Rec. to tan a Sturgeon Seine by W. Henry Adams

Take a Kettle & fill it two thirds full with fine red Oak Bark. Fill it up with water & let boil four hours. Let it (the ooze) become milk warm. Pour it off in this state into a log the seine is lightly packed away & let it remain 24 hours raising it once or twice during the 24 hours. When taken out dry it well & repeat the same another 24 hours

It will be proper during the season in dry weather to repeat this, taking care allways to have the seine perfectly dry when done

A Seine thus managed is rendered much more durable

Dear Sir

We have pleasure of sending Sales of Corn &c on other side which we hope will be satisfactory — The price obtained was the highest to be had at this time and with difficulty even that sum could be had as there was but little Demand for it at this Time — We have made no Engagement for Autumn — believing that we will advance shortly and would therefore rather delay in sending it up — should however you send it up we will do the best possible for you — no coarse salt to be had in our place

Yours respectfully

Messrs Osborne Mc Farland & Fields

Gentlemen,

My neighbour & friend, Mr. William Harrison of Brandon, having advised me ~~recommended~~ to consign ~~it to me, to sell~~ my corn to your care, to be sold upon commission, I now send you by Capt Jackson about one hundred barrels ~~bushels~~; to be disposed of on such terms as you may think ~~most~~ advisable. I prefer a cash sale, but if you can do better by giving a short credit, you are at liberty to do so. In either case you will please deposit the proceeds of the sale, after deducting commissions & freight, to my credit in the Bank of Virginia at Richmond.

I have about 450 barrels for sale, and propose to send it up as fast as the skipper can carry it. ~~in parcels lots of~~ about one hundred

Mr Harrison informed me that some one in Petersburg, but I did not learn the name, had offered $3.25 for two hundred barrels, to be delivered about the last of april. This contract would suit me very well, because the time ~~of delivery~~ is not very distant, & the cash would be paid on delivery of the corn.

I am respectfully yours &c
