My dear Mr. Coulter:-

Mr. Barnes informs me of your election to membership in the National Academy of Science. I am pleased of course at any honor which may come to you, but at the same time am bound to say that the honor in my judgment is quite as much that of the Academy as of yourself. I trust that your son has recovered, or is on the highroad to recovery, and that you yourself are making steady progress toward the goal.

With sincere regards to the family as well as yourself, I am,

Very truly yours,

My dear Harry:

This is the love that will not let you go. The time tables show that you can readily give the Commencement address here at 9.30 on the morning of Wednesday, June 16th, and take at 11 o'clock the Golden State Limited that will bring you into Englewood at five, from whence you may start at fifteen minutes before six on the Lake Shore Limited, and be in Cleveland at 1.50 a.m. on the 17th. Or, if you will travel more leisurely and give us more time, you can leave here at four o'clock on Wednesday, the 16th, arrive at Englewood at 10.10/ p.m., leave Englewood at 10.37, and reach Cleveland at 8 a.m. on the 17th.

We need you very much and will give you a splendid time. You can use the same message, so once more I pray you, come and bring Rebecca, whose expenses can also be paid. Clara joins me in begging you to wire - and surely this time at our expense - "Yes".

Yours in the bonds,

My dear Mr. [Name],
I have just received your letter of the 14th inst. and am glad to hear from you. I am well and hope this letter finds you the same. I am sorry I cannot write you more often, but I am so busy at present that I have no time.
I am, however, thinking of you very much and hope to hear from you again soon. I am, dear Mr. [Name], very

My dear Harry:

It gives me great pleasure to invite you to give the June Commencement address at this university at ten o'clock in the morning of June sixteenth. You must accept for several reasons. First, we want you and the message you can give. Second, the speaker we anticipated has failed us and we are in a pinch. Third, it is likely that Will Hollister will be here. You must come and bring Rebecca. Doubtless you have an address at hand that will serve the purpose. The regents are accustomed to pay all expenses and a honorarium of one hundred dollars. Please wire me on receipt of this, at my expense, that you will come, relieving me of further anxiety and giving us all great pleasure.

In leaving you so suddenly I was also unable to ask you to collect material as <sup>a</sup> possible dean of women at this institution with reference to Miss Anna Klingenhagen, candidate for the Ph.D. degree in your university, and a graduate of Wellesley. I would be glad to have your frank opinion.

Faithfully yours,

Dear Sir:-

Having read the recent articles in The Cosmopolitan in regard to university teachings, I am writing the heads of many of these institutions for their opinions as to the truth or untruth of these representations.

I hope to use the results of my correspondence in a magazine article on this theme.

The other side should certainly be made clear to the public.

Will you kindly write me answers to these questions?

1. Are the teachings of our universities today revolutionary or anarchistic?
2. Are they represented fairly in The Cosmopolitan articles? Or are citations therein modified by their context?
3. Will you give your opinions as to what is the state of university teachings today in America?
4. May I use your reply in the magazine paper I propose to make?

Cordially,

- (1) It is preposterous to claim that the teachings of our universities are either revolutionary or anarchistic.
- (2) Those teachings, so far as the University of Chicago is concerned, were grossly misrepresented in the "Cosmopolitan" article to which you refer. A citation taken out of its context without the slightest reference to its bearing may easily be made to appear the reverse of its obvious meaning.
- (3) Your question as to the state of university teaching today in America is too vague; I could not answer it intelligently.

Dear Sir:-

The undersigned members of the Board of Trustees of The Reed Institute, of Portland, Oregon, which is just beginning its work have been asked to act as a committee of correspondence with a view to obtaining from yourself and a few others such advice and counsel as you may kindly afford us in the very inception of our undertaking.

We enclose a copy of the clause of the founder's will, which will indicate the large discretionary powers which she has placed in her trustees. We are anxious to proceed with great care in all initial steps, and will appreciate any suggestions as to the specific character that the Institute should take, as well as the methods of organization, and the directions in which we might look for a proper man or men to act as administrators.

As well as we can understand ourselves and our situation as at present advised, The Institute should at first take on the character of a training school for practical vocations so called, for deserving young men and women, adding perhaps carefully organized lecture courses both for students and the general people.

The properties received from the executor and now in our hands are estimated to be of about two million of dollars in value

If before advising us or making any suggestions, there are farther questions which you would like to ask, we will try to the best of our ability to send the information.

May we not also ask whether it might not be possible for you to arrange a visit to our city and our trustees? CLAUSE OF THE LATE AMANDA W. REED'S WILL CREATING THE REED INSTITUTE.

Twenty-Seventh:

All the rest, residue and remainder of my estate and property of every kind, real, personal and mixed, whatever its character, and wherever the same may be situated, I give, devise and bequeath to my friends, Rev. T. L. Eliot, C. B. Bellinger, C. A. Dolph, William E. Robertson and Martin Winch, all of Portland, Oregon, and their successors, in trust, to use the same and the income therefrom arising in the founding, establishment and maintenance at the City of Portland, Oregon, of an institution of learning, having for its object the increase and diffusion of practical knowledge among the citizens of said City of Portland, and for the promotion of literature, science and art. Such institution hereby provided for shall be named and known as the "Reed Institute," in memory of my departed husband, Simeon G. Reed. In it shall be established such departments of learning, galleries of art, natural and technical museums, appliances for manual training, and other appliances and appurtenances, as such trustees or their successors in the trust hereby created may from time to time prescribe. Such instruction shall be given therein by competent teachers and lecturers in literature, music, the arts and sciences, and such classes created for the people, and especially for deserving young men and women earning their livelihood, as said trustees and their successors may from time to time direct.

Moderate fees for admission or tuition may in the discretion of said trustees be charged when necessary, or by said trustees deemed advisable.

Property may be purchased and such suitable buildings and appurtenances erected and constructed as in the judgment of said trustees may be deemed necessary. Provided, however, that not more than one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) of the principal of this bequest shall be used for such purposes.

It is my desire and intention that the institution so founded and established shall be a means of general enlightenment, intellectual and moral culture, the cultivation and development of fine arts, manual training and education for the people.

And I desire and direct that it forever be and remain free from sectarian influence, regulation or control, permitting those who may seek its benefits to affiliate with such religious societies as their consciences may dictate.

Such portion of this bequest as shall not be applicable to the purchase of property and the erection of suitable buildings and appurtenances as hereinbefore provided shall be securely invested in such manner as to provide a safe and permanent income, and in the judgment of said trustees to best preserve, perpetuate and maintain said institution.

Upon the death of any of said trustees, either prior to or after my decease, or if any of them shall resign, become incompetent, or refuse to act, then the remaining trustees, or a majority of them, shall appoint another or other suitable person or persons and thereupon such new trustee or trustees shall become and be invested with all the rights, privileges and estates, including the appointment of new trustees, and subject to all the duties and obligations as if originally named as trustees in this my will. And I hereby give and grant to said trustees full power and authority to make such rules and regulations for the government of said Institute and admission of applicants thereto not inconsistent with the purposes thereof as herein expressed, as to them or a majority of them shall seem proper, with power in their discretion to incorporate said Institute in the name herein designated under the laws of the State of Oregon, providing for the incorporation of religious, benevolent and charitable societies, if and whenever the incorporation thereof shall tend to the better perpetuation thereof, and the promotion of the objects for which this bequest is made. Provided, that no compensation shall be demanded or received by any trustee hereunder, nor by any officer of such corporation.

Wm. P. Olds, C. E. Wolverton.

Gentlemen:-

Your favor of the 7th inst. received. I am very much interested in the work which the Trustees of The Reed Institute have in hand. It should be of enormous value to the future of your city. The main purpose in the mind of the testator is quite obvious, and I should say that the Trustees will always be under more or less pressure, directly or indirectly, to let the institution drift away from such purposes. It would seem important that even an unconscious drift in that direction should not be permitted. The purposes themselves are vital, and can undoubtedly be carried out successfully. The plans should involve very careful deliberation, as it is more important to start on the right lines than to start at an early time.

I expect to be in Portland about the last of June in attendance on the National Baptist Convention, and should be much interested if I could confer with any of the Trustees on this matter. It would

Dear Mr. Reed:-

Your favor of the 8th inst. received. You may put down an extremely old-fashioned name, long since out of date,- Walter Scott. If I speak on that subject I shall try to give my reasons for being a hundred years behind the times, and liking Scott.

Very truly yours,

H.P.J.

Taxation*

June 8, 1909

My dear Governor Deneen:-

My attention is called to a bill now in your hands relating to exemption from taxation of property used for the educational work of schools other than those controlled by the state. As I understand the matter, the courts would construe this to make all educational property of institutions of learning higher than the grade of secondary schools subject to taxation. I trust that this bill will not be permitted to become a law. Institutions of learning of the character named are not in any sense intended for pecuniary benefit. The gifts from which they are maintained provide additional facilities for the youth of the state, and provide for the advancement of scientific knowledge. If a part of these funds should be taken from them by the state for taxation, it could have but two results:

1. The capacity to render a service to the public would be diminished just to the extent that money is paid for taxation.
2. Donors who wish to put their money into public use would be discouraged.

Dear Mr. MacClintock:-

It has just come to my attention that I have been unconsciously violating a regulation of the University in the case of your headship of the section in Hitchcock. The regulation is that the Head of a Section must be if possible connected with the faculty; if not, at least a graduate student. Probably neither of us will be impeached during the current quarter, but for the next fiscal year, beginning June 21st, of course I shall have to make arrangements which accord with law and order.

With sincere regards, and thanking you for your suggestion, I am,

My dear Mr. MacClintock:-

Your favor of the 7th inst. received.

Doubtless you have not had the experience which would point out clearly the course to be pursued in such matters. It would be entirely proper for you in such cases to say, "one-time Fellow in the University of Chicago." The fact that you have delivered public lectures has no weight in the matter. As to your being on the teaching staff, I do not understand that you are appointed to a position by the Board of Trustees, which would be the only thing that would warrant the interpretation which is plainly implied by the statement to which I have called your attention.

I cordially congratulate you on your offer of a consular post in Honduras. I should be glad to see you on the matter, although my evenings are all occupied.

The matter of a room in Hitchcock of course Dr. Goodspeed has in charge. With best wishes, I am,

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. MacClintock:-

I am sending a copy of the Register of the La Salle Extension University in which your name appears as "formerly of the University of Chicago." As you have not had much experience in these matters probably you are not aware that this means that you were formerly a member of the faculty of the University of Chicago. I suggest a change in the subsequent edition.

Dear Mr. President:-

Replying to your favor of the 4th, inst., I beg to say that you are fully aware, I am sure, of my high appreciation of your advice at all times, and of my attitude toward my alma mater. With regard to the use of my name as formerly of the University, I feel that you are giving too strict an interpretation to this matter. The fact that I was a Fellow of the institution for two years, that I delivered more than one public lecture, that I was on the teaching staff, and that I took my degree there would seem to fully warrant the use referred to. In this connection I beg to invite your attention to Number 13 of the Statutes of the University.

I have been offered the consular post at Tegucigalpa, the capital of Honduras. I daresay that you are particularly busy this week, but if you could give me a few minutes time late some afternoon or evening with regard to this matter, I would appreciate it very much.

Adverting to yours of the 1st, inst., I meant to resign from the headship of the section in Hitchcock just as soon as the matter of a permanent connection should be settled, and had spoken both to Dr. Small and to Mr. Bliss to this effect. As Mr. Bliss does not want to use the room that I occupy, I would regard it as a favor if I might be allowed to retain my present room, paying rent therefor, during the summer quarter, or as much thereof as I may be here. This would be no exceptional arrangement as there are other men in the hall who have ceased to be actively connected with the University.

Trusting that this will be agreeable, I beg to remain,

Very truly yours,
