8 Street, Monday.

Dear Sir,

I am afraid I shall be pressed for time to morrow morning, but I have the right to as much time as it takes for my daily dinner; so if you can do me the great favour to come towards 4 o'clock this evening and stay our little dinner (not a real but Mrs B. & the two daughters) it will give me commodious by the hour that I want with you — which I want with you.

Yours truly,

Thomas H. Benton.
