My dear President Judson,-

The plan which I venture to enclose has been sent me from Paris, with a request that I organize support for it in this country. As a first step, I hope to secure the formal cooperation of the heads of some American universities, as an honorary committee. President Eliot and President Lowell have kindly given me theirs; and President Lowell authorizes me to say that I ask for yours with his cordial approval. There is hardly any need to add that I shall eagerly welcome any advice which you may be willing to send me, even though - as I hope may not be the case - you are not disposed to allow the use of your name.

Sincerely yours,

Barnett Wendell

A "MAISON DES ETUDIANTS AMERICAINS" IN PARIS.

A Plan for Founding an American University House in Paris.

GENERAL STATEMENT.

In spite of a wide-spread admiration for French culture and an increasing recognition of the value of French intellectual methods, American students have so far not availed themselves to any great extent of the advantages offered by French universities and schools for advanced study, with the single exception of the Ecole des Beaux-Arts. Efforts are now being made by the French Universities to spread a knowledge of these advantages in the United States and to bring them within the reach of larger and more various groups of American students. Clear and complete descriptions of the various schools and courses of studies are to be widely disseminated, formalities of enrolment, &c, are to be simplified, the needs of Americans are to be studied and met; in a word, access to French culture and training in French methods of thought, research and achievement is to be made easier. A considerable increase in the number of Americans studying in France is consequently probable. It has appeared to a certain number of American friends of France that a parallel effort should be made not only to further these attempts to bring about closer intellectual relations between the two countries, but to provide American students with certain advantages that would greatly increase the value and pleasure of their stay in France. It is essential that some organization should exist to furnish full information to young American men on their arrival, to help them not only to lose no time in settling down to their studies, but to provide them with the means of finding suitable accomodation in French families and bringing them rapidly into contact with their fellow-students, American and French, with their professors, and with all persons intercourse with whom would widen their

A considerable increase in the number of Americans studying in France is consequently probable. It has appeared to a certain number of American friends of France that a parallel effort should be made not only to further these attempts to bring about closer intellectual relations between the two countries, but to provide American students with certain advantages that would greatly increase the value and pleasure of their stay in France. outlook and give them a fuller understanding of French civilization. So far little has been done to bring about closer relations with French life generally. The most effectual way of meeting these various needs has appeared to the undersigned to be the foundation in Paris of a House for American students which would be at once a new intellectual link between the two countries, a meeting place for Americans and such Frenchmen as pursue common aims with them, a centre of American influence in France, and of French influence among Americans.

(Note;- Provisions already exist for female students, so this plan for the present concerns only men. It is hoped, incidentally, that closer social relations among French students may thus be developed. B. W.)

II The scheme has received the cordial approbation and official patronage of the Minister of Public Instruction, of Mr. Lucien Poincare, Directeur de l'Enseignement Superieur, of Mr. Liard, Recteur de l'Universite de Paris, and of all the heads of the special schools and provincial Universities. Hopes are entertained that the State and City of Paris may find possible to grant the land on which the Maison shall be built.

A provisional suggestion of what it might contain, subject to all modifications, is submitted below:

1. A permanent enquiry office to provide all information on all schools, courses of study, special opportunities available to American students, &c. not only in Paris, but throughout France. lists of families corresponding to the various requirements and means of students would be established by a responsible committee, also a registry and directory of American students in France.

An appeal to be made by means of this general statement and personal action: First, to the leading American Educational Institutions. Secondly, to all Americans likely to take interest in the scheme. Thirdly, to the Press in order to widely disseminate a knowledge of the nature and ends of the Foundation. Fourthly, to authors, editors, publishers and the public, for gifts of works of reference and books bearing specially on French and American history, literature, art and science.

In order to make more evident the utility of the foundation, and to meet present needs it would seem advisable to proceed as soon as possible to the opening of an information bureau and such parts of the American House as could rapidly be organized on a small and inexpensive scale.

H. P. Judson, Esq.
President,
University of Chicago,
Chicago, Ill:

My dear Mr. President:

I have been sent over by the French Ministry of Education to study the possibility of the co-operation of the American Universities to the erection of dormitories and student's club for the students of the University of Paris on grounds especially appropriated by the French Government for that purpose.

Professor Paul Van Dyke gave me the enclosed letter of introduction to you and I would have been very glad to go to Chicago to meet you if my stay in this country had not been too short to permit me to do so. Consequently I must limit my visits of the American Universities to the Eastern cities and I must go back to France the 25th of this month.

If you should have the opportunity of coming to New York before that date I would be delighted to see you then. I have had several conferences here with Professor Cunliffe and Professor Duggan so as to create a special committee of the American University Union to make a complete survey of the question and to communicate with your Paris Executive Committee. The principal end of my present trip is to see different organizations of dormitories and students clubs, and I would appreciate very much if you could have plans and literature sent to me regarding the Chicago dormitory system. I know that generally the universities have booklets showing the plans of the dormitories and the students buildings, and I hope that it will be possible for you to give me such documentation.

I beg to enclose also a copy of a letter by which the minister appointed me to this study.

With many thanks in advance for your kind attention to this matter, pray believe me

I have today given a letter of introduction by me to Mr. Greber sent by the Ministry of Public Instruction to a Cité Universitaire started by the donation of 10 000 000 that the different nations having students at Paris should build colleges in this Cité. Mr. Krons and I have the elements of judgment. I am mailing this report by this

MEMORANDUM REGARDING THE PLAN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PARIS TO CONSTRUCT A SERIES OF DORMITORIES
FOR FRENCH AND FOREIGN STUDENTS TO BE CALLED THE "CITÉ UNIVERSITAIRE"

THE PLAN

On October 26th, the Director and assistant Director of the Union, at the invitation of M. Appell, Rector of the University of Paris, attended a meeting of the Commission charged with considering a plan for the construction on a large plot of land on the site of the present fortifications, of a series of dormitories for French and foreign students..

Monsieur Deutsch de la Meurthe has given ten million francs to construct the French building or buildings designed to house 350 men and women students.. The French Government has given the University of Paris a plot of land worth 14,000,000 francs..

The University of Paris is ready to assign plots of land within the Cité Universitaire to such foreign nations or societies as wish at their own expense to construct dormitories for students of the nations to which they belong.

This plan will shortly be brought to the attention of American educators likely to be interested. Monsieur Greber, who, on the

This plan will shortly be brought to the attention of American educators likely to be interested. Monsieur Greber, who, on the part of the French Ministry of Public instruction, will be accredited to the American University Union in America, and to various American College Presidents, sails for the United States on October 29th, on the boat which should carry this letter.

The Director and Assistant Director do not wish here to express any personal opinion, but to present briefly certain considerations pro and con.

ADVANTAGES.

The plan for the Cite Universitaire has alluring features, apparent at a glance, and which need not be enlarged upon.

It will promptly afford such American students as wish to live in it comfortable rooms, baths, and tennis courts, etc., at a modest figure.

As regards the housing problem, we should here say that the Union has, roughly speaking, solved this problem for Americans. All students who ask the help of the Union can find tolerable quarters. Scores of students have been placed to their satisfaction in French families, and many other scores of students have with the aid of the Union satisfactorily settled themselves in pensions.

The housing problem which thus does not exist - certainly not in any acute form - for Americans, may still remain a problem for students of nationalities which have no organization to look after them.

The housing problem which thus does not exist - certainly not in any acute form - for Americans, may still remain a problem for students of nationalities which have no organization to look after them.

The frequently expressed desire of most American students to settle themselves in a distinctively French milieu - family or pension - will have to be seriously reckoned with in considering the dormitory plan submitted by the University of Paris..

DISADVANTAGES.

The obvious disadvantage of the plan is the danger of segregating American students, of separating them from French life and French people, and encouraging them to flock together and inevitably - talk English..

As according to the present plan, the number of foreign students in the Cité would appear to be much larger than the number of French students, it might prove difficult to hit upon any scheme which would satisfactorily mingle them in the Cité.

This objection was at once brought up in the meeting by representatives of the Canadian and Scandinavian student interests. It is the objection that has always been recognized by the Union and expressed in the pamphlet in which the project for our own Maison des Etudiants is presented..

In the Cité Universitaire, according to the present plan, there would be one or two French dormitories, and grouped about them Japanese, Canadian, Chinese, British, Yugo-Slav and other buildings.

Such a grouping would hardly seem the likeliest way to plunge our students into a French atmosphere, and to bring them into daily and close contact with the French language and French ways of life and thought.

DATE OF REALIZATION OF THE CITÉ PLAN.

It is the desire of the University of Paris to begin leveling the fortifications not later than the spring of 1922. There are, however, at present points still to be adjusted between the University of Paris and the City of Paris which may cause delays, and speed is not the distinctive characteristics of French ministries and bureaux.

What is more, we do not know that any nation except the French, and perhaps the Canadians, have any definite plans for building. It may well be many years before the Cité as planned comes near realization. The fact that 15 years are to be allowed by the University of Paris for each nation to raise the funds and build indicates that rapid realization is not expected.

The fact that 15 years are to be allowed by the University of Paris for each nation to raise the funds and build indicates that rapid realization is not expected.

DANGER POINTS IN THE CITÉ PLAN.

In case any American individual or institution considers taking up the project of the Cité Universitaire, certain questions should be clearly settled in advance:

1. Is the Cité Universitaire to be open only to students at French institutions of higher education? If so, will it be open only to students of French State (Federal Government controlled) institutions? If limited to such institutions, students of such important establishments as the Ecole Libre des Sciences Politiques (much frequented by Americans), the Institut Catholique, and many others, which are not state schools, would be excluded.

2. Would art students, often not graduates of colleges, be admitted?

3. Women students cannot be neglected. Would it not, of course, be necessary, if the Cité plan were to be adopted, to erect one dormitory for men, one for women? American co-educational institutions would have to keep this situation in mind. The proposed plan of the International Federation of University Women for a Women Students residence club in the rue de Chevreuse, Paris, should be remembered in this connection.

4. If a dormitory were built, would Americans be willing to dwell in it in the midst of non-~~French~~ foreigners, and far from the University libraries, laboratories, ateliers, the life of the Latin Quarter and the City of Paris in general?

We believe the above statement presents the obvious advantages of the Cité plan, and certain complications and disadvantages which must arise in considering it.

BEARING OF THE CITE' PLAN ON THE UNION.

If dormitories for Americans are built on the fortifications, far from the Sorbonne and other institutions of learning! it is certain that the demands on the Union as a workshop and study will at once become heavier, for students who formerly lived near the Sorbonne and could return to their rooms between lectures to work will fall back increasingly upon the facilities offered by the Union.

As a clearing-house and bureau of information, in its function of adviser in academic and other student problems, as a center for reunions, and lectures, as a meeting-place for French and American students and professors, as a liaison agent between French and American universities, the Union, on account of its central situation and for other reasons, will, in the event of the building of a dormitory in the Cité Universitaire, have the same calls upon it, and will fulfill just the same functions as before,

Gentlemen,

Monsieur Greber who has been visiting this country in the interests of the proposed Cite Universitaire at Paris submits the enclosed interim report. He requests that consideration of the scheme be deferred until he has had time to confer with the authorities in Paris, to whom he will present the results of his enquiries here with a view to the revision of the scheme as originally presented. I have had two or three interviews with him, and he has also seen President Butler, President Hibben, President Lowell, Mr. Thompson, Professor Nettleton and Dr. Duggan. He proposes to return to New York in the spring, and it is hoped that he will be able to attend the May meeting of the Union Board of Trustees, so as to present the revised scheme in person. There seems to be no necessity for immediate action.

PROGRAM OF THE PROPOSED
"CITE UNIVERSITAIRE DE PARIS"

The French Government represented by the Recteur of the University of Paris has appropriated 72,500 acres of ground for the creation of a group of dormitories for the students of the University of Paris and other government and assimilated schools of the metropolis.

The grounds are located on the former fortifications of Paris between the Porte d'Orleans, Porte de Gentilly at the South of Parc de Montsouris. There are several direct connections with the different schools of the University by street cars and buses and also a station of the Paris Subway and a station of the railroad Luxembourg-Sceaux at the grounds. The distance from the grounds to the school district is about a mile.

First:- Of these grounds, twenty-two and a half acres (blue area) will be used for building purposes; (a) the dormitories with study rooms, bath and showers, distributed in separate pavilions of varied size and height, erected in planted grounds. (b) the general services such as restaurants, recreation rooms, library, lecture rooms, administration building, etc. to be built on the same grounds and directly connected with the playgrounds and athletic fields described hereafter.

Second:- A total area of about fifty acres (yellow space) corresponding to the military zone or zone non Aedificandi is proposed to be occupied by a part which will include a few low buildings such as covered swimming pools, tennis courts and other shelters or structures necessary only for the use and the maintenance of the park and playgrounds.

The railroad line from Luxembourg Station to Sceaux crosses the grounds and divides them into two parts of 56 and group and the other to the ladies group. Of the latter 6.75 acres will be occupied by buildings and planted courts and 9.75 acres by the ladies private park.

The ladies will be admitted to the general services and to the playgrounds of the men's group at certain hours which will be fixed later in the details.

The total acreage for building purposes has been acquired by the French Government for the University of Paris from the City of Paris for the sum of francs 13,500,000 with the obligation for the city of delivering the grounds levelled and ready for building including street work. The University of Paris will take care of all building operations and upkeep of the properties of the Cite Universitaire. The renting of the rooms including privilege of the use of the general services will be operated under the control of the University of Paris by a Societe Immobiliere created on the co-operative plan.

A gift of francs 10,000,000 made by Monsieur Deutsch students rooms, including servants or 400 persons altogether.

by the general services.

Should this number be insufficient, two other additional plots or a total of 12,5 acres could be appropriated to give room for another 1,500 people, with an extension of the park of about 15 acres.

It was originally proposed to build the different groups of dormitories for French and foreign students separately, each nation having its special group, and the appropriation of ground necessary for each different group would have been made under a separate agreement between the University of Paris and the representative of each of said nations. But this was entirely opposed to the ideal of a Cite Universitaire where all students must live together, the foreign students coming to Paris to profit to the utmost of French life. Consequently it seems more advisable to organize the Cite Universitaire on the co-operative plan divided in as many shares as rooms wanted by each group of students, with the understanding that the value of the share would include construction of rooms, general services, layout and upkeep of park and playgrounds.

The direction of the co-operative society would be controlled by the different groups of students in proportion to the number of shares owned by each of them.

These studies will be prepared immediately and a definite agreement could be reached while the City of Paris is preparing the grounds, i.e. before the first of January, 1923.

Dear President Judson:-

After conference with representatives of several universities and with officials at Washington, it has been decided to call a meeting to consider the organization of an American University Union in Paris to meet the needs of our undergraduates and graduates during the period of the war. The meeting - to which you are invited to send a delegate - will be held at the University Club, New York, next Friday, July 6th, at 5 P.M.

The plan for the union has developed out of the decision of the Yale Corporation about a month ago to establish a Yale Bureau in Paris. The number of inquiries regarding it, the offers from other colleges to co-operate, and the special interest of the officials of the Red Cross and of other governmental agencies, soon led us to see that the plan should not be confined to any single American university. This opinion was confirmed by the action of the American college men in Paris, who on June 17th sent the following cable to the undersigned:

"Meeting representatives eight universities proposed union provide headquarters Paris all American college men. Does Yale prefer independent headquarters or should our Alumni Association enter union?"

To this the following reply was sent:

"Approve Yale uniting in headquarters with other colleges, but desire therein separate accommodations for Professor Nettleton, University's representative. Urge postponement detailed plans until I cable next week after Washington conference, arranged before receiving cable at request Red Cross and other universities."

In the meantime Professor Nettleton, who had been appointed the head of the Yale Bureau, has been in conference with officials in Washington and various other agencies, all of whom heartily favor the idea of the Union and believe that some organization of representatives from American collegiate institutions should be formed to secure its prompt establishment.

A cable received on June 28th, reading as follows, shows that the various alumni associations in Paris can be counted upon for hearty co-operation:

Dear Sir:

I take pleasure in sending to each president and appointed representative of institutions invited to send delegates to the organization meeting last week a copy of the constitution adopted by the American University Union in Europe. The trustees thus far elected are as follows:

President Goodnow, of Johns Hopkins University

Secretary Roger Pierce, of the Harvard Corporation

President Hutchins, of the University of Michigan

Mr. Henry B. Thompson, of the Princeton trustees

President Finley, of the University of the State of New York

Secretary Stokes, of Yale University

My dear Dr. Judson:-

I do not doubt that you are thoroughly well aware of the work for college men in service abroad which has been started by the American universities under the name of "The American University Union in Europe".

According to the latest advices received from America, about thirty colleges have joined this movement and, as the name of Chicago does not appear on that list, I thought I would drop you a few lines regarding the movement.

The American colleges and universities which have joined this movement have appointed nine Trustees consisting of:

Secretary Stokes, Yale University (Chairman)
President Goodnow, John Hopkins University
President Finley, University of the State of New York
President Hutchins, University of Michigan (Vice Chairman)
President Graham, University of North Carolina
Trustee Henry B. Thompson, Princeton University (Treasurer)
John Sherman Hoyt, Columbia University.
Secretary Pierce, Harvard University (Secretary)
Dwight Morrow, Amherst University.

The Red Cross is officially represented by Mr. Morrow.
The Y.M.C.A. by Mr Hoyt
The University Club of new York by President Finley.

These Trustees have appointed as Executive Committee Dr. van Dyke of Princeton, Prof. Nettleton of Yale, Prof. Vibbert of Michigan, Mr. Hyde of Harvard and myself.

There is also an Advisory Committee consisting of representatives from the resident Paris Alumni of the different colleges.

The Executive Committee is establishing an American University Club where men coming back from the front can have the comforts and the homelike atmosphere of an American Club, where they can meet men with kindred interests and where they will be less exposed to the temptations of a great city.

At the same time many of the larger colleges will maintain offices or bureaus in charge of men representing their own college, whose duty will be to keep track of all men, to be of any service it possibly can be to them, either

As I said before, I do not doubt that you know all about this movement but perhaps a word from an old Chicago man who is right on the spot and who is engaged in this field of usefulness will be of interest to you and those whom you represent.

I have your letter of October 23d. The enclosed pamphlet will, I think, explain to you fully the purpose and significance of the American University Union. I had hoped that Chicago might decide to send over a special representative to establish a bureau in the Union which would interest itself in the graduates of Chicago and of the smaller colleges of the Middle West. At the present moment Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Princeton, Yale and the University of Michigan have their representatives in separate bureaus in our Union headquarters, which is the Royal Palace Hotel, Place du Théâtre-Français, Paris. Harvard's representative sails on Saturday to establish a similar bureau and the University of Virginia's representative, who will, I hope, also take a special interest in men from other Southern colleges, sails in a couple of weeks. The Union opened last week Saturday with representatives from thirty colleges spending the night there. We believe that it is going to be a most important influence for maintaining morality and keeping up the morale among the American troops.

Dear President Hutchins:

Your favor of the 6th inst. is received. Do I understand that the $30,000 raised are a final sum, or amount simply to provision for the first year, with the probability of subsequent contributions being required? I note that the Trustees wish the "West" to raise $5,000. Counting the west as beginning at Ohio, I note that there are seventeen institutions concerned. It would seem to me that an undertaking to raise one-fifth of the entire sum on the part of the University of Michigan is certainly generous. I will confer with some of our Trustees on the matter, and let you know in a few days what can be done here.

Dear Mr. Robertson:

Re The American University Union in Europe.

In reply to your letter of the 16th.

Enclosed herewith please find my check payable to Mr.
Henry B. Thompson, Treasurer, in the amount of Twenty Five Dollars ($25.00). This, I think, is probably my proper proportion of the amount of $3,000, which I understand The University of Chicago is to contribute toward the budget for the year.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Robertson:

At your convenience, would you be good enough to let me know how much money was recently collected through the activity of the President and yourself in reference to the American University Union in Europe?

If you consider it quite consistent, should appreciate your giving me the names and the amount subscribed, so that I may keep my records accordingly. The facts are that I agreed to underwrite $3000.00 for this section and I have already sent them my check for $1000 and thus desire to have the facts so I may handle accordingly.

Dear Mr. Swift:

To a list of persons given me by President Judson I sent the following letter:

"The University of Chicago has become an institutional member of the American University Union in Europe, and admirable enterprise described in the enclosed pamphlet. You will note that Harold H. Swift is a trustee representing the University of Chicago. The Union is in need of funds. Will you read the pamphlet and if you decide that, among your many war contributions, you could do something for university men in Europe, will you use the accompanying form, and also let me know so that I may please the other University men Chicago contributors by reporting your assistance."

The list comprised the following names:

Willoughby G. Walling, Winnetka, Illinois.
Harry Ford, Detroit, Michigan.
Bernard L. Johnson, 5422 Ridgewood Court.
Percy B. Bokhart, 38 South Dearborn Street.
A. A. Goes, 4940 Kimbark Avenue.
Horace B. Horton, Chicago Bridge and Iron Works,

Scott Brown - check for $25.00 enclosed.

These checks were forwarded to Mr. Henry B.

Is there anything more that I can do to secure assistance for an institution whose worth has already been recognized by University of Chicago men in service. Doubtless, you have seen printed in the Chicago Magazine the list of those who registered at the Union in Paris.

Dear Sir:

The American University Union of which your institution is a member has opened the Royal Palace Hotel, corner of the Rue de Richelieu and the Place du Theatre Francais, Paris, as its European headquarters. Representatives from thirty different institutions took rooms there the first night after the headquarters were opened, and a cable received yesterday morning states that the hotel is already overflowing with American college men and that additional accommodations are necessary.

The Director of the Union requests that you send to him the following publications:

1. A copy of your latest directory of living graduates and non-graduates.
2. ✓ A copy of last year's university or college catalogue. — sent annual 1915-16 list for 1916-17
3. ✓ A copy of this year's catalogue when published. →
4. Any lists that you may have printed giving the names of your graduates, non-graduates, and students in war service.

I enclose mailing labels herewith, and assure you that your co-operation in this matter, which is in the interest of all concerned, will be appreciated.

Very truly yours,

I can send Anson Phelps Stokes

Dear President Judson:

I return herewith Senator Parker's letter, which I had great pleasure in reading and of which I am taking the liberty of keeping a copy.

Referring to the matter of raising funds for the American University Union in Europe: It seems to me the following alumni might be approached on this subject:

- ✓ Willoughby G. Walling, Winnetka, Illinois.
- ✓ Harry Ford, Detroit, Michigan
- ✓ Bernard L. Johnson, 5422 Ridgewood Court
- ✓ Percy B. Eckhart, 38 South Dearborn St.
- ✓ A. A. Goes, 4940 Kimbark Avenue
- ✓ Horace B. Horton, Chicago Bridge & Iron Works,
105th & Throop Sts., Chicago.
- ✓ William Scott Bond, 25 No. Dearborn Street.
- ✓ Scott Brown, 208 South LaSalle Street.

I have made a particular effort to avoid the trustees and the regular donors to University projects as I assume you will consider these names and act upon them as you see fit.

Yours cordially,

Harold H. Swift

Chicago, January 15, 1918.

Dear T.

I think that the Alumni Magazine readers, especially the men in service, will be glad to know of the progress of the University Union in Europe. I call attention especially to sections V, VI, VII, VIII and IX. I am writing to the following for funds in support of the Union:

Willoughby G. Walling, Winnetka, Illinois.
Harry Ford, Detroit, Michigan
Bernard L. Johnson, 5422 Ridgewood Court.
Percy B. Eckhart, 38 South Dearborn St.
A. A. Goes, 4940 Kimbark Avenue.
Horace B. Horton, Chicago Bridge and Iron Works,
105th & Throop Sts., Chicago.
William Scott Bond, 25 N. Dearborn St.
Scott Brown, 208 S. La Salle St.
Claude K. Nuckols.

Have you any additional names to suggest?
Can you moreover through the columns of the Magazine assist in securing funds for this institution?
It will be of such great value to our University men.

Yours very truly,

D. A. R. -D.

Secretary to the President
