

The disaster in the Iroquois Theater came close to the admitted to membership in the Beta of Illinois chapter of Phi Beta University in many ways. At least four resident students losing their lives and several former students. The resident students were Fred William Leaton, a Sophomore Medical student. Mr. Leaton was 25 years old; he matriculated at the University, September 29th, 1902, coming from the University of Michigan. He had been a residence four quarters with very high standing in the class room. His home address was Terry, South Dakota; he had twelve Majors of credit towards the Bachelor's degree.

Miss Daisy E. Livingston, a University College student, aged 25. She was a graduate of the Hyde Park High School, matriculated at the University October 1, 1898, in connection with her work as a teacher, she had taken courses irregularly at the University since 1898 and had 20 Majors of credit towards the Bachelor's degree.

Miss Gertrude Rosetta Falkenstein, aged 29 years, graduated from the South Division High School, matriculated at the University October 1st, 1900, and had taken a small amount of work in the old, a Congregational minister. He matriculated at the University September 26th, 1901, and was well along towards his Doctor's degree in Sociology, having passed the French and German examinations on

Mr. Henry Lewis Richardson, a Divinity student, 50 years old, a Congregational minister. He matriculated at the University September 26th, 1901, and was well along towards his Doctor's degree in Sociology, having passed the French and German examinations on December 9th. Mr Richardson graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1880 and had a son who was a student in the Hyde Park High School.

Walter Bruno Zeisler, a Senior College student, aged 17. He matriculated at the University September 25th, 1901, coming from the Harvard School, from which he entered with a scholarship awarded for high standing. He received his title of Associate, December 16th, 1902, getting honorable mention for excellence in Junior College work. At the Convocation last June he received a scholarship for excellence in Junior College work. On December 17th he was

The disaster in the Proctor Theater came close to the University in many ways. At least four resident students losing their lives and several former students. The resident students were Fred William Leaton, a sophomore Medical student. Mr. Leaton was 25 years old; he matriculated at the University, September 28th, 1903, coming from the University of Michigan. He had been in residence four quarters with very high standing in the class room.
 His home address was Terry, South Dakota; he had twelve Majors of credit towards the Bachelor's degree.
 Miss Daisy E. Livingston, a University College student, aged 25. She was a graduate of the Hyde Park High School, matriculated at the University October 1, 1898, in connection with her work as a teacher, she had taken courses irregularly at the University since 1898 and had 20 Majors of credit towards the Bachelor's degree.
 Mr. Henry Lewis Richardson, a Divinity student, 30 years old, a Congregational minister. He matriculated at the University September 28th, 1901, and was well along toward his Doctor's degree in Sociology, having passed the French and German examinations on December 9th. Mr. Richardson graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1880 and had a son who was a student in the Hyde Park High School.
 Walter Bruno Zeisler, a Senior College student, aged 17.
 He matriculated at the University September 25th, 1901, coming from the Harvard School, from which he entered with a scholarship awarded for high standing. He received his title of Associate, December 10th, 1902, getting honorable mention for excellence in Junior College College work. At the Convocation last June he received a scholarship for excellence in Junior College work. On December 17th he was the disaster in the Iroquois Theater came close to the ways. At least four resident students losing admitted to membership in the Beta of Illinois chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, receiving what is known as a Junior election, that is an election based on not less than 24 Majors credit in the University.

-2-

Former students who perished, so far as known, are Walter Joseph Austrain, 18 years old, who entered the University in the Spring Quarter of 1903 from Armour Institute, and after one quarter's residence secured a letter of honorable dismissal to Yale University.

Miss Phoebe Irene Fort, 45 years old, a graduate of Cornell University in the class of '81 and principal of the Myra Bradley School in Windsor Park, matriculated at the University October 2nd, 1900, and had taken work irregularly, mostly in the University College.

Miss Gertrude Rosetta Falkenstein, aged 29 years, graduated from the South Division High School, matriculated at the University October 1st, 1906, and had taken a small amount of work in the University College.

Mrs. Minnie Pearl Mills, 33 years old, ^agraduate of the Muskegon, Michigan High School, matriculated at the University November 10th, 1900, and had taken work since that time in the University College. She was the wife of Ward Magoon Mills who received the degree of Bachelor of Science from the University, June 18th, 1901, since which time he has been connected with the Armour Institute of Technology.

The sympathy of the University must go also to Max L.
Mendel, whose mother was among the lost, and also to Will and Fred Molony of Ottawa, Illinois, whose 11 year old sister, Alice, is dead; also to Miss Marion Bigler, a student who lost her sister.

ed to membership in the Beta of Illinois chapter of Phi Beta receiving what is known as a Junior election, that is an election based on not less than 24 Majors credit in the University.
Former students who perished, so far as known, are Walter Joseph Austrian, 18 years old, who entered the University in the Spring Quarter of 1903 from Armour Institute, and after one quarter's residence secured a letter of honorable dismissal to Yale University.
Miss Phoebe Irene Fort, 45 years old, a graduate of Cornell University in the class of '81 and principal of the Myers radley School in Windsor Park, matriculated at the University October 2nd, 1900, and had taken work irregularly, mostly in the University College.
Miss Gertrude Rosette Felkenstein, aged 29 years, graduated from the South Division High School, matriculated at the University October 1st, 1900, and had taken a small amount of work in the University College.
Mrs. Minnie Pearl Mills, 33 years old, graduate of the Shakagon, Michigan High School, matriculated at the University November 10th, 1900, and had taken work since that time in the University College. She was the wife of Ward Nagoom Mills who received the degree of Bachelor of Science from the University, June 18th, 1901, since which time he has been connected with the Armour Institute of Technology.
The sympathy of the University must go also to Max I.
Mendel, whose mother was among the lost, and also to Will and Fred Molony of Ottawa, Illinois, whose 11 year-old sister, Alice, is dead; also to Miss Marion Blier, a student who lost her sister.
As the Convention last June he received a special ship for excellence in Junior College work. On December 17th he was Another distressing case was that of Miss Frances Estelle Wetmore, who ever since its organization, has been registrar of the Eastern Illinois Normal School at Charleston, Illinois. Miss Wetmore began her experience as a stenographer in connection with the University Extension Office during the first year of the University, and for several years was head assistant in that office, leaving it to accept the responsible position in Charleston. With her sister, she attended the theater and has not been heard from since.

Miss Daisy E. Livingston, a University College student, aged 22. She was a graduate of the Hyde Park High School, matriculated at the University October 1, 1898, in connection with her work as a teacher, she had taken courses irregularly at the University since 1898 and had 30 Majors of credit towards the Bachelor's degree.

Mr. Henry Lewis Richardson, a Divinity student, 50 years old, a Congregational minister. He matriculated at the University September 28th, 1901, and was well along toward his Doctor's degree in Sociology, having passed the French and German examinations on December 9th. Mr. Richardson graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1880 and had a son who was a student in the Hyde Park High School.

Walter Brune Zeisler, a Senior College student, aged 17. He matriculated at the University September 25th, 1901, coming from the Harvard School, from which he entered with a scholarship awarded for high standing. He received his title of Associate, December 16th, 1902, getting honorable mention for excellence in Junior College work. At the Convocation last June he received a scholarship for excellence in Junior College work. On December 17th he was

