Dear O'Gorman.

In the vrais Republiques, we have an old saying, that "fair words do not butter parsnips," and it seems that in your case they do not produce either Needle Guns, or Chapepiots. I suppose however, ~~that~~ you found that none could be had for the price you mentioned. I called on you the other day at the address you gave me, & was told, by the damsel who came to the door, that you did not live there & only passed there daily to get your letters, as I understood.

As you are somewhere in town, You might at least give us the pleasure of seeing you now & then; which you could do by making an angle going to, or returning from, the Grosvener Hotel.² Apropos of that establishment, I was getting into a Hansom about ten days ago, when I saw Fernandez, looking very ill indeed, and did not wonder at it, when he told me he had been operated on for gravel. He said he intended, health permitting, to go to Lima on the 17th of June; but whether he went or not I don't know.

Now, my friend, I have written this to let you know that we are, happily, alive & well and, as an old French song says - "notre maison n'a pas changé de place" - so I hope "your Worship" will come & see us. You will generally find us at home about 5 or 6 P.M.

Yours truly

Edmund Randolph May.

P.S. I see your friend Bismarck's little bill against France will be paid, in part, shortly; and this reminds me that you have not given me his autograph, as promised when you were in Berlin.

Mon cher Colonel.

Peu de jours après le départ de Maman et d'Agathe pour Carlsbad, j'ai reçu vos deux lettres, que je n'ai manqué d'envoyer à Agathe.

Comme ma sœur l'avait bien presumé le Check, cher Colonel, les Banquiers ne l'acceptaient pas. J'étais allé consulter Mr Jacques, qui m'a indiqué le chemin le plus court et le plus sûr, ^{et m'a offert} de lui permettre d'envoyer le Check à la maison de Banque à Londres, ce que j'ai accordé. J'espère qu'il n'y aura pas de monnaie. Aussitôt qu'il aura l'argent, je ne manquerai pas de vous aviser immédiatement.

J'étais fort réjoui que vous alliez bien, et en cas que nous aurions le plaisir de vous revoir à Bath, je vous prierais bien, de nous le faire savoir quelque temps avant, afin de pouvoir vous réserver votre appartement.

Nous tous vous recevrons de bon cœur chez nous

Il y a peu de temps que je suis retournée de Vienna, où j'ai passé le temps très agréable.
Espérant que vous, cher Colonel et votre honorée famille soit en bon santé, je suis votre affectionnée petite,

Marie de Charrovocha.

Aille choses de la part de Henriette et Thomas, et tous les autres.

London, July 5th 1870

My dear O'Gorman Mahon

Please read the enclosure and suggest any alteration you like.

I have debated with myself for a long time whether it would be good to say at once to the British people that though you are aware your charter is gone with so much now that the laws are altered as before, still you think it only fair to specify that your actual expenses to get up the Statute paper &c will be refunded to you &c but on mature reflection I think it better that Krause should first say whether he has any serious idea now of of entertaining the idea, before you talk about expenses, — once that K. has taken up the matter, it will be much lighter work to speak about this important point.

Of course you must strike out all the gross errors that are in the letter, and correct any mistake I make, and then if you like me to copy the letter, send me back enclosed with your alterations. There is just a possibility that I must go back to Manchester for a day or two — in that case I shall receive your letter in Manchester and send you the copy at once.

Love arrives quite safe looks splendid now that he is whether says Mary who oh the same time send you her love.

I can dispose over my services as you please

Yours very truly
Gustafson

I think me that you had better show the enclosed to Mr Charwick: as there name is mentioned several times to make sure that no misunderstanding is possible!

I will be only too glad to do so and should you decide on going to Berlin you know that Mary and my self will feel happy and honoured by a visit from such a good old friend as you. She was to the good little woman, as you call her. I trust that the Bank may yet come off well and will be more glad than yours to be back.

Yours truly
J. G. G. G.

Should I not have time to call I shall shake hands with you "in the spirit",

You had better sign the Enclosed which you will find all correct I hope - the letter leaving to-morrow is just as good, for no English

Cher Colonel,

Ce n'est qu'avant hier que j'ai reçu votre lettre. J'ai du partir immédiatement de Berlin à Carlsbad, puisque ma santé s'est bien altérée, ma mère m'a accompagné, mais elle me quitte la semaine prochaine, quoique je voudrais bien qu'elle reste encore, parcequ'elle aime ici, je ne me porte pas du tout bien, aussi le cramp m'a pris à la promenade de sorte, qu'on m'a transporté chez moi de nuit dans une petite voiture.
Mais comme tout est trop cher, elle me quitte. Quant à l'argent Marie vous a écrit comment elle l'a fait pour le changer, aussi n'est-elle reçue que 154 Thaler. Cher Colonel, vous êtes bien bon en me voulant donner en cash les 55 Thaler, chose dont j'aurais vraiment, grandement besoin, puisque cette ^{quoique ma mère paye à son quart d'elle} fais-ci mes dépenses sont presque le double. Le docteur qui est venu la nuit, et plus souvent (il est bien malade) les médicaments, et d'autres nécessités dont j'en avais pas besoin l'année passée. Mais malheureusement vous êtes dans l'erreur, si vous croyez que ces 55 Thaler sont pour, the period of now occupation, ces 55 Thalers sont le reste du loyer, comme je vous ai déjà écrit, vous le trouverez dans le petit book de dépenses, où chaque fois le paiement du loyer est noté. ^{exactement} Comme vous ^{avez écrit,} avez dit, que vous rendez le loyer à ^{ma} Vienne à sa disposition je n'aurais pas osé vous demander le reste pour le temps où le logement n' était pas occupé, et ce qui a duré pas que plus de trois mois. N'oubliez pas bien, cher Colonel, que les 55 Thaler sont restés j'argu'au moment où vous avez rendu l'appartement. — Que je serais heureuse si j'avais 50 Thaler à l'aide pour faire ma cure comme il exige mon état, plus de bons, meilleure nourriture, mais sans savoir point de secours! Ça coûte 100 Thaler je les marquerais exactement, et je vous sais bien obligée pour ceci.

Mais que pensez vous, que tout mon séjour me coûte ici, où tout est plus cher qu'à Paris, à cause de la foule de monde qui est ici. Si je pourrais avoir seulement meilleure nourriture (est-à-dire deux fois par jour de la viande) puisque mes forces sont à bout. Cher Colonel, si vous pouvez aider à votre pauvre amie malade et découragée, comme vous l'avez fait tant de fois

Dear Sir,

I beg to express to you my best thanks for your favour of 4th Inst. and the pamphlet you had the kindness to send me.

I'll now I have not been able to find a person, who would be willing to buy your invention, but I shall not fail to recommend it to the public in our weekly paper the, "Gewerbeblatt aus Württemberg" and to invite my countrymen to contract with you for the acquisition of the patent.

The price you ask, I find however with respect to Germany, where patent rights are less valued than in Great Britain, rather somewhat high.

Please to command my services on any occasion and be assured that I shall always be happy to make myself useful to you.

Miss Royse-Morgell owner in fee of The Three Townlands of Ballycomas, Lestbrook and Taberadora in The County of Tipperary Ireland, is the only surviving sister of The late Thomas Royse-Morgell Esq^r late Major in Her Majesty's 8th Hussars under whose will she inherits the lands referred to.

Major Morgell served many years in The 8th Hussars both in home and foreign service and was married to Lady Maria daughter of The Earl of Listowel whom he survived and died without issue.

Miss Royse-Morgell is niece to The late Dowager Lady Floyd the mother in law of The late Sir Robert Peel, Prime Minister. She is also Cousin of The Countess de Loyaute who is niece to The Duchess of Luxembourg and connected with the first families in France.

Miss Royse-Morgell has through her tenants supported the liberal Government in Ireland and is a large contributor to various public and other Charities. In addition to her landed property in Ireland she is also owner of landed estate in England and ~~Ireland~~ France and possesses founded and Railway property exceeding £2000.

Langdown House
Warwick Road
London W.

Dear Sir From the kind expressions of esteem by you towards the memory of my beloved brother the late Major Royce-Morgill, as well as from the interest you kindly displayed in favor of the surviving sister, when you heard the painful and severe trials to which she was exposed, in consequence of the loss of that most excellent brother, I now avail myself of your kind permission, to explain how far such a loss had been rendered infinitely more grievous from the cruel and most unprecedented persecutions, I was compelled to endure for a prolonged period of upwards of nine years; to these were also united numerous wrongs in addition to a multiplicity of pecuniary deceptions all which I shall presently explain, entailing immense losses and accompanied with the most heartless ingratitude and never ending attempts at extortion - as well as other grievances which greatly embittered my existence and proved highly injurious to my health.

At length when years of patience sorely tried had exceeded all the bounds of human endurance

I was compelled to seek redress and compensation from the parties, who had so long acted towards me with such ruthless injustice; and never before had a legal proceeding been instituted more deserving of sympathy and respect, supported as it was, by the most complete and overpowering evidence, the justice of my case must have ensured its success, had it not been most shamefully abandoned by my counsel, who had been retained many months previous to the trial and on whose honour for the faithful performance of his duty, I had so confidently relied but whose desertion proved the ruin of my cause.

Although at the beginning of the trial, I had refused from the Defendants an offer of compromise to pay the costs and make an ample apology in open court, I rejected the overture because the sting of the false evidence imported into the Paris Commission, still remained unexposed and uncontroverted by my absent counsel.

It is indeed a painful consideration to reflect that the conduct pursued towards me, had been altogether unjustifiable on the part of the Defendants who were under great obligations to me, in having for a number of years relieved them from a pecuniary liability which they alone were bound to discharge. Such conduct on my part was considered by all those who became acquainted with the facts, as most generous and ought to have procured for me their good will and gratitude, instead of those feelings of rancour and malevolence I had in no way deserved, but all my kindness only proved an incentive to play on my credulity, through the willing instrumentality of one of the Parties who most ungratefully became a willing tool to contrive if possible my entire spoliation, in favour of herself and her family as well as all the Defendants.

It was ~~indeed~~ a severe trial a painful ordeal for me to find that in the midst of a dangerous illness a most wicked and deep laid plot was being organized against me under the form of a commission planned in reality by the Defendants to screen themselves in a foreign country as they dared not openly face a trial in England; The Commission had therein neither motive or pretext and all the false evidence collected by them had been framed manufactured and dictated with the sole view of wounding my feelings in private matters having no connection with the case and which should never have been mentioned in Court, had not the absence of my

Counsel during the remainder of the trial left me defenceless and unprotected exposed to the harsh attacks to the unfair, unjust and illegal manoeuvres of the opposing and unscrupulous cross-examination.

I again repeat that that the Paris Commission was in fact but a gross outrage and garbled mockery of forms of justice, invented for the purpose of meanly evading the manifest false swearing contained in the solemn declaration of the Defendant to asseverating that they had never written, uttered or intended to convey the libellous charges against me which however by that Commission they audaciously contrived to repeat and put forward - and this misconduct was largely aggravated by Lady Gambier when being examined as a witness she ventured to impute to me a criminal offence without a particle of truth or foundation to support it; - in short this discreditable evidence was all manufactured from hearsay and contradictory evidence of one unfaithful person who had bargained for and obtained pecuniary compensation for appearing as a voluntary witness against me her Benefactress of years giving with the most plausible insinuations a false colour to all my most innocent acts.

I had also reason to complain that notwithstanding many irregularities attended the trial, my case was unduly hurried over and abruptly terminated when it ought to have been delayed for the attendance of a proper Jury; - Having been at great expense by the summoning of a special Jury eight of whom having only appeared none others should have been permitted to take their places, without my knowledge and permission but thro' the improper conduct of my attorney, Common Jurors were ~~deputed~~ to take the places of those who had absented themselves and when the fact was - subsequently mentioned to Sir John Karslake, he declared it was highly improper and should not have been permitted; but in the meantime, instead of postponing my case, on the ground of the absence of the Special Jurors, these glaring abuses were overlooked and my case was unduly pressed on and abruptly terminated, being left entirely to the management of the adverse party by the heartless desertion of my counsel, Sir John Karslake who had pocketted the largest fees from me without rendering the slightest value professional or otherwise; So unjust and unscrupulous was the conduct of the sol. Gen. that he even ventured to tamper with the jury by - conversing with one of the substituted jurors.

in the jury box during the retirement of the Court for luncheon and which juror subsequently voiced his gross partiality by enquiring of the Judge if they were bound to find ~~any damages~~ verdict, nor was the Sol. Genl's misconduct confined to this most glaring outrage upon justice but he ferociously attacked one of the special jurors who had honestly expressed approval of my conduct.

I trust Dear Sir, you will pardon me for thus taking the opportunity to address you as a friend whose favorable opinion I value most highly, as it may be in your power to have these circumstances conveyed to the knowledge of the learned Judge who tried the case and who from the abandonment of my counsel has been led to form impressions most erroneous and injurious to my character and which I feel assured he himself would have the more regretted could he have known how much he had been deceived.

I remain my dear Sir very sincerely yours
