My dear Sir,

I enclose two checks - one for $350 & the other for $100 - both payable to your order, which you will be good enough to receive on my account, ~~and~~ to endorse on my outstanding note.

At this moment there is grief here; but great distrust of the Administration. We are afraid that something may be sprung, which will endanger the repose & character of the country. The politicians are startled by the success of the known nothing. It is supposed that they will carry Virginia as a prelude to carrying the whole South. My chief sorrow in connection with this movement is that it promises to break up the whole Northern Confederation & give the South another chance of national ascendancy.

Believe me dear Sir,
Ever faithfully Yrs,
Charles Sumner
