The Irish are as a rule a justice loving people. & they are so quick that they can at once discover whether or not that justice is given with a free heart & not doled out through fear & after every subterfuge has been resorted to. to deprive them of justice. In other words "Cæsar's wife" &c. I have gained the good will of the poor people to such an extent. that if all the other Commissioners in Ireland had gained it to a similar extent. I tell you that the British government would have gained a greater hold on the Irish people. than they could ever have anticipated. Let them send Commissioners to Armagh in the place of my Colleague & myself & they will find out the difference.

My dear Chief

I received your letter on my return from Inspection yesterday at 6 of. P.M. after a very hard days work. We had to breakfast by Candlelight (which we constantly have to do in winter) to enable us to get through our work. The consequence has been that our Commission stands 2nd highest for work done on the list of the 17 Commissions. My Colleague & I doing 3 cases to the 2 that the other 2 on our Commission inspect. & our Commission nevertheless has done four 3 to 4 times as many cases as some of the other Commissions. must Mr Litton stated that I could not possibly stand higher in the estimation of the Chief Commissioner one & all". I send you the copy of a letter from the Primate Dr McGettigan. and I do believe that there is not a gentleman or Nobleman. nor even a poor tenant in the County of Armagh that would not endorse the Primates letter. Further I have not the slightest doubt that the Protestant Primate would endorse that letter. & why? simply because I am not a Partisan. I promised my good friend Mr Forster that I would not be influenced by any one. I feel that I have kept my word with him to the letter. "Fiat justitia &c". I dont think Mr Forster could interfere in my behalf. Etiquette forbids it. but I confess I should like to stand well in the estimation of so good a man. and one who meant well to my country. I regard his disconnection with it as a public loss. without in the slightest degree reflecting on the representatives of the present Administration. You will perceive that if my name is omitted that it can alone be omitted for or through Patronage. not for neglect. incapacity or through misplaced bias on my part.

only one tenant appealed from the rent fixed by me and the great Majority of the landlords whose rents I fixed withdrew their appeals or did not appeal.
and yet there are over 12000
appeals to the rents fixed by the Sub Commissioners as yet unheard. Would it be fair then to appoint a ruler over my head. Possibly men whose Effigies have been burnt by the people. Would that tend to satisfy the people? Look at the resolutions passed in each County as to the administration of the Act and those Sub Commissioners made as large reductions as we did. & yet they could not satisfy the people. no. nor if they gave them the land for nothing. anything given with (what the people call) a bad grace is received without thanks to the Lords or to the Government. I have written too much. so I will conclude by saying that I never for a moment doubted your anxiety to serve me but I would not wish you to obtain the appointment of (the Commissioner) for me if it could interfere in any way with the yeomanry, with your party, or with any party. so dont commit yourself in any way for me. it is the last thing I should wish. as ever believe me my dear Chief

Yours affectionately

I countermanded the Salmon to the Agorpus Mahon as I did not see his name in the House and thought he might have been away and would never see it if it arrived — and somebody that perhaps he did not care about would have the eating of it or at least it would have been left to it for high — Will You kindly explain this to him — I sent it to him to day & Shall give directions for it but as I did not get any reply I felt sure he was away —

Kindly give me his private address again as I have mislaid it & Will you send him a post card & if You can only find out what day he particularly would like to have it I will take care that it shall be delivered to him that morning — only give me 3 or 4 days beforehand as I may not be in Dublin when I get Your reply —

Give me only these lines & name the day & it will be all right —

Ever Yours

My dear Colonel

This being St. Patrick's day I select it to send you a line and also we have been reading the full account of your life given in "The World" of 12 March which much edified my Wife.

I enclose you a leaf of a Law Journal which shows that even the Lawyers themselves rather laugh at my friend Mr Kays proceedings in my case.

I should be glad if you will let me have it back some time.

Did you ever manage to get from Labouchere the Number of the "Truth" in which he had given the antecedents of Dr Haden-Haden.
There is to be a meeting of Debenture Holders on 28th Inst which I may have to come back for & I wanted to know them before hand.
They have now succeeded in getting the order signed about my Wife's money, which was made on 18 Jan[y], but not a penny has been paid yet, & nothing has been done about the Mother. They keep putting it off just to spite her & now it is nearly a year since she has had a farthing allowance.
We both hope that you are well and that this

Dear Sir Norman Maher

If you will permit me thus to address you, Mr Edmund Yates has forwarded me your note of the 27th inst. If you do not want me to complete the Acre of Rose Little appears I know I shall be glad to receive any communication with one of the representatives of a family which holds all that was mortal of my eldest boy (who lies at Drumclipe) and whose wondrous legends & historic past I have endeavoured to elucidate.

Faithfully yours

Two Irish girls who are making a collection of the autographs of their distinguished countrymen would feel very grateful if the Algerman Blakon would kindly favor them by putting his on the enclosed two cards.

They wrote to the Algerman Blakon on another occasion, but feel sure that he did not get their letter, or that in extreme press of business he forgot about it.
