Dear Dr. Burton:

Through the generosity of Mr. Thomas E. Wilson, in connection with the plans of the Institute of American Meat Packers for a Research Laboratory, the Institute is enabled to submit a proposal which previously has been endorsed by its Committee on Scientific Research and which is in general accord with action by the general Convention in accepting a gift from Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Wilson, who, as you know, is Chairman of the Institute Plan Commission, has generously offered to provide a fund of $5,000 a year for three years to establish The Research Laboratory of the Institute of American Meat Packers on conditions stated hereinafter, and with a title adopted by the Convention. The donation is to go entirely into compensation of personnel and purchase of supplies, materials, et cetera, in order that the funds may have the greatest productiveness. The correlation of the work, rather than a physical entity, will for the present constitute the laboratory.

It should perhaps be made clear at this time that in its scientific service to members, through the Department of Scientific Research, the Institute of American Meat Packers contemplates two laboratories, the one to be located in the

Dear Dr. Barton:

Through the generosity of Mr. Thomas E. Wilson, in connection with the plans of the Institute of American Meat Packers for a Research Laboratory, the Institute is enabled to submit a proposal which previously has been endorsed by its Committee on Scientific Research and which is in general accord with action by the General Convention in accepting a gift from Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Wilson, who, as you know, is Chairman of the Institute Plan Commission, has generously offered to provide a fund of $5,000 a year for three years to establish the Research Laboratory of the Institute of American Meat Packers on conditions stated hereinafter, and with a title adopted by the Convention. The donation is to go entirely into compensation of personnel and purchase of supplies, materials, et cetera, in order that the funds may have the greatest productivity.
The correlation of the work, rather than a physical entity, will for the present constitute the laboratory.

It should perhaps be made clear at this time that in its scientific service to members, through the Department of Scientific Research, the Institute of American Meat Packers contemplates two laboratories, the one to be located in the Institute building and to concern itself with an analytical and consulting service, the other to limit itself to research work in the fundamentals of Packing House science. It is the second or strictly research laboratory that is contemplated in the enclosure.

We have followed very closely the form of agreement between the University and the McCormick Memorial Institute, in preparing this document and it is our earnest desire to effect a relationship which in every detail will be fully acceptable to the University.

In connection with the enclosed proposal we may say that no adequate attempt has been made, in stating it, to brief the benefits which would accrue to the University and to the Institute of American Meat Packers from placement of the Research Laboratory of the Institute at the University of Chicago.

This proposal will, of course, have to go before our Executive Committee, which meets December 17, for ratification, which we confidently expect it to receive, since it has the approval of the President of the Institute, the Chairman of the Institute Plan Commission, and is in accord with the acceptance by the Convention of Mr. Wilson's gift. Therefore, we submit our proposal without delay so that action by the University may not be retarded.

Very truly yours,

My dear President Burton:-

The general outline of the proposed agreement seems quite satisfactory. I wonder if in paragraph 4, page 2 there should not be some implication that the University is to cooperate in the choice of studies and their method of conduct. While I should not anticipate anything but the most harmonious relations with the present group, it might be well to guard specifically the right of the University to participate in the decision as to just what studies are to be carried out in its laboratories. Briefly, with the necessarily limited funds available there might be some choice between investigations with immediate practical bearing and those of more fundamental scientific significance. I take it the preference of the University would be for the latter type.

Yours very truly,

The second sentence in paragraph No.4 to which you direct attention could, I think, be improved from all view points by substituting the language of your suggestion.

There is no legal question involved. There is, however, the question of the possible future construction in that your suggestion does not indicate the manner in which the studies shall be conducted or controlled, but leaves the matter open for future agreement.

This arrangement probably is the best from the standpoint of educational organization and of the cooperative purposes of the plan.

I am extremely sorry that the matter referred to in yours of December 27th has not received more prompt attention. The delay has been due to two causes: first, my exceeding engrossment in matters having to do with our financial campaign; and second, the need of considering with care the language of one of the paragraphs of the contract that you were kind enough to submit. I refer to the last sentence of paragraph "four," which reads, as proposed by you; "In such work it is understood that the Institute of American Meat Packers, while co-operating and working in harmony with the University shall have the deciding voice as to the initiation, conduct and termination of such studies." I should like to suggest as alternative language, which I feel sure will be clearly acceptable to your needs in such work, the following: "It is understood that the Institute of American Meat Packers and the University of Chicago will work in harmony, and that the initiation, conduct and termination of such studies will be matter of mutual agreement between them."
