My Dear Robert

I send Mr Downing to Warenton to morrow to pay off my bonds due on monday and to hire some negroes for me I shall therefore be obliged to you if you can send me by the bearer the money for the pork you purchased of me. I know from experience the outlay required to establish a farm as you are now doing and therefore would not have made this call upon you if I could either have collected money or succeeded in getting my flour to market; but I have been able to do neither.

Yours affectionately

Anderson Trade

Winchester Nov 20th 1852

Dear Mr Southat,

I have thought it right to inform you at once of cousin James Marshall opinion upon my Fathers will. He stated to me in a conversation with him that an advance of land could be made by my mother but that it would not be valued until her death so that we would only get the advantage of any improvement made upon the land by buildings and not of any improvement made on the land in any other way. He also stated that if a sale of land should be made by any one of the children to whom my mother had advanced land that they would be responsible to the estate ^{for} the value of the land not when it was sold but what it would be valued at her death. For instance suppose my mother should give you now a servant woman and children which were rather an expense to you he states that you would be responsible to the estate at my mothers death ^{at that time} for the value of the woman and children ^{and also for} any increase which she might have after she had been given you. He states she has no right to sell stock. I am afraid that we cannot have an appraisement for the court has never issued any order for those commissioners which we gave them a list of. Mr Templin has paid two hundred dollars on the tract purchased of me & cousin James advises that a compromise be made with him. He says that in this case it would be exceedingly difficult to get any decree of Court for ^{sale of} land for my Father expressly directs that there should be no sale except for debts. I am sorry very much so that you should be placed in such a situation for comes harder upon you who are of the county than it does upon us. You must write your opinion of this to me & let us decide upon what is best to be done. I have not succeeded in purchasing sheep & am afraid I cannot do so this Fall.

You must bear in mind that I am also interested with you in that there should be a sale of land for Ma promised me an advance in acting as I have done I have acted against my own interest. I feel truly sorry for you as well as myself. You must write soon & if you can think of any thing which would be greatly to the advantage of the Estate mention it.

Give my love to Sister Mary and Children & remember me to Mr D and Lady. Excuse this miserably written letter

Your affec brother
J^r Marshall

Answers
To 1st Question

The court had no power to appoint appraisers & their appointment might safely be disregarded. At the same time if it is desirable for any purpose that an Inventory of the personal property should be put on the record, advantage may be taken of this erroneous order of the Court, to get an Inventory on the Record.

2nd Question

The Executrix can make advances of land to the children, - but she can not give to a child more than its share according to the will, - Thus she can not give to one child more than 500 acres of the "best land" so as to trench upon the right of the other children to the same quantity each of the "best land," even tho the others might be made equal out of the inferior lands or the personal Estate.

3^d Question

The Executrix has nothing to do with making "distribution" among the Devisees in Remainder, - that is to take place at her death, not in her life time, - all that she can do is to make "advances" on account of their shares to the Devisees, and if she ^{exceeds} the share in any such advances to a child, - it would be corrected by a redivision at her death, and the result would be that she would only have given up to the child her life interest in the excess over the true share, - which she has a clear right to do, even if she gave the whole to one for her life.

The money to make up inequalities in the value of the several 500 acres, would come out of the Testator's money funds at the death of the Executrix, life Tenant, if they are sufficient. If not, out of his other personal Estate or by a charge on the allotments which are most valuable for equality of partition.

4th Question The Executrix has no power to sell. A title to the land sold by her can only be made by the Devisees in remainder joining her in a deed to the purchaser. As some are minors this cannot now be done. She had best compromise with the purchaser & get him to give up the contract, otherwise he may sue her for damages.

5th Question

The 500 acres advanced by the Testator to Jaguine can only be ascertained by proof of what 500 acres he was put in the possession of. ^{Proof} proof will do.

6th Question

The courts of Virginia have power to sell Infants Real Estate where it is shown to be the ^{for} interest of the Infants that a sale should be made.

7th Question

Advancements made by the widow would not bear Interest during her life, for she gives her life Estate to the child.

This is a copy of a answers made by James Marshall of Winchester to questions asked him by me.
