Dear Sir : -

The Bohemian citizens resident in the United States who constitute a population of more than 750,000 persons have invited Dr. Francis Count Luetzow to visit this country and to give a series of historical lectures here (in English) next February. The committee charged with the arrangement of his tour is now negotiating with the presidents of the foremost Universities and savant societies of the United States with a view of appointing a time for his lectures before these bodies and societies.

Francis Count Luetzow, Ph.D. of the Bohemian University of Prague, Lit.D. Oxon., member of the Royal Society of Sciences and of the Imp. Roy. Bohemian Academy of Sciences, Literature and Arts in Prague, former Secretary of Austro-Hungarian Embassy in London, is well known as the author of many English books and articles about Bohemia.
