Sir

You have been directing your attention to the taxation which the farmer pays, & may be able to point out to me those taxes which the poor, and which the other classes of the Community do not pay.

One may all calculate what falls in Common, but it is desirable to know what are the peculiar burdens for which relief may be looked for.

I should be pleased to know at what amount the whole Capital of the Land

Land in England, Scotland & Ireland is valued and what is the gross net and of

The same.

If you can with little trouble show these figures you will oblige

Yours Obedtly

Wm Lloyd Garrison

In the last No. of Recluse there is a very interesting Fact stated, which, if you have <sup>not</sup> seen the No, I should like to tell you of. The Caterpillar is called a Larva, a mask, because it is the Disguise of the Butterfly within, which is called ~~Psyche~~ Psyche, the Soul, by the Greeks. Sometimes this Butterfly is destroyed by Ichneumon Flies which deposit their Eggs in the Body of the Caterpillar, where they are hatched & feed as Grubs on the inward parts, the future Butterfly enclosed within, without injuring any of the Organs of the Caterpillar. "Consequently it is hardly possible to distinguish a Caterpillar which has these Enemies within it from those that are untouched. But when the Period arrives for the Close of the Larva Life the Difference appears.... of the unfortunate Caterpillar that has been preyed upon, nothing remains but an empty Skin. The hidden Butterfly has been secretly consumed. Now is there not something analogous to this wonderful Phenomenon in the Condition of some of our Race? "asked the Author of the Essay. -

My dear Friend,

It is a good thing to answer Letters quickly. Had I done so my Mind would have been relieved long since, but by waiting a little time I lost the opportunity. - I have been out today for the first time for more than 6 weeks. I caught Cold, & it brought on Bronchitis & Influenza, & between <sup>them</sup> they soon reduced me so much that I was not able to write, & when I began to get better I had so many troublesome Business Letters to attend to that I felt too much exhausted to write.
Lately I think could write a very proper Letter but of Sarah's Powers that way I have not so high an Opinion, though I never saw any of her Letters. Kate Steyer was more likely to have assisted me, for she expressed herself very sorry when she heard that you were gone away so far & for so long a time. Well, I am once more pretty well again, & by the Mercy of God I hope to be preserved from any Relapse.

I want to see you both, to settle what view should be taken of this frightful war in which we are embarked, are we on God's side?
I hope so, & if not I hope that He will graciously lead us round to it, or use us in His own way to promote the Extension of Christ's Kingdom.
The Cup of Life is all but dried up. O that we might see the Eastern Nations coming over as Christians & helping to make the Turks Christians! - It occurred to me lately that we were wrong in calling our Religion that of the Church of England. The Church of Christ in England would be the more suitable title. The other leads to strife & separation. - If we would begin the change, others would follow. We should soon have the Church of Christ in England, in Scotland, in France, in Rome, in Greece, in Turkey in Abyssinia, in India &c. The New Testament constantly speaks of the Church in Ephesus, in Antioch, in Jerusalem, in Corinth &c. but never uses of. - If we were to use this Form of Expression, we should feel more like Brethren, & one Branch of the Church of Christ would feel less uneasiness towards another Branch. The Church of Christ in Rome would lose its claim to superiority or Universality & in comparison with the Church of Christ in England would see perhaps that it had much pruning to undergo, before it could be in as healthy a state. - ~~Nevertheless~~ I think the Love of Money is the Antichrist of Protestantism.

The Episcopalians, the Methodists, the Independents, the Baptists &c would be all so many Branches of the Church of Christ in England
- The Title of President might be given to the Rector or Rector at the Meetings of the Ministers & much good would result from their acting in union. - Then would our Missionsaries go forth & baptize the Heathen into the Church of Christ & not into the Church of England. I imagine we were led into our Error by the previous Title of the Church of Rome. The Eastern Division of that Church was never known & think by any territorial Title. It is the Greek Church from its Language

Sarah begs me to send her Respects, & she would like to know how the little Day is. - You are much warmer I should think than we are. I hope you are getting free from your Housekeeping Cares, & that the Farm is prospering. - Do you remember how much I dreaded a Strong Cup of Tea, or even 2 Cups of weak Tea? I was reading about a Month ago (wrote's Annals), & his Praise of the Russian Method of making Tea, by putting a thin Slice of Lemon into every Cup, led me to try how I should like it. - It was pleasant enough, but what was better still, I found that I could sleep soundly after taking 2 Cups of moderately strong Tea. The Effect still continues. That nervous Irritability which kept me awake all the Night is overcome, & I lie calmly & pleasantly even when I do not sleep. - I fancy also that my Pulse is improved by it, for I do not detect now those Intermissions in it which I had noticed as being more frequent of late than formerly.

When I was in Notts. at my Friend Twells's charming Rectory on the verge of Sherwood Forest, I employed my leisure partly in preparing for Publication a copy of the Revised Liturgy as agreed to by the Loyal Commissioners appointed in 1689. It seemed to me well adapted to bring back some of the more moderate Dissenters into the church. Bagster & Sons have undertaken to publish it. - When it is out, I shall have very great pleasure in sending you a copy.

All my other pursuits have been much interrupted by my Illness. - I was content to remain as quiet as possible, to escape the wearisome cough & the aching pains of general Debility. - I am very sorry that you should have had an Attack of Neuralgia
- when may I hope to see my Friend Mr.
Martin. I thought he would have been here in Nov. - With most sincere Regards to both I am, My dear Friend, Ever truly Yours
John Taylor
W. Martin.

Sir,

I made the recommendation to the Queen for the Good Son Seaver Concupiscence, and am responsible for them.

I cannot be responsible for the concupiscence of the Seaver, how would it be for the public advantage that I should detail the reasons for such concupiscence.

Yours obediently &c.

My dear Sir,

There cannot, I think, be two opinions as to the importance of newspaper support. I am not quite sure, however, that the present time is altogether favorable to the establishment of a new paper. The Times and the Morning Post are taking up a friendly attitude, and the Standard is much improved in quality. The Park Mall Gazette, too, is not altogether unfriendly.

The establishment of a new party paper might lose us some valuable independent support at a time when we particularly need it.

In any case I am entirely of Sir C. Russell's opinion that a Joint Stock paper would not be desirable. To do good it ought to be in very few hands, and ought to be conducted by an Editor who should have large discretion and who could resist interference - I am afraid that it will be difficult to find the individuals who would provide the necessary funds upon the basis which alone I think would be satisfactory.

I remain

Faithfully Yours

Dear W. Martin,

I have endeavored to pleasure as much as my imperfect acquaintance of Indian History & Affairs & of Legal Technicalities and proceedings enable me to understand

am much more influenced by your

My dear Sir,

There cannot be a more important question for consideration than that which you raise. At the same time I am bound to say that I see very great difficulty in dealing with it, and that I am by no means favourably disposed to the establishment of a permanent settlement on the Bengal Model in other parts of India -

There are many collateral questions that must be taken into consideration at the same time, - such as the position of the Ryot, the principles on which we are to raise revenue, and
the principles on which we are to carry on public works.

I am giving my attention to the subject -

Dear Sir,

Pray accept my

I am surprised at the extent of your writings the interest they must have excited in the welfare of

Dear Sir,

I beg you to accept my a copy of Mr. Taylor's work on "the

It contains much curious matter relating to ancient measures &c.; the Pyramid was founded by Sphris
