

JAMES HAMILTON LEWIS, ILL., CHAIRMAN.
WILLIAM J. STONE, MO.
JOSEPH E. RANDELL, LA.
BOIES PENROSE, PA.
HENRY F. LIPPITT, R. I.
JOHN F. MCCARRON, CLERK

United States Senate,
COMMITTEE ON
EXPENDITURES IN THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

J. H. Lewis

7

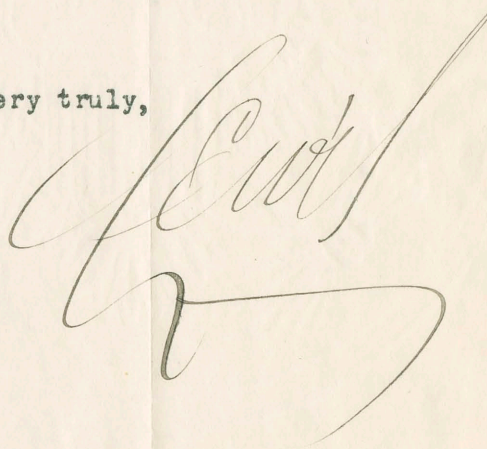

March 8, 1917.

Hon. Harry Pratt Judson,
Chicago, Ill.

My dear Mr. President Judson:

I thank you for your kind note of the 1st and am glad to have your approval. I hope things will come out well. Command me for yourself
at any time.

Yours very truly,

JAMES HAMILTON LEWIS, III., CHAIRMAN
WILLIAM A. STONE, JR.
JOSEPH E. BARNETT, JR.
ROBERT BARNETT, JR.
HENRY F. LIPPETT, JR.
JOHN F. McDONNELL, CLERK

United States Senate
COMMITTEE ON
EXPENDITURES IN THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE

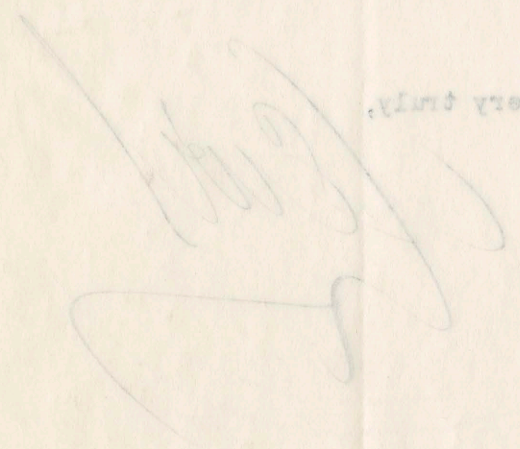

March 8, 1917.

Hon. Harry Pratt Judson,
Chicago, Ill.

My dear Mr. President Judson:

I thank you for your kind note of the 1st and am glad to have your approval. I hope things will come out well. Command me for yourself
at any time.

Yours very truly,

LEWIS, FOLSOM & STREETER

JAS. HAMILTON LEWIS
RICHARD S. FOLSOM
WALLACE STREETER
TELEPHONE CENTRAL 348

COMMERCIAL NATIONAL BANK BUILDING
CHICAGO

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 5th, 1912.

Professor Harry Pratt Judson,

Chicago University, City.

My dear Professor Judson:-

I am greatly concerned in reading certain newspapers to observe that I am quoted of having spoken of the Committee of One Hundred as bigots or fools or similar expressions in a speech yesterday. I never even referred to the committee. And, if I had, no such expressions could have ever come from me concerning my friends, and all of whom are my acquaintances.

I regret that the exigencies of politics should call for the misrepresentation of a man by those who do not possibly realize ^{the} in justice to his gentility, ~~in~~ those expressions unjustly credited to him.

Please explain to your colleagues when the occasion arises that no such expressions could have ever come from your friend Lewis.

Yours obediently,

James Hamilton Lewis

LEWIS, FOLSON & STREETER

COMMERCIAL NATIONAL BANK BUILDING
CHICAGO

LEWIS, FOLSON & STREETER
TELEPHONE CENTRAL 345

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 5th, 1912.

Professor Harry Pratt Judson,

Chicago University, City.

My dear Professor Judson:-

I am greatly concerned in reading certain newspapers to observe that I am quoted of having spoken of the Committee of

One Hundred as bigots or fools or similar expressions in a speech yesterday. I never even referred to the committee. And, if I had, no such expressions could have ever come from me concerning my friends, and all of whom are my acquaintances.

I regret that the exigencies of politics should call for the misrepresentation of a man by those who do not possibly realize in justice to his gentility, ~~and~~ those expressions unjustly credited to him.

Please explain to your colleagues when the occasion arises that no such expressions could have ever come from your friend Lewis.

Yours obediently,

TELEPHONE CENTER
ATTN: MR. LEWIS
MAY 1912
JAMES HAMILTON LEWIS
CHICAGO, ILL.
FEB 12 1912

Chicago, November 6, 1912

My dear Mr. Lewis:-

Your favor of the 5th inst. is received. If I had noticed any such statement in the press as coming from you I should have been convinced at once that it was a misstatement. I am perfectly aware that any words of that character could not be used by you under any circumstances. I shall bring your note to the attention of my colleagues on the Committee, all of whom I am sure would have the same view with myself.

With sincere regards and appreciation of your courtesy in the matter, I am,

Very truly yours,

H.P.J. - L.

Mr. James Hamilton Lewis,
Commercial National Bank Bldg., Chicago.

LEWIS, TOLSON & STREET

COMMERCIAL NATIONAL BANK BUILDING
CHICAGO

LEWIS, TOLSON & STREET
100 WALL STREET
NEW YORK CITY

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 21, 1912

Professor Harry Pratt Judson, Chicago, November 6, 1912

Chicago University, Ill.

My dear Professor Judson:-

My dear Mr. Lewis:-

I am very sorry to hear that you are not feeling well.

Your favor of the 5th inst. is received. If I had noticed any such statement in the press as coming from you I should have been convinced at once that it was a misstatement. I am perfectly aware that any words of that character could not be used by you under any circumstances. I shall bring your note to the attention of my colleagues on the Committee, all of whom I am sure would have the same view with myself.

With sincere regards and appreciation of your courtesy in the matter, I am,

Very truly yours,

James Hamilton Lewis

Commercial National Bank Bldg., Chicago.

H.P.J. - L.

Enclosed

Very truly yours,

Mr. James Hamilton Lewis,

Commercial National Bank Bldg., Chicago.

4-2
JAMES HAMILTON LEWIS, ILL., CHAIRMAN.
WILLIAM J. STONE, MO.
JOSEPH E. RANDELL, LA.
BOIES PENROSE, PA.
HENRY F. LIPPITT, R. I.
JOHN F. MCCARRON, CLERK.

United States Senate,

COMMITTEE ON
EXPENDITURES IN THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

February 27, 1917.

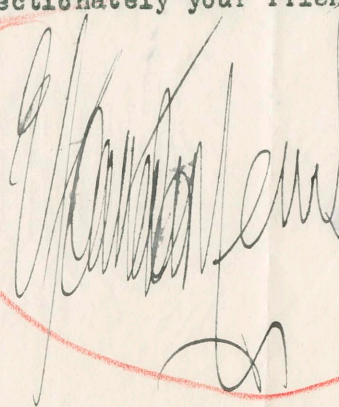

Hon. Harry Pratt Judson,
Chicago, Ill.

Dear Doctor Judson:

I want you to know that anything I can do for you or the University or its officers at this particular time, I not only gladly will do, but gladly will I welcome from you any suggestion.

Let me hear from you at your pleasure on any subjects of our government.

Affectionately your friend,

JAMES HANCOCK, 1100 N. LAKE ST., CHICAGO, ILL.
WILLIAM E. WATSON, JR., 1100 N. LAKE ST., CHICAGO, ILL.
JOHN E. HANCOCK, JR., 1100 N. LAKE ST., CHICAGO, ILL.
JOHN E. HANCOCK, JR., 1100 N. LAKE ST., CHICAGO, ILL.
JOHN E. HANCOCK, JR., 1100 N. LAKE ST., CHICAGO, ILL.

United States Senate

COMMITTEE ON
EXPENDITURES IN THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE

February 27, 1917.

Hon. Harry Pratt Judson,

Chicago, Ill.

Dear Doctor Judson:

I want you to know that anything I can do for you or the University or its officers at this particular time, I not only gladly will do, but gladly will I welcome from you any suggestion.

Let me hear from you at your pleasure on any subjects of our government.

Affectionately your friend,

