PROGRESS

V. MUELLER &amp; CO.

OUTSTANDING among the brilliant, modernistic World's Fair buildings is the huge Hall of Science, 400 x 700 feet, capable of accommodating 80,000 people, and housing the portrayal of scientific achievement. As you walk about the main floor reviewing the progress of surgery and medicine, you will come upon a circular court at the northwest section of the building. There, in each of the seven pillars surrounding the rotunda, you will find the V. Mueller & Co. exhibition of the most recent improvements in surgical instruments, supplies, and apparatus.... Other exhibits by V. Mueller & Co. will be found in the booths of the American Urological Assn., Cleveland Clinic, Chicago Hospital Assn., the Century of Progress Emergency Hospital, all in the Hall of Science, and the Infant Incubator Hospital on the Midway. We trust you will make it a point to visit these interesting displays.

38 YEARS OF SERVICE

• Since 1895 the house of V. Mueller & Co. has been a ready and reliable source of supplies for the medical profession.

• Times may change—new ideas may come and go, but for nearly four decades this institution has maintained a consistent policy of high quality, prompt service, faithful co-operation, and a sympathetic understanding of the doctor's problems.

• This Chicago World's Fair should give us an opportunity to make or renew your acquaintance. We sincerely trust you will find it possible to view our exhibition in the Hall of Science and visit our city display rooms in the heart of Chicago's medical district.
