My dear Sir,

For this end a series of great Sanitary Fairs has been undertaken. to raise the in such an enterprise, to relieve the sick Soldiers in the Camp and in the Hospital, by timely and suitable supplies, the cause is magnified by every consideration human ^{as} humane.

Our population in this industrial City is largely composed of Europeans. And the Soldiers for whom we would provide, by this, are many of them, natives of Britain and the Continent, who as our adopted citizens, are fighting nobly the battles of our Country.

The Com. on Fair, Correspondence words of cheer would be greatly valued, And if in addition you will please to send to us any of your published volumes, or copies of your Carte de Visite
