My dear Oforman Mahon,

You told me some time since, with your usual generosity, that if I required your influence I might command it.

I want you now to give me your aid on behalf of my son Hugh M. Kenny, an officer in the Army-Medical Staff, - stationed at Netley Hospital near Southampton - He is in every way qualified, an A.B. of Trinity in which College he has taken his degrees in Surgery and Medicine, he is not five years in the army, but has seen service in Egypt and Cyprus, and I can refer with confidence to those under whom he has served and his superior officers at Netley as to his character, professional and social.

It is because I know how large your circle of friends is, in every department, that I now appeal to you on behalf of a "clievan" a claim you never disregarded.

I want you to try and get a staff appointment for Hugh. Apply to some of the army men of high position and you may be able to get him into one of the Royal Hospitals in any part of Great Britain.

The poor fellow on whose behalf I write is the best of sons and the best of brothers.

If you can find any thing that would suit I shall get the aid of Adjutant General Kelly Kenny, now stationed at York, but he is too far from the center to make enquiry. Someone of your very many friends might be able to give a suggestion.

I send this by the hand of the only son of our friend, poor C. J. Mahon he is, in my opinion, a gentleman of high character and principles, as his friends could desire, and I have no doubt he will bring honour and credit to the family, he certainly will not depress it.

Yours faithfully
C. J. Mahon

Dear Sir,

I thank you very much for the 'Papers' containing Irish news. I always get The Daily News & United Ireland. I follow the progress of the Cause with the keenest interest, & I am glad that after such a long & apparently at times hopeless struggle, we are now within measurable distance of a solution. I generally send United Ireland & the Weekly Freeman every week to a friend of mine in Paris. He writes very able articles in favour of Ireland in the French Review.

It must be a great consolation to yourself to see, after so many vicissitudes, the realization of our hopes.

I am most grateful for the interesting details concerning Mrs Blake's family. I had often heard of her illustrious grandfather, & I was delighted to find that I had made the acquaintance of his grandchild. I am happy to say that she is improving very fast.
I am now back in my Monastery where I reside habitually.

I should be delighted if you could pay us a visit at any time.
The Monastery is reached from Liverpool Street Station in the City - to Forest Gate Station on the Brentwood line.
It is situated about 10 minutes walk from Forest Gate Station.
Wishing you every blessing & success.

I remain, dear Sir, pleased to hear from you, You were always so good and affectionate to us, when we much love,

My husband & the girls join me the loss of your son -

Lima, August-28th 1888.

My dear Colonel.

I wrote to you some time ago, and I was wondering what you had become as I never had a reply, but Aunt-Fitty has written to me, saying, that you had been abroad and that you were looking very well what has given me great pleasure.

Aunt-Fitty also tells me, that you wish to know if my father made a will and if he did, what was to be done with any money that might become due to him. My father, did not make a will, for he left nothing but debts, but he told us, that any money that would be paid by the people that owed him, was to be divided amongst his children.

We know that your son St. John O'Gorman owed my father some money. My husband wrote to your son in my father's name, once or twice about it; as my father himself told my husband to do it; but at that time, your son answered, that he could not pay, but that he would do it; as soon as he could. I suppose that your son, before dying must have charged you of this, if you come to leg of you to deliver the money to my Aunt Fitty, who, will give you a receipt for it. My husband, who is my brother's will executor, will send for that money and will also make the division of it; according to my brother's will.

but you I and Lord & Lady never heard anything about you after you left northern Africa -

Did you get an Ear Trumpet from Paris - ?
About the money - I should think a mortgage on Property in Ireland would be best for you - and would suggest that you should send Henry might probably find a mortgage to pay for $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 5 per cent - you could not get $3\frac{1}{2}$ in England, but I don't see why you should not get better interest in Ireland.
Sincerely yours

Dear Colonel -

I think you have more assurance than any one I know.
You reproach us for not writing - & you, what did you do, or rather not do?
From the time you left Algiers, not a line - only one telegram for Marseilles - & not a line to Carlos or Maria from that day to this -
In fact except that we saw your name in the divisions with your friend Healey, & Mealey, we should not know whether you had retired to Peru or had joined O'Donovan Rupe in America -

Your letter, which I admit is welcome, I take to be the evidence of some slight tinges of conscience -

You are very kind about Fernandez, & I have duly made a record of the name & address of Mrs Baydon -

I need not give you any news from here, as you feel no interest in the inhabitants & women

I may just say however that the girls have been here for the last two months, & that Maria soon - By the way you in Algiers, at

29. Huntley St. W. C.
Sept. 21. 1888.

My dear Colonel.

I hope you will kindly allow me to give a brief detail of what I am engaged at now and for some time past in this City. I am completing a very arduous and laborious work, which I began some years ago at Ennis, but which I had neither the time nor books to bring to a close whilst there. Here I have both.

The subjects dealt with are the Industrial Resources of Ireland, and an account of their history in the past, and their present condition; with suggestions in detail as to the mode and means by which the industries of the Country may be lowered and extended. I go minutely into the subjects themselves and they embrace a wide and varied field; such as the arterial and thorough drainage and reclamation of the waste lands; and planting such as may be resented for tillage, or good pasture with woods and forests as public or national property: the manufacture of woollens, Cottons, silks, and other textile fabrics: as well as leather, felts, and clothing generally: Pottery, porcelain, tiles, glass, and other wares of clays, loams, sands, and terra cotta; Carving and decoration in woods, and Colours: improvement in agriculture, tillage, fencing, farm residences and other buildings; planting for shelter, and ornament: the breeding and care of Cattle, sheep, and horses; Cottage residences, and Cottier holdings: Cultivation and management; Cottage industries: fruits, poultry: General education, and technical training of the people: the fisheries on the deep seas, along the shores, in the tidal and fresh waters of Rivers and Lakes; boat building; and making of boat gear and fishing apparatus: ship building in Iron, steel, and wood. Irish trade, and navigation past and present, and mode of improving them; Special teaching in fishing, and in ship, and boat building; manufacture of leather, felts, and clothing; boots, harness, hats, &c. by hand and machinery; construction and distribution of Mills for various manufactures; Mechanical engineering, and water powers of water and steam as supplied and their cost in Ireland; The mines, minerals, quarries, marbles, and building stones of the Country; Construction of Roads, Railways, Canals, and other means of locomotion and transit at the cheapest rate; the manufacture of paper and paper machines, and in straw and rickerwork; the necessity of establishing through the Country, in towns, villages, and the several parishes of Markets and shops for the supply to the masses of the people of the meats, fish, Vegetables, fruits and other necessities of life supplied in such plenty as by their Country but heretofore exported to foreigners: The Causes of the fall in prices of all sorts of products; the active competition from foreign Countries; the necessity of creating an efficient system of technical education and training in every trade and art: and making a strenuous effort to improve and raise the people of Ireland and placing them on a level with those of England, France, Germany and the other most highly improved Nations, which are possessed of the blessings of national self government.

It would be quite impossible here to give the faintest idea of the extent and variety into which these subjects develop themselves in their details but I have gone into them all minutely, with a view to inform the Irish people of their real position and how to improve it, and hope and even expect that the work shall in that direction have a most useful effect. Like yourself my heart yearns to do them some good.

As an example of the instances I introduce in order to enlighten them I have introduced a rather full account of what has been done at Kylesmore by the munificent Proprietor and his excellent family this I have taken from all I have read about the former condition of the place, and what I heard from yourself and another friend who went over all the modern improvements with the utmost care. Illustrations of a similar kind are given to enlighten people as to what has been already done in respect to manufactures, and almost every other one of the subjects of which the work treats.

I would not perhaps be so willing to engage in this laborious effort but that I see that the day of the Country's redemption is not far distant. It would be useless to do it for a Country governed at a distance by strangers who hate its people as Ireland has been for centuries; but now every one takes the deepest interest in the Country and its future fortunes. The Messrs Keegan French, Paul & Co. the Book Sellers have told me that they will be glad to see the manuscript as soon as it is completed and copied. Mr. French is a son of the late Arch-Bishop of Dublin and one of the Clancarty family. He told me he would do all in his power to get the work the largest possible sale and circulation: and if I can only get the time to prepare and complete it as I intend it will I expect do us small service to the afflicted people of the dear old Country.

I called on yesterday to ask the servant if you were in town, and to know how you were; and was extremely happy to hear that you are as usual well and strong. I did not want to intrude on you personally until all moon hope, my fortunes and prospects are in improved condition. I keep to remain my dear Colonel with the most extreme respect and regard, Your ever faithful servant, Colonel, The Old Man, Thos. M. P. 37 Feb, 1841. 37 Feb, 1841. John Frost.

they will advise you as to the

My dear Colonel, I went again to Messrs Leach & Deedes to enquire about the mortgage I mentioned in my last, and I do not think it is one that the Court would be likely to accept - In all this time although I have had (as I told you) several people on the look out, I have as yet heard of no other suitable mortgage & I am as -sured that such are not now to be met with every day The only thing I can see at present is for the money to be invested in the Inscribed Stock of one of the British Colonies, which can be bought at present prices to yield about £3. 13. 6 per cent on purchase money, and as the dividends on many of these are payable in ^{April & October} ~~January & July~~ you might take a quarter's dividend in April in the meanwhile fix upon a mortgage to suit

Leach & Deedes say they could get you some ground rent / first class security / to pay 4% interest if the Court will sanction such investment. An order has just been issued by the Supreme Court giving greatly extended powers for investment of funds under its control, the order coming into force next month, to meet such cases as yours, where stocks are paid off.

case, the application to the Hon Sir,

Without-doubt you are aware of the "Irish Pharmacy Act, 1875 Amendment-Bill," which is down for Committee, Nov 14th. As one of your constituents, we have been retailing Poisons, medicines, etc "for ordinary farmers use" only for the last 50 years, and it appears, if the above Bill is passed in its present form, it will be illegal to sell Poisons even for farmers use

We need hardly observe we look upon this as downright-unfairness - to use no stronger term. The Chemists' and Druggists' Association of Ireland has been specially formed for the purpose of protecting their own and the interests of retailers throughout the country, and we trust that you will in the words of their circular to us "leave no stone unturned" to defeat this invasion of our rights, this base attempt at securing a monstrous monopoly.

My dear Colonel,

Accompanying this you will find some of the Lithographs bearing on the late Election of 28 -

I send them to you as a Reminiscence of that memorable date and the stand you then had taken for Catholic Emancipation -

I would have them colored in, and framed before transmission, but my Wife and family have decided "that I must send them to you in their graphic state" - I do so accordingly and trust you will receive them in the same kindly spirit which actuates me in transmitting them to you in Memo of old times -

I have been moved from Carlow and am now the Inspector of Counties of from any one I should satisfy my own conscience that I was doing what was honest & certain.

I borrowed money from Purcell some years ago & paid him off in the good times & I never let his interest go one week in arrears. but until I got a settlement from my creditors borrowing by me is out of the question.
I could not help the fall in the times & I paid whilst I had it. I could do no more. now

My dear Miss
I was truly delighted at the tenor of your letter, as it satisfied me that at length & at last you were possessed of means to maintain your rank & position. Nothing in the world could be easier than to lend money just now in Ireland. I don't know any one but yourself would dream of doing so. as things are in a bad way here. altho' not half so bad as our residents are led to believe. The fact is, it is impossible to get money, so great is the distrust of everything Irish, entertained.

Before lending; you should be just satisfied as to the honesty of the Borrower. as to the safety of & security for the loan, & next with the locality. & last of all that the greater part of the property is in the hands of large grazing farmers. I was trying to borrow some time ago to enable me to stock my lands. that were thrown up to & to pay off some debts that I contracted. but I found it impossible to do so & unless I could get some settlement from my creditors & consequently that I could borrow without involving anyone else.

I would not borrow if a Steward or Clerk who might "feather his own nest." During your absence in London or elsewhere. Then there is in the 2nd instance the want of security in the payment of Interest, which is the great drawback to lending money, as it entirely exposes the Lender who might be left to starve while awaiting the entire repayment of his Mortgage.

or debtor. Consequently it is a serious thing for a man to lend all his money, unless he has other means of subsistence. That would sustain him for weeks, for months, possibly for years.
It would be far better to live upon half than to run the risk of the possible or probable disappointments & mind you! you can never know a man until you lend him money. So let me know you Wife & I will do my best for you.

Dolly was not to have left Dublin until tonight. On leaving Blath House (ongar) for home, she will spend some time in London, with some lady friends there, when she determined to "look you up" & get tickets for "the House". She was quite aware that you kept a Bachelor's house. & as you now say, lodgings. so she could not go, even to you, without a Matron. But she will be very glad to see you when she is staying in London & will write you to the house, "a day or two before she wants tell me, would you prefer buying out a place or taking a mortgage on lands of ample value. The difference between the two is this, in the 1st instance you would be your own paymaster & you might keep as much money as would stock the lands.

But then there would be this draw-back that you might not be able to manage the lands & would be altogether dependent

Sir.

I wrote you some time back respecting a Royal Commission relative to an Ancestry of yours, and having received no reply to my letter, and having removed to the above address, I arrive at the conclusion my letter has miscarried. The following is the purport of my previous letter. A few weeks ago I purchased some old and very valuable documents and upon close perusal one of them turns out to be a Royal Commission appointing 'Our trusty and well beloved Luke Mahon Esquire to be an Officer in the 3rd Regt of Foot Guards, and bearing the signature of the then reigning Monarch King George 3rd and countersigned by the Prime Minister Earl Spencer and entered with the Secretary at War Rockingham and Comy. General of Ministers, Thos. Burt & given at our Court at St. James and dated 6th February 1806.

I have been offered 15^g. for this document but ~~de~~ refrained from accepting from a Commissioner. until I had written you, presuming your Ancestral Commission would be the more highly treasured in your possession. Should however this not be on the direct line, I shall take it as a very great favor if you can inform me the nearest surviving relative of this noble & gallant Officer, if it should be in my power to do so.

Will you kindly favor me with your early reply

I have the honor to be

My dear Sir
I will do all I possibly can to procure you a 1st class Security, I will have the loan advertised, omitting your name, & that it will receive attention I have no doubt. That Security, when investigated, will be submitted to you for approval. The Borrower, if a sufficiently desirable one can be had? I must bear all the expenses. & I will sift the security, & as a duty & rest as your friend, as far as human capacity will permit. You may just arrive at a fair estimate of the difficulty of lending money in Ireland from one fact & one case (& there are thousands of others) that I have lost between the fall in prices

& the agitation. Since last I saw you, some £16,000. that no human foresight could anticipate & which nothing but a surplus capital could alleviate. No doubt a great change has set in for the better & prices are nearly as high as ever. but unhappily we have been often deluded by those temporary changes, & even tho' this happy change has set in, tenants won't pay. My dear Sir,

I have put your loan already in hands.
I have communicated with the Messrs. Melton & Co and dictated terms.
"that they should submit all title deeds, rentals & applications to me & decide on nothing without my entire satisfaction subject to your approval" "that they should make no charge for costs as between solicitor and client & some the costs of advertisements case a satisfactory Borrower cannot be obtained" that they should endeavour to obtain the most approved & where possible 1st charges "ample Margin" so as to afford ~~practical~~ payment in case of default within a limited time. I have required them to address such a letter to you & to let me see it before forwarding it. that I may see that all the conditions are contained in the letter.

Of course I have only initiated the matter. I have not employed them. that will rest with you. if you are satisfied with their terms.
My Attorney Law Son's forward to you. & you can let me know what you wish to do. ^{myself,} not residing in Dublin, I could not hold interviews with the might lose a desirable investment. You will perceive the terms I have specified are strictly protecting your interests in regard to costs. & necessarily so in every instance. If you are satisfied with their letter when it comes to your hands. Don't delay it longer than you deem necessary as if you make the suggested investment at all, you might as well do it at once, if practicable with perfect safety. If not, we might look out for another one. ^{your ever affy}
