METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Methodism is a child of the Church of England. Its chief founders were John and Charles Wesley. It started in England in 1739, in America in 1766. The Methodist Episcopal Church was organized in 1784.

The slavery question brought about the organization of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in 1845.

The Methodist Episcopal Church maintains that

God loves all men but hates sin;
all who repent and believe in Christ are saved;
believers may receive an inward assurance that they are children of God;
men can and should love God with all their heart
and their neighbors as themselves.

The Methodist Episcopal Church stands for world wide personal and social evangelism; thorough and scientific religious education; the Christianizing of every day life; temperance and other social reforms; industrial betterment, Christian race relations, world peace; co-operation with all other branches of the Church of Christ.

World Wide Service

The Methodist Episcopal Church is at work in 39 different countries; has a church membership of nearly 5 million; is served by 33,000 ministers and local preachers; owns 27,000 church buildings, estimated value including parsonages, over 500 million dollars; has a church school enrollment of more than 4 million.

Government

The Methodist Episcopal Church is a world-wide brotherhood with a system of careful supervision through bishops, district superintendents, ministers and local officials.

The work of the church is democratically directed through a system of conferences---- the General Conference meeting every four years, 129 Annual Conferences meeting once a year, local Quarterly Conferences meeting several times a year.

There is lay and ministerial representation in all of these conferences.
