

EMERGENCY COURSE FOR PERSONS INTERESTED IN THE PROTECTION OF GIRLS IN WAR TIME

---

The Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy
IN CO-OPERATION WITH
The Department for the Maintenance of Existing Social Agencies of the State Council of Defense
AND
The Juvenile Protective Association of Chicago

---

A brief course for training in Protective Work for Girls will be offered, beginning on Monday, December 3, and ending on Friday, December 21. It will consist of three portions: Lectures given at the School of Civics; Inspection Visits to important agencies; and Field Work done under the supervision of the Juvenile Protective Association.

The lectures will be given from ten to twelve o'clock on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings. No fee will be charged for the course, but no one will be admitted who does not undertake to give at least twenty-five hours a week during the three weeks of the course and pledge herself, if called upon, to give fifteen hours a week during the following year to work of this character. Regular and punctual attendance at the lectures will be required, and absence from two lectures will forfeit a place in the class.

Among the subjects to be discussed are the need of protective work and the necessary kinds of organization; the duties of protective officers and women police, scouting and patrol work, supervision of commercialized recreation; methods of dealing with the individual girl, the runaway girl, the subnormal and incorrigible girl, the unmarried mother; law enforcement; and programs of constructive work on behalf of girls, through recreational agencies, industrial supervision, and patriotic organization. Generous co-operation has been secured, not only from the officers of the Juvenile Protective Association, but from the officers of the Juvenile Court, some members of the police force, some of the city and county officials, and others skilled in the care of girls. Visits of inspection will be made to the Detention Home, to the appropriate courts, and to selected institutions.

Application for admission to the course should be made at an early date, and information may be secured by inquiry at the School, 2559 Michigan Avenue.

THE PROBLEM OF THE FUTURE OF THE
THE PROBLEM OF THE FUTURE OF THE

The first of the two main questions which arise in connection with the future of the world is the question of the future of the human race. It is a question which has been discussed for centuries, and it is one which will continue to be discussed for centuries to come.

The second of the two main questions which arise in connection with the future of the world is the question of the future of the individual. It is a question which has also been discussed for centuries, and it is one which will continue to be discussed for centuries to come.

The first of the two main questions which arise in connection with the future of the world is the question of the future of the human race. It is a question which has been discussed for centuries, and it is one which will continue to be discussed for centuries to come.

The second of the two main questions which arise in connection with the future of the world is the question of the future of the individual. It is a question which has also been discussed for centuries, and it is one which will continue to be discussed for centuries to come.

The first of the two main questions which arise in connection with the future of the world is the question of the future of the human race. It is a question which has been discussed for centuries, and it is one which will continue to be discussed for centuries to come.

The second of the two main questions which arise in connection with the future of the world is the question of the future of the individual. It is a question which has also been discussed for centuries, and it is one which will continue to be discussed for centuries to come.

CHICAGO SCHOOL OF CIVICS AND PHILANTHROPY
2559 MICHIGAN AVENUE

7 December, 1917.

My dear President Judson,-

I thought that you might be interested in the enclosed circulars describing the Emergency Courses we have been giving at the School of Civics to volunteers. The course in War Relief has been given three times to a total of something over two hundred; the Settlement Course to about sixty; the Home Charities Course to between sixty and seventy. The course on the Protection of Girls, in spite of its rigid requirements, in the weeks immediately preceding Christmas, has an enrollment of thirty-three. These courses are given without fee in order that we may insist upon volunteers adequately qualifying themselves for service. The courses will be repeated from time to time as the need arises.

Always faithfully yours,

S. P. Breckinridge

President Harry Pratt Judson,
The University of Chicago.

Miss S. P. Breckinridge
Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy
2559 Michigan Avenue, Chicago

CHICAGO SCHOOL OF CIVICS AND PHILANTHROPY
2559 MICHIGAN AVENUE

7 December, 1917.

My dear President Johnson,

I thought that you might be interested in the enclosed circulars describing the Emergency Courses we have been giving at the School of Civics to volunteers. The course in War Relief has been given three times to a total of something over two hundred; the Settlement Course to about sixty; the Home Charities Course to between sixty and seventy. The course on the Protection of Girls, in spite of its rigid requirements, in the weeks immediately preceding Christmas, has an enrollment of thirty-three. These courses are given without fee in order that we may insist upon volunteers adequately qualifying themselves for service. The courses will be repeated from time to time as the need arises.

Always faithfully yours,

J. P. Brewster

President Harry Pratt Johnson,
The University of Chicago.

Chicago, December 10, 1917

Dear Miss Breckinridge:

President Judson asks me to write on his behalf, thanking you for your letter of December 7 with the enclosure. He is much interested in the subject.

Yours very truly,

Private Secretary

Miss S. P. Breckinridge
Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy
2559 Michigan Avenue, Chicago

EMER
THE CHIC

Chicago, December 10, 1917

Dear Miss Brockbridge:

President Johnson asks me to write on his behalf, thanking you for your letter of December 7 with the enclosure. He is much interested in the subject.

Yours very truly,

Private Secretary

Miss S. P. Brockbridge
Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy
2559 Michigan Avenue, Chicago

EMERGENCY WAR RELIEF

---

THE CHICAGO SCHOOL OF CIVICS AND PHILANTHROPY

---

The emergency course on Social Service in War Time given during the month of May and repeated in June at the School of Civics and Philanthropy with special reference to Civilian War Relief will be repeated during the period beginning Tuesday, October 16, and ending Thursday, November 15. The lectures will be given from ten to twelve o'clock on Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

Among the subjects in this course will be forms of service required for the soldier's family during his absence; co-operating agencies, medical, educational, industrial, and charitable; provision for soldiers' widows and orphans, widows' pensions, etc.; re-education for the handicapped soldier; forms of distress likely to arise in war time, such as industrial mal-adjustment, increase in juvenile offenders, and child neglect; special needs of different national groups; emergency relief in other catastrophies than war, such as earthquake, mine disaster, flood and fire.

Those who complete this course together with the equivalent thirty days (210 hours) of field work* with an approved case-work agency, will be recognized by the Civilian Division of the Red Cross as prepared for volunteer service in that Division. Field work will be arranged either during the period of the lectures or after the lectures have been completed.

No fee is charged for the course, but every person registering will be expected to pledge herself to carry the entire course with field work, to attend the lectures promptly and regularly, and to enroll for service in the Red Cross whenever calls for civilian relief workers are issued. It is also hoped that those completing this course will be willing to do volunteer work with social agencies until the Red Cross has need of their services.

*Attention is called to the fact that a course in Home Charities Service will be conducted during the same period and those who take ten additional hours of lecture work (without fee) on Friday mornings may be able to complete the requirements for a certificate in Civilian Relief as well as in Home Charities.

EMERGENCY COURSE FOR VOLUNTEER SETTLEMENT WORKERS IN WAR TIME

---

The Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy

IN CO-OPERATION WITH

The Chicago Federation of Settlements

AND

The Home Charities Committee of the State Council of Defense

---

An emergency course for Volunteer Settlement Workers in War Time is offered, beginning on Monday, October 15, and continuing through Monday, December 17. The classes will be held in the Hull-House Gymnasium, 808 West Polk Street, from nine until twelve o'clock on Monday mornings.

The exercises will consist of two portions: (1) Lectures on such subjects as the origin and point of view of the settlement; settlement administration; different types of settlement and their relation to co-operating agencies; the settlement in relation to working conditions and recreational agencies; the problems of different national groups; settlement activities for adults; settlement activities for children. (2) Technical instruction in simple games, dances, hand-work, toy-making, etc., such as can be given in so brief a course and will be of special service to volunteer workers. The lectures and discussions will probably occupy one hour and a half, and the technical work the other hour and a half, each Monday.

No tuition fee will be charged, but there may be small expenses for material. For those who are qualified and can give the time, practice work under supervision will be arranged. All who register for the course will be expected to attend promptly and regularly and, if called upon, to render some service in a settlement or recreation center when the course has been completed.

Registrations will be received in advance by mail at 2559 Michigan Avenue, or on Monday morning, October 15, between eight and nine in the Hull-House Gymnasium.

EMERGENCY TRAINING FOR HOME CHARITIES SERVICE DURING THE WAR

---

The Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy

IN CO-OPERATION WITH

The Home Charities Committee of the State Council of Defense

---

An emergency course devoted to the problems of Social Service with Home Charities in War Time will be given at the School of Civics and Philanthropy beginning Tuesday, October 16, and ending Friday, November 16. The lectures will be given from ten to twelve o'clock on Tuesday and Friday mornings.

Among the subjects discussed will be the essential principles of case work as applied to the care of the dependent family in the home, the treatment of homeless and neglected children, the protection and education of the immigrant, the protection and care of wayward girls, the organization of the Juvenile Court and of the Vocational Supervision Bureau, the agencies for the care of the sick poor and others.

Those who complete this course, together with the equivalent of thirty days (210 hours) of field work* with an approved case-work agency, will be recognized by the Home Charities Committee of the State Council of Defense as prepared for volunteer service with the charitable agencies whose regular workers have been drawn into War Service. Field work will be arranged either while the lectures are being taken or after the lectures have been completed.

No fee is charged for the course, but every person registering will be expected to pledge herself to carry the entire course with field work, to attend the lectures promptly and regularly, and to enroll for service with the Home Charities Committee.

*Attention is called to the fact that a course in Civilian Relief will be conducted during the same period and those who take ten additional hours of lecture work (without fee) on Thursday mornings may be able to complete the requirements for a certificate in Civilian Relief as well as in Home Charities.

2559 Michigan Ave.

Calumet 5696

EMERGENCY TRAINING FOR HOME CHARITIES SERVICE DURING THE WAR

The Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy
IN CO-OPERATION WITH
The Home Charities Committee of the State Council of Defense

An emergency course devoted to the problems of Social Service with Home Charities as their theme will be given at the School of Civics and Philanthropy beginning Tuesday, October 10, and ending Friday, November 10. The lectures will be given from ten to twelve o'clock on Tuesday and Friday mornings.

Among the subjects discussed will be the essential principles of case work as applied to the care of the dependent family in the home, the treatment of homeless and neglected children, the protection and education of the immigrant, the protection and care of wayward girls, the organization of the Juvenile Court and of the Vocational Supervisor, the agencies for the care of the sick poor and others.

Those who complete this course together with the equivalent of thirty days (210 hours) of field work with an approved case-work agency, will be recognized by the Home Charities Committee of the State Council of Defense as prepared for volunteer service with the charitable agencies whose regular workers have been drawn into War Service. Field work will be arranged either while the lectures are being taken or after the lectures have been completed.

No fee is charged for the course, but every person registering will be expected to pledge himself to carry the entire course with field work to assist the lecturers promptly and regularly, and to enroll for service with the Home Charities Committee.

Attention is called to the fact that a course in Civics will be conducted during the same period and those who take an additional hour of lecture work without any of the above mentioned agencies may be able to complete the requirements for a certificate in Civics as well as in Home Charities.