

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

Frankfort 21st Sept 1881

Dr C. C. Goahorn

Louisville, Ky.

My dear Sir

The approaching Centennial celebration of the Victory at Yorktown which transpires on the 19th day of October proximo, would in my opinion be bereft of an interesting incident without your personal presence. Your identity with the Commonwealth of Kentucky from its earliest history to the present day, the familiarity which you possess with the contemporary events of that interesting period the fact that in your own person you write so many of the noble characteristics and preserve in such a remarkable manner the stalwart and enduring qualities of the early pioneer, would in my opinion assure you a

Executive Department
State of Kentucky

1831

[Faint, illegible handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.]

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

Frankfort Sept. 21, 1881

most hearty welcome from all and at the same time affords you an agreeable recreation,

I therefore request that you will consent to join my party as my guest & accompany us to Yorktown to witness the imposing ceremonies which are in preparation to celebrate the immortal events which transpired at that place on the 19th of October 1781.

With assurances of my highest consideration, I remain Yours truly

Luke Mackubin

I will go, but return to my museum in the Exposition as soon as possible

Exhibit in
H. H. H.

EXHIBIT IN

[Faint, illegible handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.]