Sandy's Valentine.

BY A VALENTINE WRITER.

TUNE—"Kitty of the Clyde."

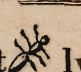

Young Sandy loo'd a Scottish lass,
For she was blythe and bonny,
And as her peers she did surpass,
He loo'd her more than ony.
A Lott'ry Chance not lang sinsyne
He bought, wi' fondest pride,
And meant it for a Valentine
For Kitty of the Clyde.

For her, good fortune was his wish,
Without it wealth was lumber—
He bought the Lott'ry Chance of BISH,
Who pick'd him out the Number,
Nor hop'd in vain the love-lorn Scot
Luck might the choice betide,
For £20,000 he got
For Kitty of the Clyde.

Ye swains, who then to wed decline,
From Poverty's o'erawing.
Remember that next Valentine,
The Lott'ry's fix'd for Drawing.
Go, for a Prize, to BISH, for he Sells more than a' beside ;
And you like Sandy blest may be
With Kitty of the Clyde.

GARDENER.

I have been digging for good luck all my life; but I've found it waste thyme; yet I am in hopes that a Lottery Ticket will transplant me to a better soil; that a sprig of good fortune will make me as rich as the Mint, and all my spades turn up trumps.

GREEN-GROCER.

I am in the basket; but as I am a medlar in the Lottery, a Prize may give bad luck turnips. I hope to cabbage a Capital; and in time to be worth a plum.

NEW LOTTERY contains Three Prizes of £30,000, and 6,711 other Prizes!—All Sterling Money!—Not Two Blanks to a Prize!—No Stock Prizes!—No Classes!—Every Ticket drawn singly!—£30,000 Money for the First-drawn Prize on the First Day,

GREEN-GROCER.

I am in the dark, but as I am a weed in the Lottery, a Prize may give me back again. I hope to catch a Capital; and in time to be worth a pound.

GARDENER.

I have been digging for good luck all my life; but I've found it waste time.
yet I am in hopes that a Lottery Ticket will transport me to a better soil; that a stroke of good fortune will make me as rich as the Arab, and all my garden turn up treasure.

AN ACROSTIC.

SORRY times! sorry times! is the cry ev'ry where,— Thort of bus'ness and cash!—Sir, the times make one swear!—
Ehings can't last as they are, Sir, or else I'm mistak'n—
Rhere's no selling of eggs, nor cheese, nor yet bacon :
Lv'ry Friend that I meet, Sir, complains just the same,—
Iven Doctors and Lawyers, who've liv'd in good fame,
Nepine at the times, Sir,—and if they feel, I'm sure,
Gegret at their hardships,—what must we, Sir, endure?
Less bus'ness I never yet did all my days—
Oabout all that I can, Sir, things go the cross-ways!
The Income Tax tho' 'tis over,—why, Sir, e'n with that,
E could live whilst it lasted, and then could get fat :
Row I'm moping in dulness, quite lean and quite lank—Yought to do in my shop, Sir—no cust'mers to thank.— ad! Sir, I've a thought which shall finish my cares—
o this morning I will, and of BISH buy some Shares ;
uck may follow my footsteps, and well fill my purse—ose the utmost I can, Sir, I can't be much worse!
dszooks! then I'll go, and with TOMMY BISH deal—nly 12,000 Tickets there are in his Wheel—he Prizes in good Sterling Money he'll pay—here are 500 Blanks too made Prizes First Day :*
WO of Twenty good Thousands of bright Guineas each,
WO of Five Thousand likewise—if either I reach, v'ry Friend that I have shall partake of my Luck,— ggs, bacon, and ham, and goose, turkey, and duck ; are doings we'll have—nor then will we care for etrenchment, reform, nor corruption a straw!—
ou'll be wise, my dear Friend, if you act then like me—es, you will—so go purchase your Shares of T. B.

A BONUS TO THE PUBLIC

T. BISH,

CONTRACTOR FOR THE PRESENT LOTTERY,

ANXIOUS to give an unequivocal proof of his grateful sentiments for the distinguished Patronage shewn to the numerous Contracts in which he has been engaged, has determined to make a FREE GIFT of the following valuable BONUS, which shall be divided among the holders of all Tickets and Shares BOUGHT on or before

Saturday, 27th This Month

(April), according to their respective proportions: viz.

Three Hundred whole Tickets!

which are deposited in the Bank of England, and the Sum Total that may accrue from the Prizes, even if it should be 60, 70, or £80 000, will be paid to the holders of Tickets or Shares if purchased on or before the 27th of APRIL; after which all Tickets and Shares sold will have a distinguishing mark put on them, to denote they are not entitled to the said Bonus.

The aggregate number of Tickets and Shares sold up to the 27th of APRIL,

will be officially published in the Gazette, that the Public may be enabled to ascertain how much per Ticket the produce of the said Bonus amounts to.

Thus, besides the chance of his own Ticket or Share, every early adventurer will have an interest in 300 OTHER NUMBERS, a list of which is at foot hereof; and although his own may not prove fortunate, he will still be certain of receiving something from the Bonus, which, if it contains lucky numbers, may be considerable. At all events, although the Product of Lottery Tickets must be uncertain, the Public will no doubt do justice to T. BISH, and take the will for the deed, as this is an actual present of an extra advantage beyond the Scheme; and when it is considered that the 300 Tickets, if sold, would produce above Seven Thousand Pounds, it certainly forms a valuable Bonus, to a Share of which any person may become entitled who makes an immediate purchase of a Ticket or Share. To conclude in the language of the Lords of the Treasury, the Public have T. BISH's HEARTY GOOD WISHES

The following are the Numbers of the 300 Tickets forming the above Bonus.

No. 981 to 995	5,731 to 5,750	10,681 to 10,700
1,226 to 1,250	6,481 to 6,500	11,731 to 11,750

There are only 5,000 Numbers, Four Tickets of each Number, and the fate of One decides the other Three.

ALL FOURS.

By HENRY HOYLE, JUN.

Tune—"Bachelor's Buttons."

Old Hoyle, who could well play his cards,
And from Chess, down to mere Pitch and Toss,
Could explain, all the hopes and rewards
Of the game, laws of Profit and Loss:
Among all his games, mentions one,
If Fortune you'd quit of bad scores,
I'd advise you to play, be it known,
That's the old fashion'd game of ALL FOURS.
Tol lol, &c.

The new Lott'ry's ALL FOURS, I declare,
Where High Prizes and Low notice claim,
And if by them you beat the KNAVE, Care,
That's High and Low, Jack and the Game:—
And if you'd successfully peg,
And haven't a card to your wish,
You've nothing to do, but to beg,
And, "'Ill give you one," cries Tommy Bish.
Tol lol, &c.

Yes, the Lott'ry's the game at ALL FOURS,
I'll prove by the Scheme I display,
Twenty Thousand whole Tickets it scores,
But they're drawn out by FOURS in one day:
Four Numbers there are of each kind,
Which will prove to the veriest dunce,
The Drawing's ALL FOURS, for you'll find,
They'll draw out Four Numbers at once.
Tol lol, &c.

The Prizes in Fours are class'd too,
Of Thousands TWELVE ONES meet your views,
Four FIVES, and I think that will do,
With Four TWENTIES, and that's the best news.
In Four points of view see luck's drawn,
'Gainst each Ticket, Four hopes you may set
'em,
At once, are Four GREAT PRIZES drawn,
And there's Four lucky people to get 'em
Tol lol, &c.

But a Four, that to all these impels,
Yet remains my light metre to fill,
For BISH, lucky Numbers who sells,
At No 4, lives in Cornhill.
VALENTINE's Day, will soon advance,
Which ends of these ALL FOURS the tether,
And if Four you should buy, how you'd prance,
To get Four Twenty Thousands together.
Tol lol, &c.

* No. 6,633, a Prize of £30,000, was drawn on VALENTINE's Day, the 14th February, 1807, and sold by Bish.

£30,000 Prizes

6th NEXT MONTH.

WHENEVER £30,000 Prizes form part of the Lottery Schemes, then BISH's Offices stand pre-eminent; and in the Drawing which takes place 6th of NEXT MONTH (December), besides other Capitals, there are no less than FOUR Prizes of £30,000; and judging from past luck, it is not at all improbable that

BISH WILL SELL
All Four £30.000 Prizes
6th NEXT MONTH.

As this is the FIRST time there ever were so many in one Scheme, and whenever any novelty is introduced, BISH is almost certain of being the distributor of it; for example—

The first £30,000 ever introduced.... BISH Sold!
The first time there ever were Three } BISH Sold

The first £50,000 ever introduced.... BISH Sold!
The first £40,000 Money BISH Sold!
The first £40,000 Stock BISH Sold!
The Grandest House Prize BISH Sold!
The first Wine Prize BISH Sold!

And though he is remarkably fortunate in Selling the first of every description of Prize, he does not stop there, as

BISH Sold the last £50,000!
BISH Sold the last £40,000!
BISH Sold the last £30,000!
BISH Sold the last £20,000!
BISH Sold the last £10,000!

And in the very last Drawing, BISH sold no less than THREE Prizes of £20,000 ! viz.

A Friend worth Having!

Tune.—Derry down, &c.

THE Soldier, the Sailor, the Courtier, all sing
The bounty they share from their Country and King,
Whilst the richest, the noblest, the proudest may wish
To extend FORTUNE's favours to thousands, like BISH.

To no country, or clime, his exertions are bound,
BISH has scattered with treasures the universe round,
The peer and the peasant, the brown and the fair,
Have resorted to BISH, and partook of a Share.

Derry down, down, &c.

BISH's sale of rich Prizes can ne'er be surpassed,
The first Thirty Thousand BISH Sold, and the last,
And the first time that Three Thirty Thousands were known,
It was BISH Sold ALL Three Thirty Thousands, alone!

Derry down, down, &c.

Three grand Forty Thousands were Sold too by BISH,
Besides Two Fifty Thousands! What more could ye wish?
Then the 18th OCTOBER, I'm happy to say,
BISH Sold Three Twenty Thousands, All drawn in One Day!

Derry down, down, &c.

The grandest House Prize, and the First Prize of Wine,
BISH was proud to his Fortunate Friends to consign,
And the 6th of DECEMBER, the whole of the Four
Thirty Thousands, BISH doubtless will Sell as before.

Derry down, down, &c.

Then hasten to BISH, if in want of a friend,
As the whole of the Lotteries shortly must end;
And, if one of the FOUR Thirty Thousands you wish,
At N^o 4, CORNHILL, you're sure to find BISH.

Derry down, down, &c.

THE PRESENT SCHEME CONTAINS

New Year's State Lottery begins Drawing

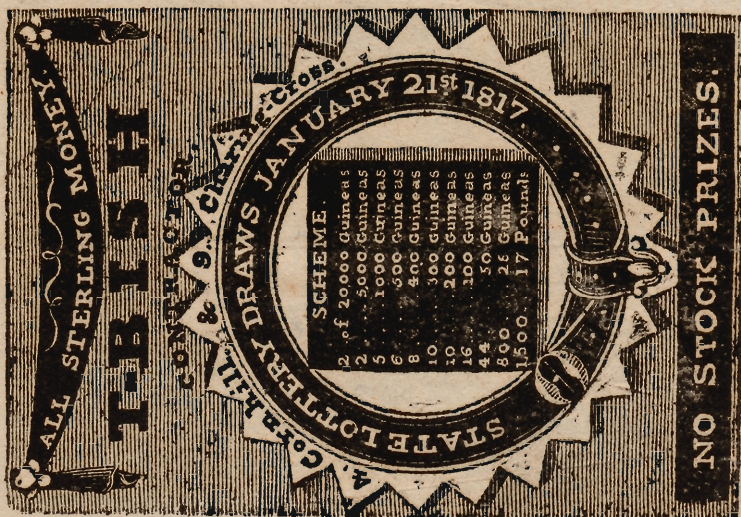

21st JANUARY.

Second Day, JANUARY 31—Third and Last Day, FEBRUARY 6.

Two of 20,000 Guineas, and Forty other Capitals.

NO STOCK PRIZES

LOWEST PRIZES SEVENTEEN POUNDS EACH.

A more than usual interest having been evinced in favour of the subjoined Scheme, I take the liberty of respectfully submitting it to your notice, confidently anticipating a similar sentiment of approbation. The entire Scheme has been produced from the suggestions of the Public, and the present distinguished patronage is confirmatory of universal approbation.

There are 2 Prizes of Twenty Thousand Guineas, and upwards of 40 other Capitals—all Sterling Money (No Stock Prizes):—the lowest Prizes are increased in value £7 each, and the first 500 Blanks will be each entitled to 25 Guineas. By this arrangement, those adventurers whose Tickets may be drawn early, and who may not be fortunate enough to obtain a Prize, will acquire a sum exceeding that which they have adventured, and be enabled, should the splendid Capitals remain undrawn, to renew their chance for them without further expense.

The invariable success which has uniformly attended my Offices, was equally conspicuous in the last Contract, as I sold Capital Prizes to a greater amount than any other Office-Keeper, among which were No. 9,955, a Prize of Forty Thousand Pounds, and No. 3,123, a Prize of Thirty Thousand Pounds, 3 per Cent. Consols.—Trusting therefore that a continuation of the same good fortune will be the result of the present Lottery, I solicit the preference of your commands, and grateful for all past favours, remain

The Public's obedient Servant,

T. BISH,
The Contractor.

TRY IN TIME.

Och! Judy, my jewel, come here when I call;
We may now get Wine gratis, for nothing at all;
And Gold like paratees pil'd up in a heap,
Which is offer'd us too, honey, almost as cheap.
But there's no time to lose if we're meaning to try,
For 'tis All in One Day, on the 15th July.
And since the Grand Scheme is beyond all compare,
He's a spalpeen who won't buy a fortunate Share.

GOLDEN RECIPE;

Or, Two or Three Good Things, pro Bono Publico.

TWO or three wishes for Fortune and place ;
Two or three Notes, sign'd by Henry Hasc ;
Two or three good resolutions, to boot,
At the throne of Dame Fortune to quickly make suit ;
Two or three anticipations of Riches,
If Fortune should grant these two or three wishes ;
Two or three steps to a house in Cornhill* ;—
Will give two or three ways your Pockets to fill,
With two or three Prizes of good Sterling Shiners,
By which you may equal in Wealth the Gold Miners;
Then two or three hopes in your bosom may rise,
That two or three Shares may be each drawn a Prize ;
And if the event crowns these two or three wishes,
And two or three Prizes you purchase at BISH's, There'll be two or three ways, that Wealth to employ,
Mo procure to yourself satisfaction and joy,
For two or three houses or farms you may build,
And the Ev'ning of Life with Prosperity gild ;
Two or three Friends you may serve with a grace,
And two or three children in Opulence place ;
And though you can't marry your two or three wives,
You may make one as happy as if she'd three lives ;
You may purchase—not two or three Acres, but Dozens,
And outvie in Wealth all your Country Cousins ;
Or if farming pursuits your fancy don't tickle,
And you don't wish to handle the plough or the sickle ;
Buy two or three Tickets, and you'll gain a sum
Which in two or three Years may produce you a plum ;
Or if two or three Tickets or Shares you can't buy,
Purchase one, and for moderate opulence try ;
Even then you will find there'll be two or three ways
On this superstructure a fortune to raise ;
And I'll bet two to one, if the wager you'll take,
That there's no way so likely a fortune to make,
So easy,—so quickly,—so pat to your wish,
As these two or three ways pointed out by T. BISH.

* 4, Cornhill—Also 9, Charing-Cross.

The Lottery consists of 12,000 Tickets, and contains Two Prizes of Twenty Thousand Guineas, and Forty other Capitals, all in Sterling Money, and no Stock Prizes. Begins drawing

TUESDAY, 21st THIS MONTH.
