I heard the girls who sat next to Mr. V. and Mr. Pollard, ask them to go to bed.

I counted about 10 girl inmates, 25 men patrons. I saw 1 waiter, about 6 tables and a piano, upon which was piled towels, and from which I saw several girls come, as they went to the rear with men.

The girls were dressed in negligee gowns.

My drink tasted strong of whiskey. I tasted Mr Beckwith's drink and found same to contain gin. I tasted Mr Pollard's beer and it tasted like real lager beer.

I saw 2 sailors leave as we entered.

A man whom I know entered with a man and 2 women. My friend insisted upon me buying a drink. They ordered ^{what appeared to be} rum and beer, for which I paid 90¢ plus a 10¢ tip to the waiter.

My friend said that the mayor of the town was present, and that if I wanted to wait he would introduce me.

As Mr. R was anxious to leave I did not wait.

About 275 people were present. The dancing was very suggestive.

Also on every table were small brown empty bottles.

Mr. R and Mr. Beckwith danced with 2 patrons.

The interlunars danced with patrons and they would also pass the hat around during their songs.

West Hammond and Burnham

Investigating

We arrived in West Hammond at 11³⁰ PM. Stopping in two saloons we made inquiry as to where we could find some girls, we were told that the houses were closed by the government.

Driving up to a policeman we saw standing on the sidewalk, Inv. R. got out of the machine and asked him where we could find a sporting house. The policeman told him and all of us to go back where we came from.

Inv. X. and myself stopped and talked to a number of men on the street, and they all told us that the government had closed up all the sporting houses.

The saloons closed at 12 o'clock, and from all appearances West Hammond was a quiet respectable town.

We then drove to Burnham, arriving at 1 a.m., and stopped in front of "Filthy Row." (No 4 to No 14). All was in darkness.

As I had myself got standing in front of No. 4.
 Inv. X. and myself got out and inquired of them as to why the places were closed, and they told us that the government had closed them all up.

I tried the doors of 14 & 18 and found them locked. The entrance leading up to No. 12 was boarded up.

We talked to a man who said he was the watchman for the street. He told us that we might find some girls at Coney Island. He also said that the girls might be back in Burnham soon.
 When we asked him where we could get a drink, he offered to sell us two bottles of Edelweiss beer, which Inv. X bought. payin 50¢

We then drove to the Burnham Inn where we all entered at 1¹⁵ a.m. and stayed till 1²⁵ a.m. about 20 men and 4 women were present. The waiter said they were only selling soft drinks of which we ordered a round.

Arriving at Coney Island Inv. V & X and myself entered at 1³⁰ a.m. and stayed 15 minutes. about 100 men and 10 women were present.

We then drove to the Arrowhead Inn
V. X. and myself entered at 1:20 a.m. and stayed 20 minutes. There were about 30 men and 6 women present. We were ^{only} able to buy soft drinks.

The above cabaret looked as tho they were "sick". The wild life which we found May 4th had gone. The once active waiters stood with folded arms. The dance floors were deserted, and around the few tables occupied, were men who looked as tho they were drinking poison instead of straight gingerale and grape juice.

attention of Mr Thrasher

Gentlemen:

I herewith tender my resignation as an investigator for the Committee of Fifteen.

This resignation is on account of the conduct of Mr Goldhersh our chief of staff, which I wish to report
as follows:

While in his company, and, while with investigators V. X., Lieut Beckwith, and Mr Pollard, and, while returning from Burnham Sunday morning May 5th at about 4³⁰ a m, Mr Goldhersh held on his lap, and, kissed continually, and behaved in such a manner with a woman whom we picked up, and who said she was not a prostitute. That it was necessary for me to apologize to both Lieut.
Beckwith and Mr Pollard.

From what I know of this woman,
from what I heard of their conversation,
from what I know as to what the rules and wishes of the Committee of Fifteen are, from what my understanding as to the conduct of a gentleman is, I will say that same was unnecessary.

I wish further to state that while in his company in two poolrooms on two occasions he displayed with his coat off a gun which hung from his belt.

I wish also to state that his way of investigating is such that I am afraid to work with him.

His manner of giving orders, his conversation, and general conduct is such that I am humiliated, confused, ~~discouraged~~, and disgusted.

I regret very much in being forced to resign for the above reasons, and I trust that the Committee will help me all they can to secure another position.

Upon ring the bell the buzzer sounded which unlocked the door leading upstairs. As I reached the 2nd floor the door opened. I knocked and a woman's voice said "Come in"

I entered a few feet and to my right, standing in the bathroom, I saw a woman dressed in a white undershirt and corset cover, whom I met and secured evidence against Feb. 9th 1918, when she lived at 435 Oakwood Blvd Apt 30, 3rd floor

She appeared startled, and, said, "I thought you was a fellow who I expect any minute".

When I said "don't you remember me" she said "yes".

She then told me that I would have to hurry as her friend would be in any moment.

When I told her that I had a friend in the hall way, whom I wanted to bring up she said, "nothing doing you know my rule about letting only one in at time."

I asked her if she was still charging $2.00, and, she told me that $5.00 was her price now.

saw to be operating as a house of ill fame.

As I rang the bell, the buzzer sounded which unlocked the door leading upstairs.

Inv. X went upstairs, to the second floor, while I stood on the stairs half way between the first and second floors.

I heard Inv. X. and a woman talking. I recognized the voice as that of Edna De Jongh. I heard her say "who is your friend downstairs, go and tell him to go away, and then you can come back, but I will not let two men in at a time".

I also heard her say that she had just been put out of her last place and that she had to be careful.

I also heard her say to Mr. X., that he could come back any time but to be sure and call her up first.

In response to our knock, the door was opened by a woman, known to me as May, and who is the same woman I met on my previous visit, April 29th 1918, at which time I secured evidence.

She invited us in and said "Boys is it this a fine day to jazz?"

When I asked her what she charged she said $1.00.

We found three young colored men standing at the door which leads into the flat.

Inv. V. asked them if Hattie lived there and they said "Yes"

They were soon admitted by a colored woman who appeared to be the keeper. When we asked for "Hattie" she told us that she only allowed colored men in. She also said that she and her husband were afraid to let white men in.

Another colored woman came to the door, who Inv. V. called Hattie.

Investigating

In Company with Mr Wallace I entered at 12⁰⁵ a m. We seated ourselves at a table in the west end of the south room.

We ordered 2 lemon selzers for which I was charged 40¢.

About 100 people were present. On the tables within my view I saw what appeared to me to be glasses of beer.

Besides the orchestra 2 women entertainers sang. The dancing was very suggestive.

Louis Weiss was active in receiving and seating patrons.

A man who said his name was 'Birch' and who gave me his card which read Mr Alfred Edward Birch and who said that he was the floor manager, came to us and asked if we were being taken care of.

I asked him if he would take care of us some Sunday and he said

"sure" Come in any time after 7 P.M. on a Sunday.

I told him that I had been going to a place where I could get a "hooker" and good drinks. He told me that he could fix me up.

We left at 12³⁵ a.m.

Investigation

We seated ourselves in the west end of the middle room, and ordered sandwiches and 2 bottles of beer. The beer was served from brown bottles and poured into glasses (one glass to each of us) This beer tasted like real lager beer, It was served by waiter No. 4. (Colored)

Shortly after we were served, the head waiter talked to waiter No 4 and pointed to our table. Soon Louis Weiss and 2 men who appeared to be floor managers had a talk with the head waiter and waiter No. 4.

We ordered another round of beer and found same to taste like "near beer" The waiter refused to sell us high balls, saying they sold soft drinks only.

Louis Weiss appeared to be very nervous and watched our table continually.

I saw one second Lieut. seated at a table but did not see him drinking

I also saw 2 sailors sitting at different tables with women companions. I saw one of the sailors drinking what appeared to me to be a ginger ale highball.

There were about 125 people present. The dancing was very suggestive
