series of lectures at the Johns Hopkins University after leaving Cornell, and to visit Michigan University for the same purpose on my way home. So that I am becoming something of a peripatetic philosopher.

I shall always remember your courtesies and hospitality in London with the greatest pleasure; and you must count me among the people who would be very glad to welcome you in America. With kind regards to Mrs.
Funting, Mrs. Annot and the young people of the two families, I am very fondly, Truly & Affectionately,
Your Obedt. Servant,
Wm. Brewster.

Gladstone
v. 6

1889

Contemporary Review

Mr Nicol is still away but we have now heard from the Leonard Scott Company and subjoin the following particulars.

They are the publishers of the American editions of the Contemporary & other English reviews. The private intimation was sent to them in response to a request in a letter dated November 14th 1888 for any such information which would be treated confidentially. In reply to our telegram their immediate answer was:-

"Tribune letter written upon misapprehension of your intentions."

The mail just arrived also brings the two following letters:-

Messrs Shuster & Co. Ltd.

Gentlemen,

I was more than surprised & mortified yesterday on learning for the first time, upon receipt of your cable, of the letter to the New York Tribune.

My eldest son is in charge of our New York office & as he is exceedingly cautious & well informed on literary matters, I am at a loss to account for his stupidity in the present instance - I can offer no other excuse or explanation - it was a shameful breach of your confidence, & I fully realize the unpleasant position it places you in with the risk of jeopardizing the relations existing between yourselves & Mr Gladstone.

I trust however the fact that you were in no way responsible for the letter may be sufficient to convince him you should not suffer or be held responsible for the act of our employee. With renewed expressions of regret & sorrow, I am with respect

Very truly Yours
Samuel P. Ferree

Messrs. Lubbock & Co., Ltd.

Gentlemen,

We have your cable of the 1st inst. & very much regret our letter to the Tribune was written & that it caused you annoyance. Your letter of 26th September is as follows:

"We are posting you herewith complete proof of 'Contemporary Review', October, & may mention that the article on 'The Triple Alliance' over the signature of 'Outidanos' is by Mr Gladstone. He has no objection to the authorship being guessed, but on account of the style in which the article is written, he prefers to have it published in this manner."

On its receipt it was sent here to our Treasurer & remained in his possession.

Upon the publication of the article in England the cable dispatches as published here indicated that it had been written by Mr Gladstone, & it was not until our Copies had been issued that a discussion arose here over the article, the writer hoping to increase a demand for the number containing it wrote the letter to the Tribune upon his own authority & without consultation with any one, under the impression that your letter stated that Mr Gladstone had no objection to being known as the author, whereas he now finds the letter states "guessed"

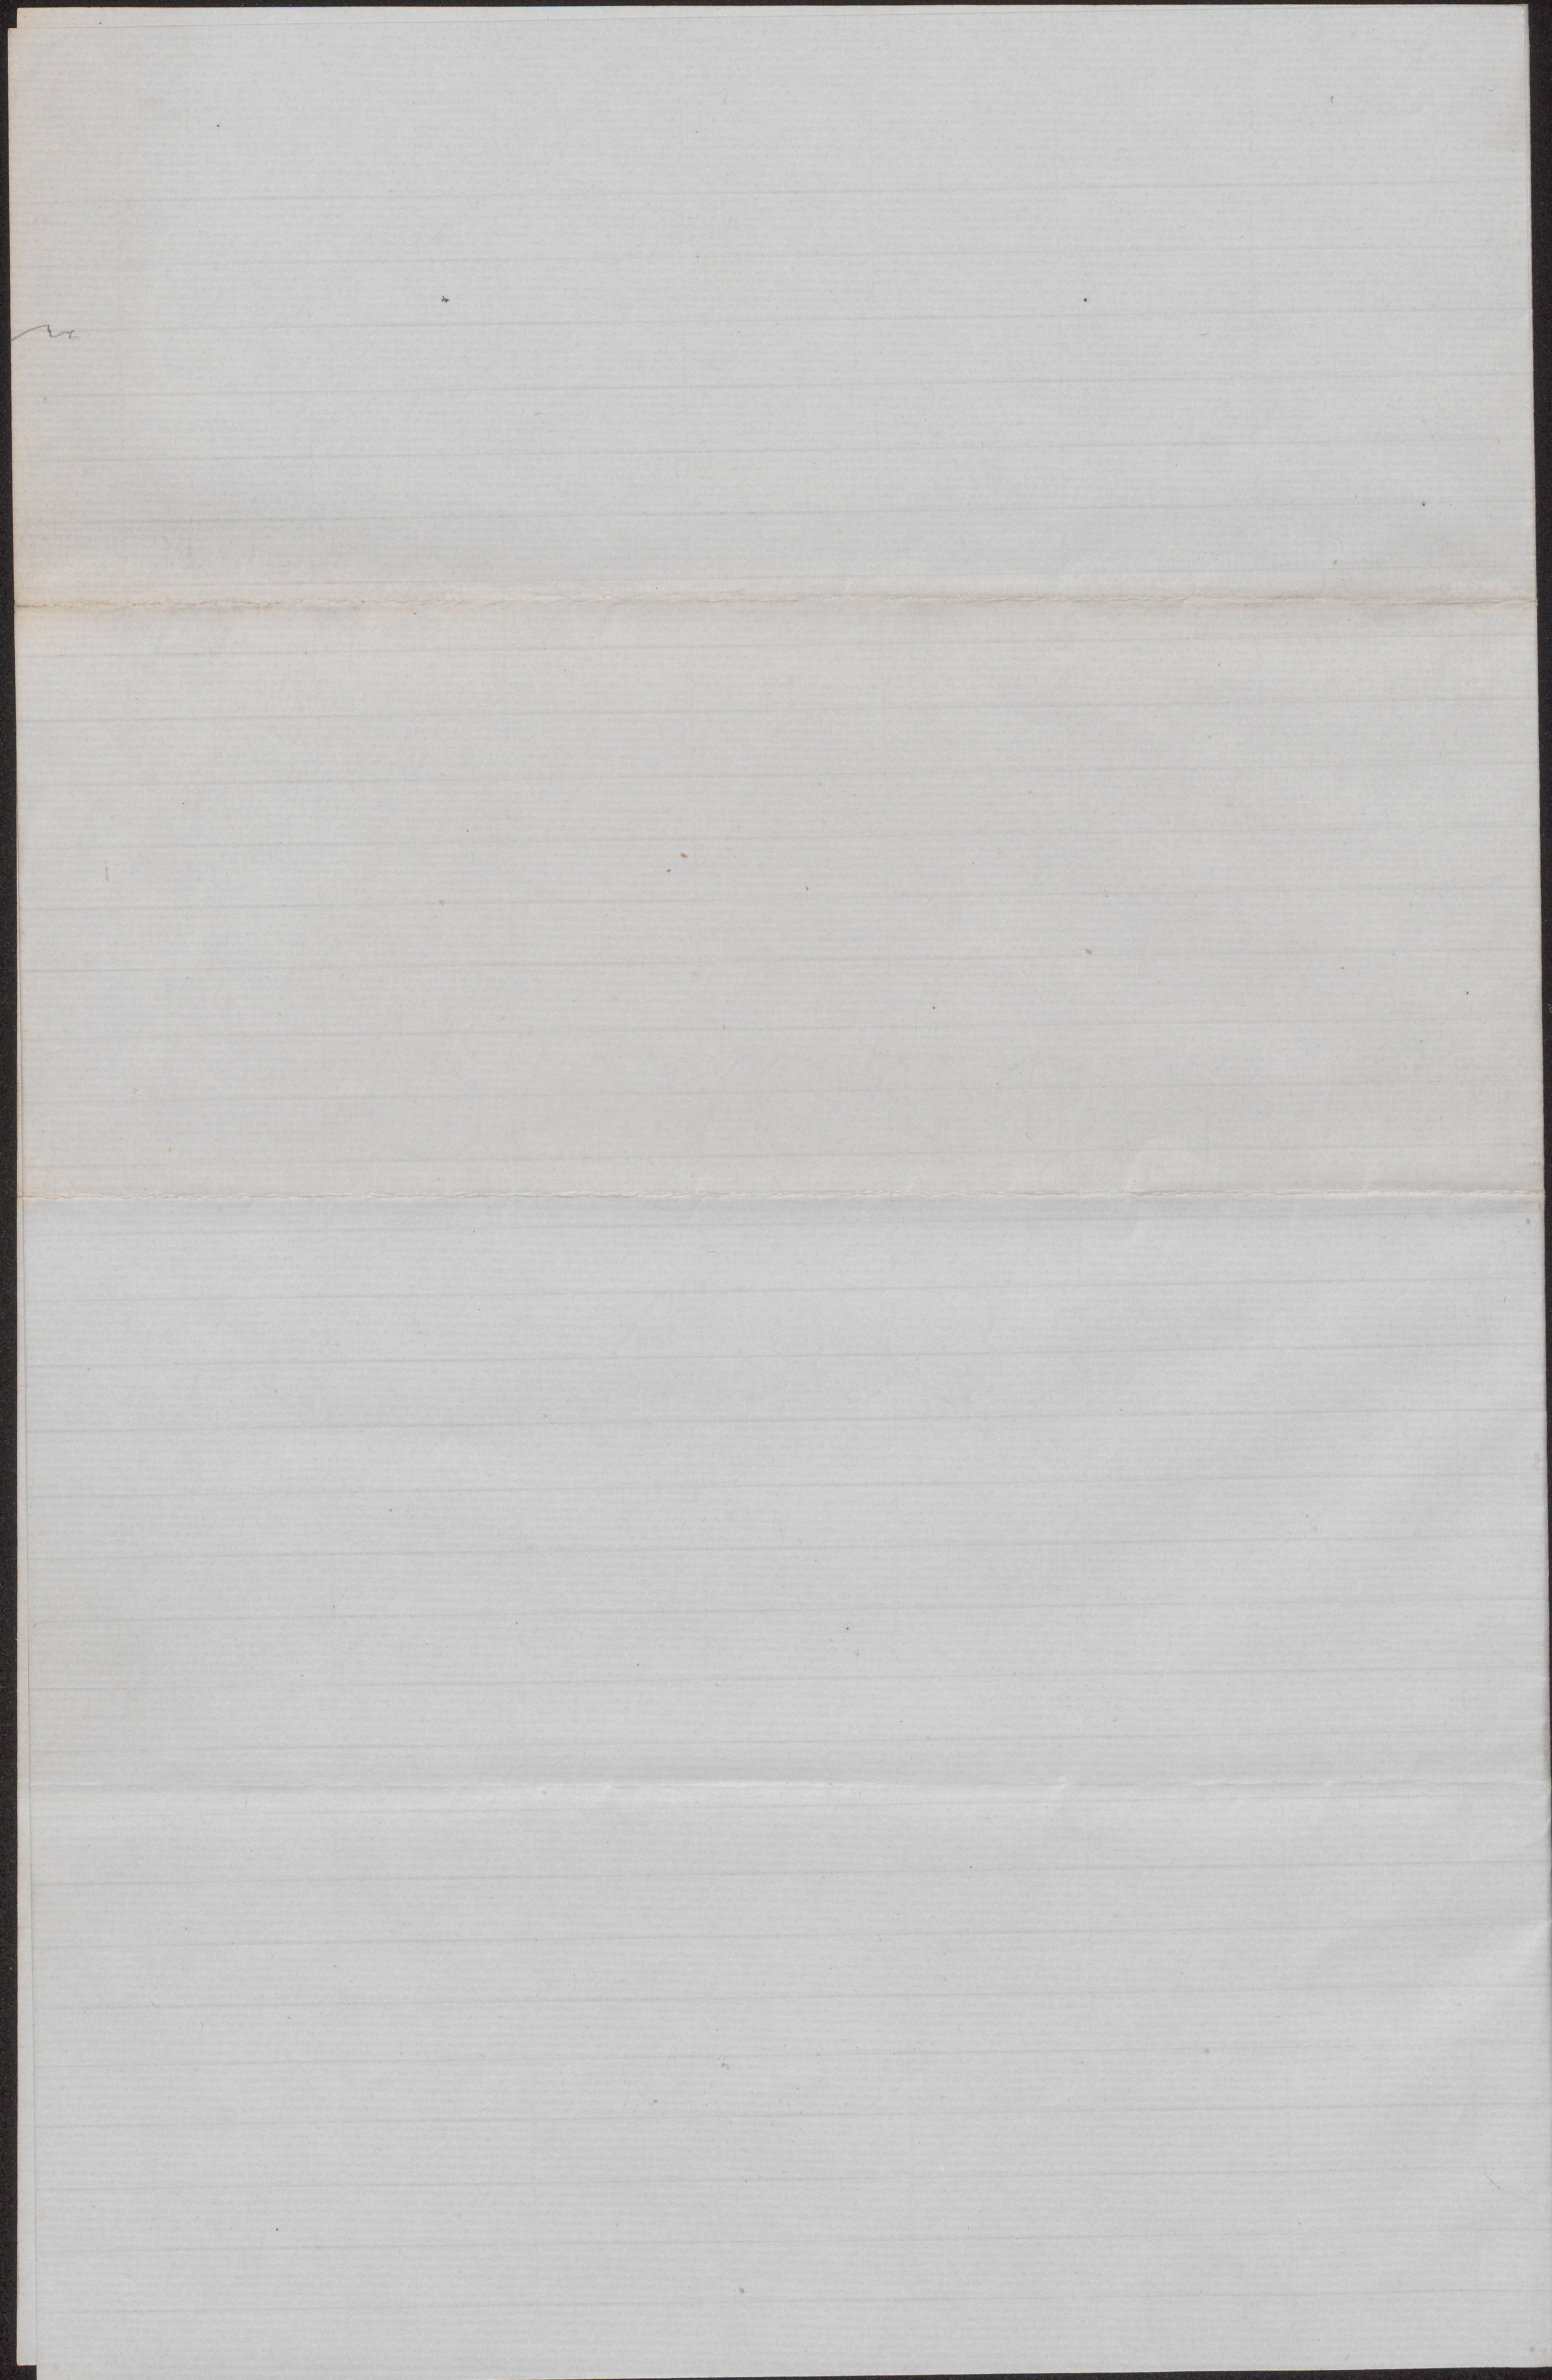

We are very much chagrined over the matter, but see no way to remedy it, but will gladly issue any notice or carry out any suggestion you may be pleased to make in regard to it.

Yours very truly,

Leonard Scott Pub. Co.

(S) J. B. Terree Sec.

From the above it will be seen that the very unfortunate occurrence was entirely due to a breach of confidence on the part of the Leonard Scott Co. for which they apologize as above.

In a note on the article M. P. Sturges writes as follows: -

4th Aug 19, 96

~~Dear Mr. Bunting~~

I have read Prof. Dicey's scathing and interesting article, with the main contributions of which - subject to correction from Lord Acton I agree.

In one point however I differ from both. I see nothing wonderful in what is called the prediction. It was natural that Pitt in his position should cast about for new hopes and means, should despair of dynasties, could should turn to Spain as the country which of all large states had been least in the war, and had greatly from the provincial formation & history of the country the most of popular spirit left in her.
I do not clearly understand, that he said Spain would rise, but that it was the most likely to rise -

I do not remember even the exact year of Gus-tave's death. But I am convinced with that he confidently anticipated as prominent events the union of Italy, the emancipation of the subject races in Turkey, and the abolition of slavery. No more insight here than in Mr Pitt's speculation, supposing him to have broached it.

As regards Prof. Dr's reference to me, I think that in all the early part of my political life the memory of Pitt was absolutely buried under the tones of Fox and Gifford, and never revived until the publications of Lord Stanhope's life of him. Then came the great changes in fiscal law & administration which brought afresh into view his great financial genius.

I then had some conversation at a Collier's dinner with the Duke of Wellington about Spain. His tone was not that of one who much admired the Spaniards.
He said they were always talking about the Grand d'Onor, and that he told them the true Grand d'Onor was to do their duty.

Somewhere in his papers there lies up the opinion that the Peninsular War destroyed Napoleon. This I regard as an extravagant and baseless supposition.

Aug 19, 1896

The man whose opinion on the influence of this prophecy would have been worth having, had he been alive, (among them whom I have intimately known) was Lord Aberdeen. His son Lord Stansmore, who has a decided historical faculty, was so intimate with both Lord Aberdeen's ideas & recollections, that upon examining into this matter, I should ask him whether he could throw any light upon it.

That ~~no~~ ^{every} man has drawn distinctions between the resistance of a coast and the resistance of a nation would have been creditable to his acumen and quite within the bounds of likelihood. During the American civil war, and before the provinces of the South had seceded, Abdemon said to me "The South cannot succeed: they have not got a people at their back."

I hope the article may lead to discussion on this interesting subject & ~~and~~ ~~may 'draw' Lord Acton,~~

Believe me

Very faithfully yours

W. L. G.

21 C. H. Denner
Aug 29. 98.

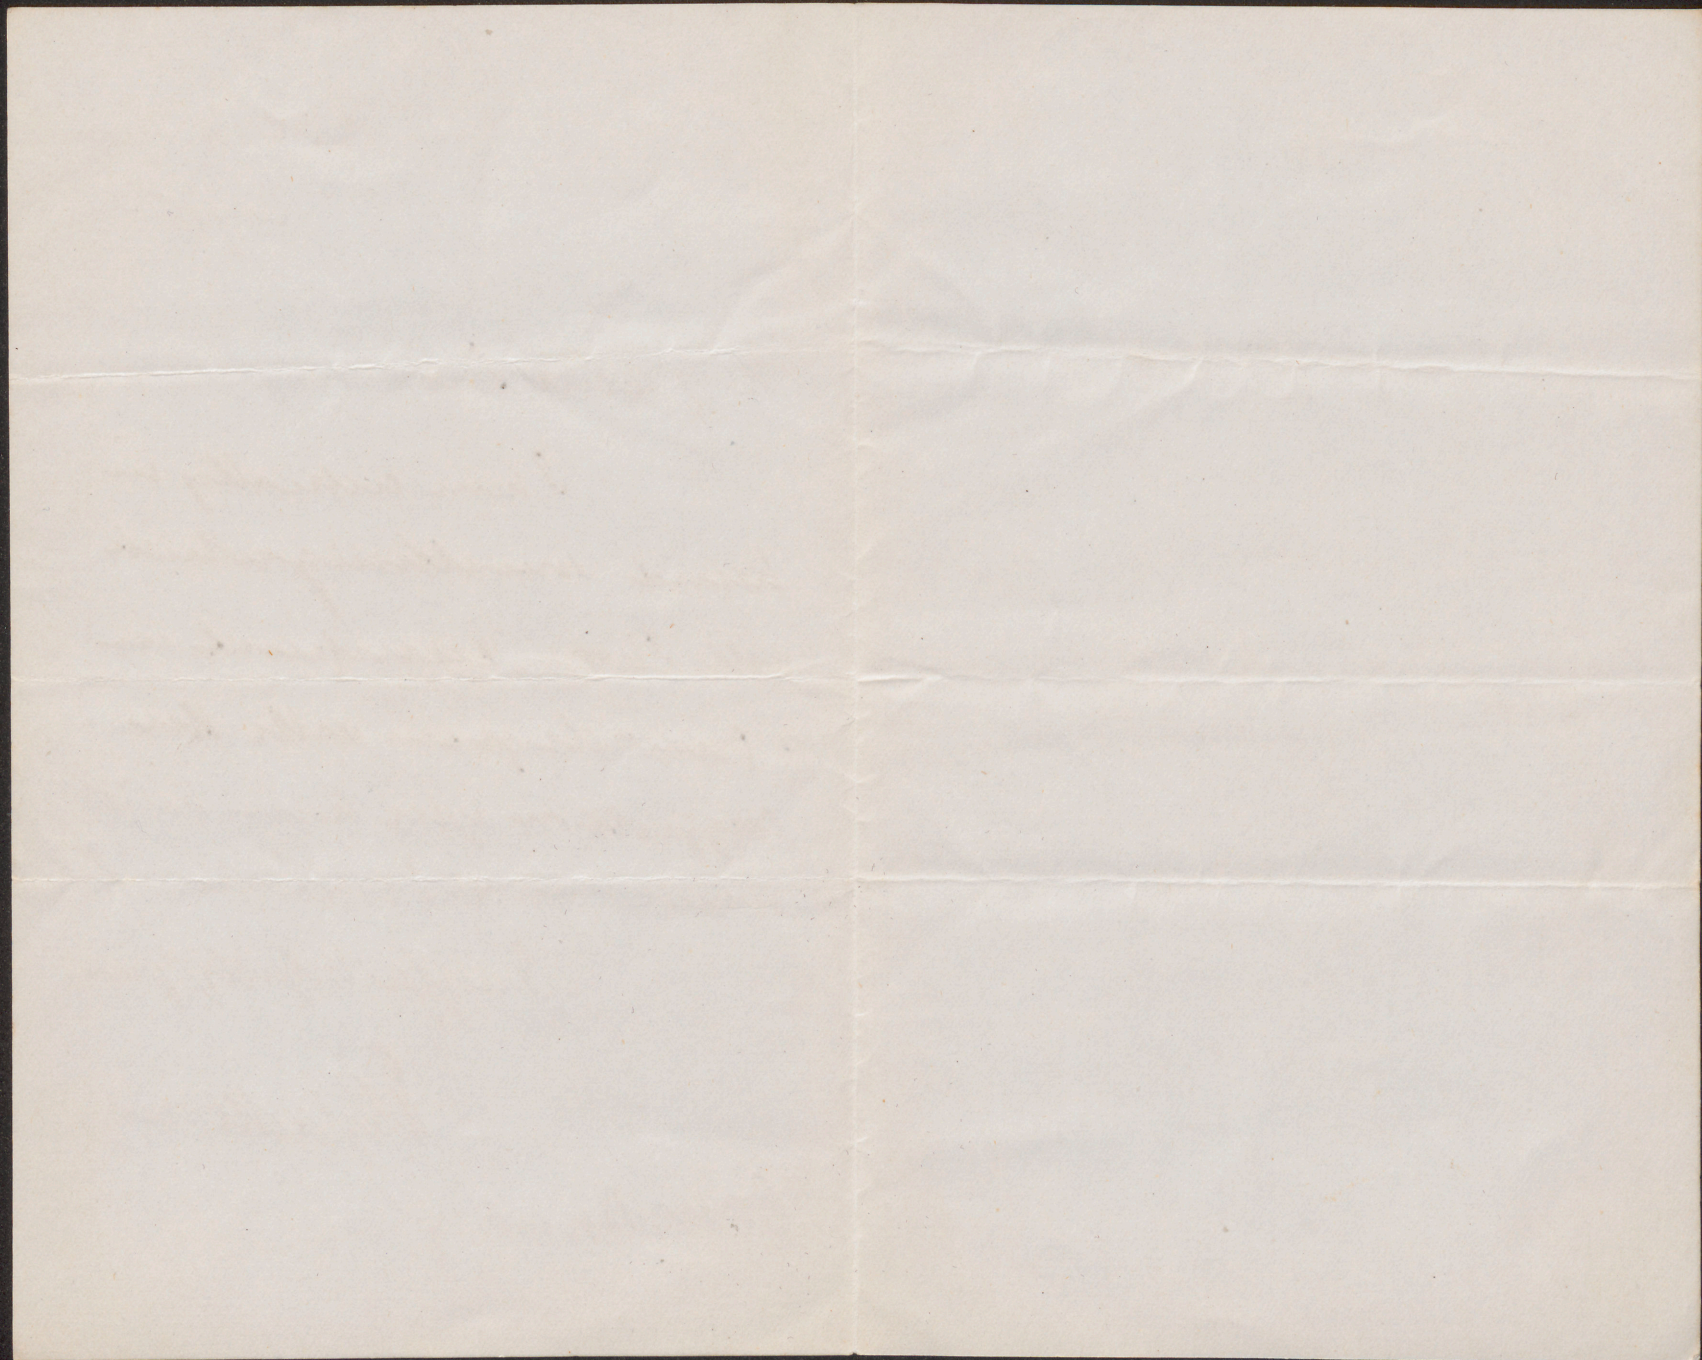

My dear Sir

I have actually in hand something which will I hope correspond in a great degree with the suggestion you have kindly made and I remain

Very faithfully yours

W. Gladstone

C. W. Bunbury

Barwarden Castle,

Chester.

Dec 21. 95

Dear Mr. Bunting

The words of D. Lillien on Armenians require no commendation from me. If they did it would be heartily given. And with respect to your design, I for my own part rejoice in any way plan which aims at making known the appalling distress of the Armenians and causing the European peoples to comprehend the ^{diplomatic} ~~deep~~ disgrace which every day of continued apathy on this question deepens more and more. I remain

Most faithfully yours

W. Gladstone

18 Park Lane

Mich 20. 91

Dear Mr Bunting

I have read through the interesting and important article which you were kind enough to leave with me.

The subject is one on which I have (in your pages) already gone to the extreme point to which I am justified in going, and I do not think that as matters now stand I can with propriety touch it further.

I should have been glad if the paper had more fully set out the financial situation, as it is this that has given urgency to the case generally.

But I hope & think it may attract attention from men who have not yet perceived how seriously Italy has become a danger to herself and even to Europe.

Yours faithfully

W. Gladstone

LVI Oct 1889

Outidanos

The Triple Alliance Italy's
Place in it -

Fairly friendly to Italy - Refers to her hostility to France - Made into plea that Italy should not show the dragon's teeth from which a hostile army are to spring - Her place not in alliance or League. Aches Italy -

? by an A. Deploras

Daily News

? Date

? Tues. 1 Octbr. - Liverpool D. Post - 8 to 30 Oct.

2/ 5/ 11/16/ 6 100 100 001 001 9/9/11/ 5/ 12

1.e [30.10.89]

Lps. Daily Post

FROM OUR LONDON CORRESPONDENT.

[SPECIALLY WIRED.]

LONDON, TUESDAY NIGHT.

When the article on the Triple Alliance appeared in the Contemporary Review, I shared and expressed the general belief that there must be some mistake in attributing it to the pen of Mr. Gladstone. The next day brought me from an authoritative source a private intimation that there was no doubt of the accuracy of the statement in the Daily News. This assurance receives confirmation from an unexpected quarter. The American agents of Messrs. Isbister and Co., publishers of the Contemporary, have written a letter in which they categorically state that the article was written by the right hon. gentleman. Messrs. Isbister's agents add—"Mr. Gladstone has no objection to its being generally known that he is the author of it, but has preferred to have it appear under a nom de plume." This is truly incomprehensible. One could, though with difficulty, understand Mr. Gladstone writing such an article and desiring to preserve his anonymity, but that he should in such an important case assume a nom de plume and then give his publishers full leave to publish his identity passes comprehension. Hitherto, as nothing in the shape of an authorised acknowledgment of Mr. Gladstone's responsibility for the work has appeared, there has been some difficulty on the part of Ministers in approaching the subject. But after this open avowal on the part of the publishers of the magazine nothing stands in the way of comment, and it is probable that on Lord Mayor's Day the Premier may have something to say. Foreign affairs always occupy a considerable place in the speech of the Premier at the Mansion House. On the 9th of November last year the greater part of Lord Salisbury's address was devoted to an indirect reply to a speech delivered a few days earlier by Lord Randolph Churchill, then in a condition of relapse towards revolt. On Saturday week, the Premier, reviewing the state of affairs on the Continent, is not likely to forget Mr.

Balwarden Castle,

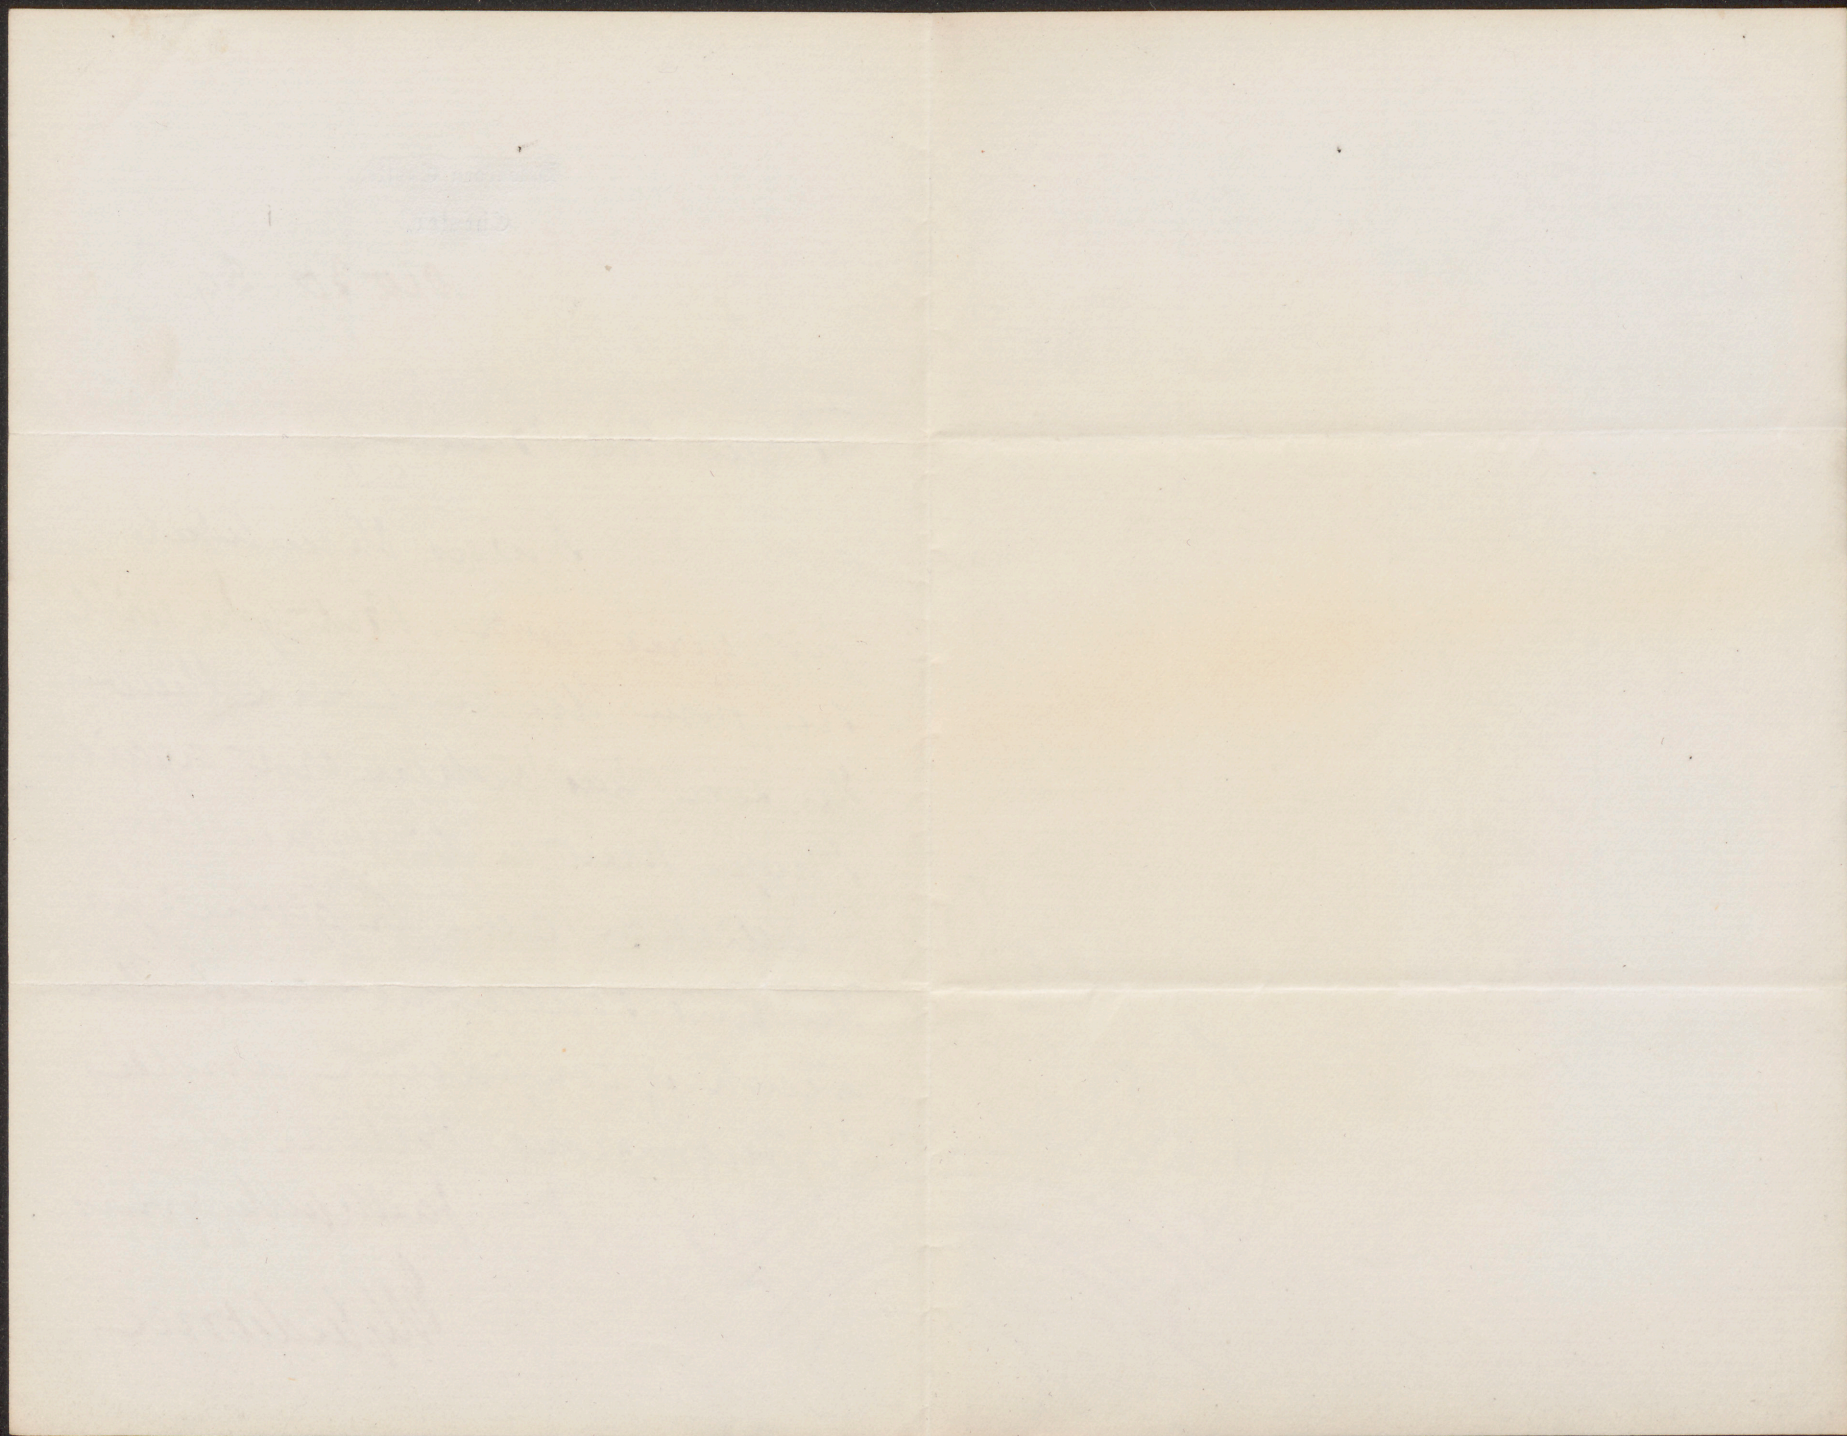

Chester.

Oct 30. 89.

Dear Mr Bunting

I was thankful for your note. But you will see from the enclosed that the sore has broken out again.
I hope that a distinct contradiction can ^{and will} be given; ^{otherwise} the mis-statement and the breach of confidence would be outrageous. Believe me Very faithfully yours

W. Meddison

1879
"Antidotes"

Batwarden Castle,
Chester.

Dear Mr Bunting

I transmit to you by this post in a registered packet an article which I intend to publish without my name under the title
'The triple alliance, and Italy's place in it.'

It is anonymous not because I am disposed to shrink from anything it contains, but simply and solely because it is rather in the nature of a lecture to the Great Powers of Europe, and to Italy in particular, such as it would be unbecoming, on my part to deliver in person.

I do not doubt that the authorship would be guessed, perhaps with confidence, but what I look to its reaching it to press whether independently or in a periodical with full reliance upon its being kept secret so far as the Editor and his establishment are concerned.

You will of course excuse your independent judgment upon it; but I am sure you will recognize in my sending it a proof of my desire to maintain in any instance where I properly can my connection with your Review, as to which I obtain with pleasure that it seems to carry all the signs of prosperity I remain dear until Early on Monday. Very faithfully yours

W. Gladstone

Paris, Hotel Bristol, Sept 5. 89

We dined recently with me a kind letter; but I do not know enough to write upon Armenia.

G

16. J. 1888

Mch 26. 88

My dear Sir

Mr Dickey, having apparently undergone a change of temper and tone analogous to that of William Smith, is one of the last men alive with whom I should think of entering into literary controversy; even were I, which I am not, free for Mr. Rippon. Yours very faithfully

W. L. Mackintosh

P. W. Mantingey

My dear Sir

Mr. B. B. B. B. B.

I have the pleasure to inform you that the same has been received to the satisfaction of all concerned and the same is now in the hands of the proper authorities for their consideration

I am, Sir, very respectfully

Yours, &c.

Wm. B. B. B.

Wm. B. B. B.

Wm. B. B. B.

G

34 Viale Principe Amedeo Torino
Jan 4. 1888

my dear Sir

intype

I thank you heartily for the Contemporary Review an article on the Armistice there which if accepted will I hope be in time for your February Number.

It follows up some similar articles in the Nineteenth Century

I feel that it is addressed to a limited public and I should wish the usual 6s to be in this case cut down to £2.

For the next following Number, it may be in my power to offer you a paper on Irish affairs. Yours very faithfully

W. H. Mitchell

The Editor

Contemp. Review

Dollis H. June 13/87

My dear Sir

Many thanks for the check. -

Thus far, I fear my speech of approximation on Saturday week has gone to take the covering off or hollow state of things, and to reveal a large determined & unappeasable cavity.

I have perfect confidence in the character of D. Dahn and should learn with the kindest pleasure that he now saw some daylight.

Things are drawing near a crisis. Thus far, our heat has been, almost wholly, that of single vulgarity.

Yours faithfully

W. H. Burdett

P. W. Burdett

5

Tollis Hill NW

May 12. 1887

My dear Sir,

I now send the MS of the 'Great Olympian Sedition.' The matter of it is very new and its value if measured by the labour it has cost me would stand at a higher point, perhaps, than its call made by its merits.

As it is to appear in your Review, I should be glad to see it in the next Number, and this will obviate any appearance of clashing with the Nineteenth Century.

I shall not I think have much to correct in the proof but a little shortening may be possible. Believe me

Faithfully yours

Alfred Stone

P. W. Bunting Esq
✓

G

Dollis Hill

N. W.

May 10. 87

My dear Sir

My son Arthur has spoken to me about the Contemporary Review: and I had in truth meant to write a note to you either this day or tomorrow.

You know my limited power of action, growing out of prior obligation to the Winchester University. In Mat-

Review I am publishing papers on the ^{greater} gods of Olympus we are known and I am agreed that these should not appear often than in alternate months. I have however worked on distinct though parallel branches of the subject of the Olympian religion & I have now ready a paper on the various legends of the First Book of the Iliad which I call "The great Olympian Religion". It would I think be a paper filling from 12 to 14 pages. I hardly think that it would be worth your while to take it, on the terms established between us; but I am quite willing to send it for your free and unprejudiced inspection if you think fit, though I should not send it on the same footing to any other Review.

I remain my dear Sir
Yours faithfully

Am. Editor

W. G. L. Stone

Fuller

P. W. Bunting Esq

11 Old Square

Lincoln's Inn

W. Gladstone

1887

Harvard

Oct 4. 86

My dear Sir

I have not time or information such as would enable me to write on Bulgaria: nor have I any reason to know that any action is required either to come or to assist the Government. Were it otherwise I should well please to appear again under

The covers of the Centurenary Review

I enclose

Sincerely yours

W. L. Garrison

P. W. Huntington

Gladstone
v. 6

Private

Naples Feb 1/50

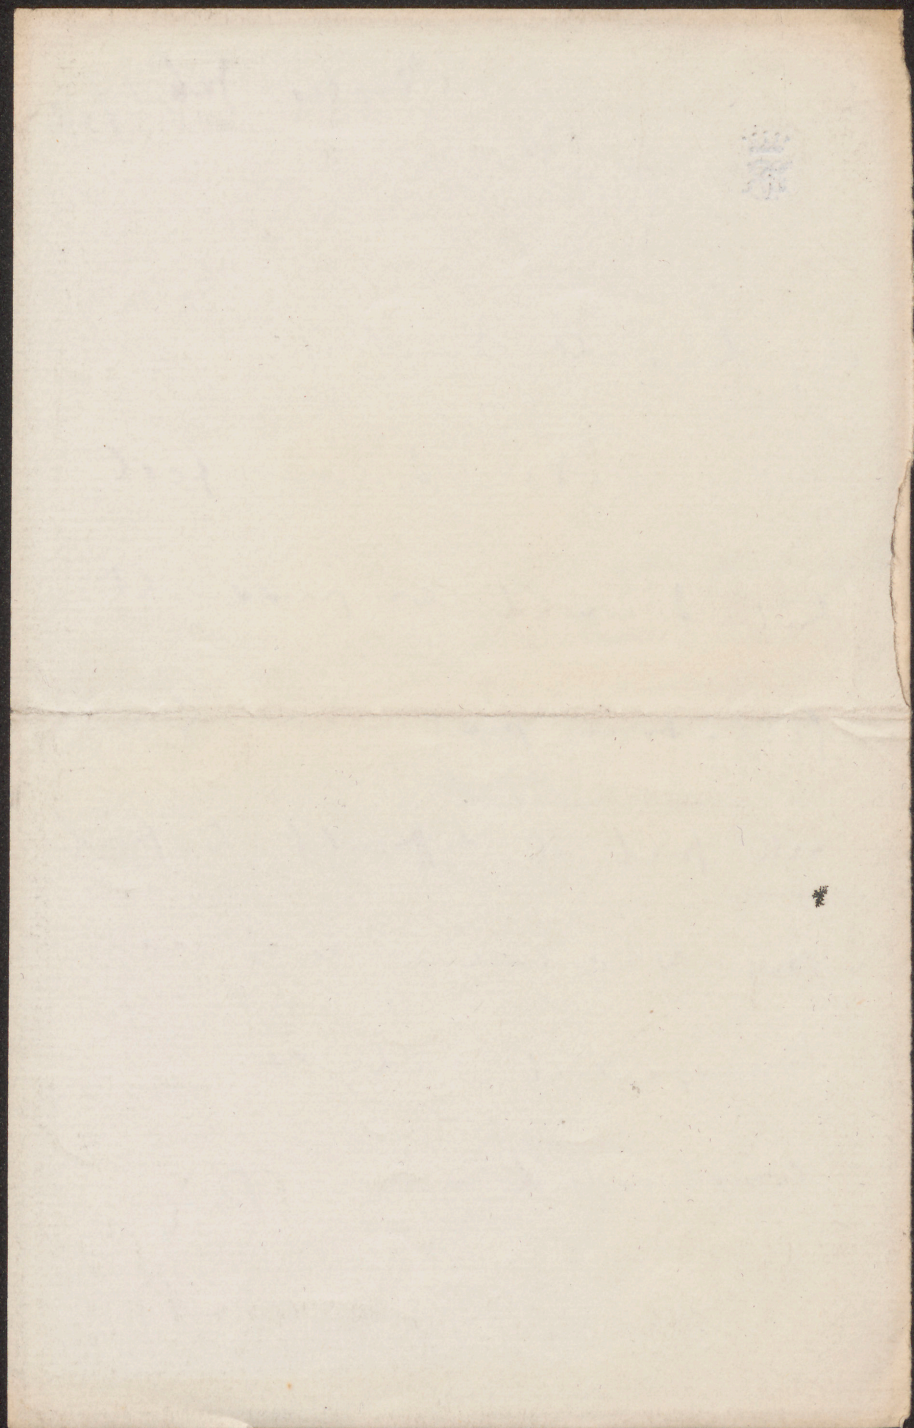

My dear Mr. Baring.

No. I don't feel that I could compress Mr Gladstone just now. You will find it difficult to find one who can - he is so transparent and so complicated -

Yours

M.

Monley

Gladstone

V. 6

Candoye

Co Down

Apr 16. '98

Private

My dear Mr Buntinf

I hasten to acknowledge the receipt of your note of April the 13th. I am very much flattered by the suggestion which it contains, but I am sorry to say it is quite out of my power to undertake the task you refer to. Though of course, like every one else I have always been a great admirer of Mr Gladstone's genius, and have been connected with his governments in many capacities, the fact of my having lived out of England almost continuously for nearly thirty years, has removed me so completely from all personal contact with Mr Gladstone that I should not be at all fitted to give anything approaching to an adequate idea of his great career. Moreover I am grieved to think that I was altogether out of sympathy with his policy both in reference to his more recent land legislation for Ireland and his efforts to dissolve the Union. This circumstance, as I am sure you will understand, would naturally add to my difficulties in complying with your request, even if in other respects I felt more competent to do so.

Believe me,
yours sincerely
Duffin and Ava

POST

CARD

THE ADDRESS ONLY TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE.

P. W. Buntingby

11 Old Square

W. C.

Many thanks. I think a necessary preliminary would be a knowledge on my part that he had been personally inspired by my speech (No 2) of June 4; which as you will ~~perceive~~ is far from being universally the case.
Yours faithfully

Wm June 16. 37

POST CARD

THE ADDRESS ONLY TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE.

Buntingford
Lincoln's Inn
London
W. C.

Mr. work has reached me but has not yet been read, & a reply to your question could not now be given. In presents several difficulties yours faithfully

Wm. L. 85.

POST

THE ADDRESS ONLY TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE.

P. W. Bunting Esq
11 Old Queens
Lincoln's Inn
London

Dear Mr B. As all I say at the Eastern Convention (chiefly you may have observed in dispersed letters) is & occasion Xmas by arrangement I fear that this disables me from writing you kind with. Yours faithfully Wm Lloyd Garrison
Apr 8. 97

POST CARD

THE ADDRESS ONLY TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE.

P. W. Burgess Esq

11 Old Square

Lincoln Inn

W. C.

Dear Mr. B. I regret to say that a government has been decided against my acting on the unyielding proposal.

It would be a public scandal if the argument was against the ~~and~~ governing claims of the Democratic should be conducted by a ~~unbiased~~ man chiefly as a politician. This being I will not go further though there are other reasons which would oblige me to conclude in the same direction.

Believe me with all good wishes

Very faithfully yours

Wm. L. Garrison

March 16. 95

POST CARD

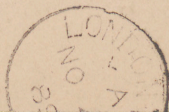

THE ADDRESS ONLY TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE

P. W. Bunting Esq
11 Endelburgh Gardens London W.

Dear Mr B. Very many thanks.
I quite agree it is best to let sleeping dogs lie until more is known. Gratefully W. H. N. 2/89

POST

CARD

THE ADDRESS ONLY TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE

P. W. Bunting Esq

15 Tavistock Street
Strand
London
W.C.

Dear Mr Bunting Mary Thanks 1 - for draft, 2 - for note - It is all I could derive

Yours faithfully

W. O. G. 89.

POST CARD

THE ADDRESS ONLY TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE

P. W. Bunting Esq
11 Old Square
Lincoln's Inn
London W.C.

Dear Mr B, as I understand the matter is at present have the last word &c, that is so I entirely agree that it is best to say no more.

Many thanks for informing me. Yours faithfully

W. F. Adams

Nov 18. 89.

POST CARD

THE ADDRESS ONLY TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE

P. W. Bunting Esq
10 Old Square
Lincoln's Inn
London E. C.

Dear Mr B. I think your plan excellent but I am entirely disabled by my engagements from taking part in it. The American volume has been sent to me. I should not like to part from it finally but if you should desire the loan of it you will be most welcome. Yours faithfully

Wm. D. 11. 89

POST

CARD

THE ADDRESS ONLY TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE.

P. W. Bunting Esq

11 Endsleigh Gardens

N. W.

Dear Mr B. I imagine your papers may be guided by what Mr W. & I have said.
In approaching the subject of the O. T. I cannot avoid some notice of the remarkable article by Dr. Driver. Yours faithfully

W. B. Stone
F. B. G. O.

POST CARD

THE ADDRESS ONLY TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE.

P. W. Bunting Esq

14 Endsleigh Gardens

Wm

Dear Mr B. Forgive this hasty reply.

I think it would be certainly right to bring the case of Mrs C. before the Minister for his consideration.

Could the right persons to do it would be the Directors or chief managers of the Subscription

Yours faithfully

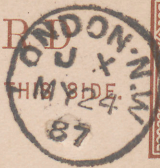

Wm. J. H. 88

POST

CARD

THE ADDRESS ONLY TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE.

P. W. Bunting Esq

11 Old Square

Lincoln Inn

W.C.

I thank you for the article article. You will readily believe that I have read it with much concern

Yours faithfully Wm
May 24. 87.

9

POST

CARD

THE ADDRESS ONLY TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE

P. W. Bunting Esq

11 Old Square

Lincoln's Inn

London W.C.

I am afraid there is little chance of my being able to write on the interesting work you name. But by the time we meet in Nov^r I hope to be in a condition to give you a final answer if you think fit to wait which I could not venture to advise. Yours faithfully

W. Gladstone

O. 12. 88

POST CARD

THE ADDRESS ONLY TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE

Percy Bunting Esq
Lincoln's Inn
London

Dear Mr B. I am sorry that I can only repeat to you what I have already this morning sent to another quarter - I am wholly disabled from writing of anything but knowledge

Yours faithfully

My dear Sir

Aug 12 40.

POST CARD

THE ADDRESS ONLY TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE

P. W. Bunting Esq

11 Old Square

Lincoln's Inn

W.C.

Dear Mr Bunting I am sorry to say that I have no record store of knowledge on the subject of my last Sunday's examination & I am therefore not at all in a condition to comply with your flattering suggestion. Yours very faithfully Wm. J. G. 90 -

POST CARD

THE ADDRESS ONLY TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE.

P. W. Bunting Esq

11 Old Square

Lincoln's Inn

London

W.C.

Dear Mr B. For a free man, a subject large and noble:
praiseworthy, impossible

Yours faithfully

W. F. L. L. L.

Jan 5. 91.

POST CARD

THE ADDRESS ONLY TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE

P. W. Bunting Esq

11 Old Square

Lincoln's Inn

London W.C.

Dear Mr. Munroe, Pray accept my thanks. I will not discuss the prudence of the paper. The financial case is wretched. The most interesting part is the ecclesiastical. I think it may be a good thing that the discussion should be kept alive.

Yours faithfully

Wm. Lloyd Garrison

May 27. 91