Mr Stephen A Douglas

Dear Sir

You are I doubt not overwhelmed with letters from strangers to you in whom you of course can feel no particular interest. Yet at the risk of boring you I cannot overcome the inclination to write you.

I am a Democrat - have always been one since I became a voter. In common with large numbers of Democrats of the North I did not like the upshot of the Missouri Compromise. Not that I had any objection to the principle of Popular Sovereignty as applied to the Territories as well as the States but I thought that as to the territory which was the subject of that compromise it would have been better as a matter of policy that that compromise should have been left uncontested. This opinion as to the policy of repealing the Missouri restriction I have since seen occasion to change

The principle of allowing the territories to settle their own affairs in their own way is evidently the only one upon which those territories can be peacefully settled over the principle is in itself right & democratic. That principle could never have been established had the Missouri Compromise remained
It was only by that appeal at that time that the great principle of Popular sovereignty could have been extended to the territories. As a humble citizen I stand in common with many fellow Democrats who blamed you for your agency in the appeal I now heartily thank you for that act.

But not alone by the establishment of the principle of Popular Sovereignty in the territories have you won our gratitude. By your bold and manly defense of that principle when assailed by those from whom we have a right to expect better things you have established yourself in our hearts forever. And you will succeed. The great mass of Democrats of the country are with you heart & soul. I doubt not that the ^{most} rabid proslaver of the South respects you the more for your manly defense of the great principle. In Northern Michigan there is but one sentiment. We are all Douglass Democrats here. Even the Republicans - I mean the rank & file - are with you. They would be leaders of the party of course fearing that their occupation will be gone if your policy succeeds of course impugn your motives. But all honest men of all parties in this region bid you God-speed. One more hearty than Your humble servant

Dear Sir I beg permission to introduce myself (Jacob Berner) to you with my complements and hope that this letter will come safe to hand and find you well & hearty and able to attend to the duties of a United States Senator and legislating for the best of your abilities for the best interest of the people of these United States of America as a nation. I am well & hearty and able for my allowance so far as I can get them at this time.

I want you if you will please to do so to send me a copy or two of your speeches made at this session of Congress on the Kansas question and as many documents as you can conveniently

I should like to get a copy of the second & third volume of the Explorations & Surveys for a Rail Road Route from the Mississippi River to the Pacific Ocean. I should be very glad to get the two volumes from you or any other Senator please to remember me in your distribution of the Public Documents and thereby much oblige yours Respectfully

Dear Sir /

The will of Samuel Townsend did recently established in the Probate Court of this county, directs, that forty of his slaves shall be removed to some state or territory once emancipated; and that after such emancipation, a permanent place of settlement shall be selected for them by his executors, to which they must be removed at the expense of his estate - He expresses a preference for their settlement upon the N. Ameri can Continent, and desires that in making a selection of the country, his executors will act with a view to the ultimate improvement and happiness of his servants as well as the welfare of their descendants -

I am nominated as an executor of his will and feel desirous of carrying out his wishes

It has been deemed necessary in the Slave holding states to enact laws prohibiting the settlement of free Negroes within their limits, and I am informed that similar statutes have been enacted in many of the Non slaveholding states -

Not having convenient access to the Statutes of your state, I take the liberty of applying to you for information relative to any laws touching the privilege and disabilities of free negroes - If prohibited from making a permanent settlement, how long would they be permitted to remain after their emancipation? The testator was made liberal provisions for them by his will, and it is not probable that they will ever become a charge upon the charitable institutions of the State

if settled there; the estate left them being over $200,000.

Can they be settled in Kansas during the coming Spring, without violating the laws now, or likely to be in force in that territory?

I will feel thankful for any suggestions you may think proper to make as to the most desirable place of location for them, temporary or permanent.

An early reply will place me under obligations - With High Regard

Hon. Stephen A. Douglas

Dear Sir:

I am extremely gratified to be assured by you that I have not mistaken your future relations and intentions towards the Democratic party of the country.
 Your past career has won for you a brilliant reputation in the South, and one which would have insured you a decided Southern vote in the next Presidential race. It was for this reason that, in common with your numerous admirers here, I deeply regretted your late speech in the Senate, not because of any very objectionable doctrine which it announced as ~~a~~ the original proposition, but because of the peculiar circumstances by which the question was then and is now surrounded. I appreciate your position and your motives, however,

and admire the courage and firmness with which you maintain your positions; and while it would be uncandid in me to disguise the fact that your position has considerably clouded your prospect in the South for the succession, it is nevertheless more consonant for a true Democrat and Statesman to believe himself right than to be President. I hope and flatter myself however, that these clouds will pass away in the next two years, & that you may stand forth the standard bearer of the Democracy in 1860.

MEMORANDUM
OF A
FOR THE CONSTRUCTION
OF THE
Atlantic, Mississippi & Pacific RAILWAY.

1858.

MEMORANDUM

FOR THE

CONSTRUCTION

OF THE

Atlantic, Mississippi & Pacific

RAILWAY.

1858.

ATLANTIC, MISSISSIPPI & PACIFIC RAILWAY.

The undersigned has matured a plan for the construction of the above named Road, which he believes is not only feasible, but entirely practicable, and has presented a Memorial to Congress praying that body to aid in the matter by the necessary legislation, and also by an appropriation of the unapplied lands belonging to the general government, to the extent hereinafter set forth. It is the opinion of the subscriber that the work cannot be completed by any other plan as soon, or as well, or at so small a cost, as by the plan herein proposed. It should be borne in mind that by the plan proposed there will be no debt of any kind on the Road, it will therefore be not only a safe, but a profitable investment—and the Stock will be as valuable in every way as the Treasury notes recently authorized by Congress—Dividends will be regular and large, as the construction account will close when the work is taken from the hands of the Contractors—they not only building the Road, but furnishing it with the necessary rolling stock and all equipments adequate for the safe and economical transaction of the business—the earnings therefore will all be applied on the transportation account and to the payment of dividends.

To commence on the Missouri River at some point accessible to central Roads already constructed, or in process of construction, thence west by the nearest practicable route to San Francisco, California.

Any, or all, of the lines now being constructed, whose lines are running in that direction, and all branches proposed, may take part in the construction of this main trunk line by becoming Stockholders therein, on fair and equitable terms with individual Stockholders; and this main trunk line shall have the privilege of consolidating with one or more of said Roads, when it shall appear mutually advantageous to do so.

The above point of starting is deemed to be the best that could be selected, as it gives all other lines centering in that direction an equal chance not only to share in the construction of this main trunk line, but also an equitable proportion of the immense business to be transacted on a Road that in addition to being a great national highway, will be a highway for nations.

The Road bed to be graded of sufficient width for double track, the tracks to be laid with heavy rails of the most approved and durable pattern, the whole well tied and ballasted.

All Rivers which the Road may cross to be spanned with Iron Bridges; wooden structures of every character to be excluded.

The maximum grades east of the Rocky Mountains to be thirty-three feet to the mile, and in the mountain region as light as possible. In that portion of the mountain region subject to deep snows the Road to be arched and ventilated by side and upper openings, and thus rendered available at all seasons.

To establish regular ten mile Stations, with suitable side tracks, and Station houses of the most substantial character, and on a scale commensurate with the amount of business to be transacted therat. The distance of ten miles between Stations to be maintained as far as is practicable, but to be varied where from obstacles impossible to overcome, or where from other causes more advantageous points at greater or less distances shall present themselves. To establish, in addition, midway between such regular Stations, Water Stations, at which points also the main tracks shall be connected by Switches so as to render the transfer from one track to the other easy and expeditious in cases of emergency.

To be stocked with twenty Coal-burning Locomotives, and five hundred Cars, of all kinds, to each one hundred miles of Road, and also for each one hundred miles to construct Turntables and Engine houses of such character and dimensions as will not only afford shelter to the Engines, but at the same time admit of temporary repairs. And for each four hundred miles to construct Engine houses, Machine and Car Shops, the same to be furnished with all tools and machinery necessary not only for the regular and prompt repairs of the rolling Stock, but also for the construction of such additional rolling Stock, of any nature, as may from time to time be required. Also to construct mainly for the use of the Road a line of Telegraph.

To plant on each side of the Road at all prairie openings, for an extent of not less than one hundred feet wide, locust and other timber, which will serve the double purpose of protecting the road in a great measure from drifting snows, and as its growth advances of furnishing the necessary timber for the use of the Road.

Each and every part of the work to be constructed more with reference to durability than to cost.

The work, constructed upon the scale and style mentioned, is estimated to cost one hundred and seventy-five millions of dollars, which it is proposed to divide into one hundred and seventy-five thousand shares, of one thousand dollars each, the Stock to be all taken and secured, and paid by annual instalments of six per cent. The number of shares to any one individual shall positively be limited to ten.

After the Stock is absolutely taken, and a Board of Direction legally established, the first instalment, of six per cent shall become due and payable, and on this instalment the construction of the work shall commence, by this means there will be no necessity of resorting to the issue of bonds, or contracting one dollar of indebtedness, and thus the Road when done will be wholly unincumbered.

The subscriber is making all necessary arrangements to have the Stock taken, and he confidently believes the whole will be actually taken and secured within a less period than two years, and possibly within one year. The arrangement for effecting this object being to employ some competent man in each State, he employing and directing men, whose duty it shall be to canvass each County in the State.

Congress has been petitioned to grant the right of way three hundred feet in width, through all lands now belonging to the general government, and in addition to afford such armed protection to the workmen while engaged in the survey and construction of the line. The necessity for such protection would as a matter of course cease as each successive section of the work became completed, opening the path to emigration to such an extent as would render the continuance of such protection wholly unnecessary.

It is proposed to carry out the above plan, construct, complete, and equip the Road without resorting to those measures which have been generally adopted in the construction of nearly all the Roads in this country, which have been by means of the credit system, or by large grants of lands, lost to the actual Stockholders, given away in the shape of premiums on money loaned for the construction of the Roads.

With a view therefore of averting such a condition of things in this instance and as a measure due to the character of the undertaking, Congress has been solicited, on the completion of each twenty miles, and as the same shall become completed, paid for, and in running order, to appropriate twenty-five alternate sections of the unapplied lands on each side of the Road for the sole and exclusive benefit of the actual Stockholders.

The subscriber is sanguine that when the great natural character of the work, the great and beneficial results to civilization and commerce that will ensue on its completion, are considered, that some such plan of endowment will be adopted by Congress, for the purpose of stimulating and encouraging all to engage in the work.

With the foregoing means as a basis of operations, the Stock should be readily taken up and the work commenced, and pushed forward to completion much sooner, and better, than in any other way. The Corporation will be prohibited from contracting any debt by which any part of the Road, or equipment, can become embarrassed—this restriction to be a prominent point in the charter.

The men chosen in each State to solicit the Stock subscriptions are to act under all necessary restrictions, and be controlled by any measure that Congress may deem expedient, and as best calculated to give security and confidence that the duties will be faithfully performed. The whole expenses to be paid out of the money raised on the Stock.

To sum up the whole thing, the Subscriber proposes to take all the Stock, perform all the work, and deliver up the Road to the Stockholders, in Sections, free from all incumbrances, to pay all expenses of getting up the Stock, or of getting it taken off his hands, at not less than par value, and complete the entire work so that the Stockholders will have the Roads, and Lands, for the money invested free and untrammelled.

The parties employed in getting up the Stock to act as a Board of Commissioners for the building of the Road, and to be paid a regular salary—they are to see that the instalments of Stock are collected and paid over as the work progresses—that the undersigned performs all the stipulations of his contract—to guard the interests of the Stockholders—to receive the Road, as completed, from the undersigned, and deliver it over to a Board of Directors to be elected by the Stockholders. The Government to retain such exclusive use of said Road and Telegraph, on payment of compensation therefor, as the proper Officers of the Government may deem fair and equitable.

The Road when constructed to be subject to the inspection of such parties as the Government may elect.

All of which is respectfully submitted as deserving consideration.

JOEL T. HAM,
Covington, Ky.

Address:

LANCASTER, OHIO.

Lancaster, Ohio -

January 21st 1858.

Dear Stephen A Douglas

Dear Sir

With a view to explain more fully my plan for the construction of the Atlantic, Mississippi and Pacific Railroad, I would state that the estimate of one hundred and seventy five millions of dollars is based upon the cost of that portion of the New York and Erie Railroad which has double tracks, and on the supposition that the proposed roads will be two thousand miles long, which will be about the length of it - You will perceive that six per cent on the above estimate will amount to ten millions ~~five~~ hundred thousand per Ann: which sum will be ample for the most vigorous prosecution of the works - the land asked to be appropriated is intended for a basis on which to commence raising the Stock, & with that basis I have every reason to believe the Stock will be all taken up in a very short time - A man with very limited means can pay sixty dollars per year, and will, when he is convinced he is investing it in a concern which is a saving institution superior to any saving's bank, because there will be no probability of any loss, and by the time he has paid six hundred dollars the work will be so far completed that it will support itself, or, the earnings of the Roads will furnish the balance, and he will have his share of stocks, worth a thousand dollars, and a thousand dollars worth of land, or its equivalent in cash - all for $600, and ten years in which to pay it -

In a State where the people would be likely to feel much interest in the works, I propose to employ one man for each of those States, and give him two per cent on all the stocks he gets taken, paying him out of the first instalment, to retain him as one of the Boards of Commissioners during the construction of the works, under a regular salary -

If a man with ability and commanding influence would undertake it he could raise 50,000 shares of the stocks in four or five of the Western States in a very short time - two per cent on which would net him one million Dollars -

I am sincere that if you can give this project your countenance and support you can materially aid in carrying it through Congress - an achievement that would entitle you to the lasting gratitude of the nation - I should be glad to have you take this matter in hand, and am willing you should have the appointment of as many of the Boards of Commissioners as you choose, and generally to direct the matter - all I want is the credit of building the Roads - which can be done without cost to the Government - they doubling the price of land on the remaining alternate Sections - and then have the Roads which will be worth more to the Country than all the land - I have already sent you a pamphlet setting forth my plan and herewith enclose a second one - I wish you to give this matter your serious consideration and write me your views thereon -

Yours Respectfully
Jas. S. Cham.

Dear Sir.

I have just given a letter of introduction to you to R. L. King Esq. of this City, who will call upon you soon at Washington. He is a Gentleman of intelligence and wealth and influence. But a few months ago he was as staunch Republcian, but now he is one of the most devoted and enthusiastic Douglas men I have ever seen. He feels a deep interest in you and your cause, and I trust you will give him a little attention during his stay in your city. You will find him frank, honest, and true.

It is a source of great pleasure to me that you have taken so glorious a stand on the Kansas question; and I am immensely gratified to know, that your bold and unflinching and uncompromising advocacy of the right is making you hosts of new friends here and everywhere. Your enemies, in the party and out of it, seeing how firmly and extensively you are fixing yourself in the hearts of the people, will do all in their power to undermine and destroy you, but right will prevail in this case, and your victory is inevitable.

Remember me with great respect to Mrs. Douglas,

-troduce by your acquaintance, my valued friend, Mr R. L. King of this city formerly but now a resident of St Charles. He will spend a few days in Washington, and any attentions you may be able to show him, will be highly appreciated by

You most aff' sent

W. G. Howard.

P. S. I admire your noble and unpre-dictable position on the Kansas Question.
