

CROSS REFERENCE SHEET

Name or Subject Mrs. Andrew MacLeish

File No.

Regarding

Date

SEE

Name or Subject

File No.

Harper 1902

File cross reference form under name or subject at top of the sheet and by the latest date of papers. Describe matter for identification purposes. The papers, themselves should be filed under name or subject after "SEE."

Cat. No. 30-5902

For use in all Filing Systems lance in trying to raise money for educational purposes in the west to have some slight appreciation of what your work has been. I think one of the things which the University will do will be to educate people in the direction of giving.

With thanks for the trouble which I am asking you to take in my behalf, I am Yours very sincerely, Martha Hillard MacLeish.

Glencoe, Ill.,
July 28, 92.

(31) amsel
WRM

MacLeish
7mo

My dear Dr. Goodspeed,

The enclosed letter will explain itself. Mr.
MacLeish is away on his summer vacation and I did not know surely whether to trust this newspaper's representation of itself or not. I have found an old picture of Mr. Mac-Leish which is not very good, but which will answer the purpose I suppose. If it is true that pictures of all the trustees are to be published, I think

Mr. Mac Leish would be willing to join the glorious army, but of course he would dislike to be at all singular in the publicity, so I venture to trouble you with the matter.

If the request of the paper is all right, and its statements true in regard to the photographs of actors, will you kindly send the accompanying photograph of Mr.
Mac Leish to their office, as requested. If matters are not as represented, just keep the picture, and return it to Mr. Mac Leish sometime at your convenience.

As regards my subscription to the University Fund, Mr.
Mac Leish will attend to the matter immediately upon his return, which will be sometime within the next week.

If you are not already sufficed with the congratulations and thanks of the general public over the part which you have played in securing this last two million dollars to the University, please add mine to the list. I think you ought to be regarded as a public benefactor. I have had just enough experi-

Glenwood, Ill.,
May 29, 1901.

My dear Dr. Harper,

It is very good of you to extend this gracious invitation to Mr. Truesdick and me.
We shall be most happy to accept it, and for my part I shall be delighted to do anything possible to assist you in your widowed estate.

The gardens are struggling in the face of this east wind to bring things into blossom at the right time.
I think you will be safe in depending upon us for the floral decorations for the house, and perhaps for the dinner at Green Hall as well. We will do our best to make your Bachelor house blossom as the rose-

Very sincerely yours,
Martha H. MacLeish.

CHICAGO WOMAN'S CLUB
203 MICHIGAN AVENUE

February 16, 1904.

Pres. W. R. Harper, University of Chicago, Chicago, Ill.

Dear ^{Sir;} ~~Madam~~:-

Some time since, you received a circular in reference to a conference upon woman in the industrial world, which is to be held under the auspices of the Chicago Woman's Club, April first and second. You were good enough to express an interest in this proposed conference. May I ask you to give your consideration to the following questions? They are questions upon which we would value your personal conclusions.

1. How is woman's education affected by industrialism?
2. Why, in your judgment, do not women fill a larger number of higher educational positions, in co-educational colleges, for instance? What has been your experience with women in such positions?
3. Do women in the higher positions receive salaries more nearly equal to those of men?

How do the salaries of the women at the U. of C. compare with those of men in corresponding positions?

CHICAGO WOMAN'S CLUB

203 MICHIGAN AVENUE

2

4. Are the salaries of the higher educational positions sufficiently large to induce men to exclude women from them?
5. Why are not men more largely represented in elementary and secondary schools?

Any conclusions, which you may have formed upon any of these questions, will be very much valued by us and will be used in a purely impersonal way.

Very truly yours,

(Mrs. Andrew) Martha H. Mac Leish.

March 1st, 1904.

Mrs. Andrew McLeish,
Glencoe, Ill.

My dear Mrs. McLeish:-

Your letter to President Harper, dated February 16th, was received after he had gone to the hospital. It will be two weeks or more before he will be able to answer these questions personally. ~~There~~ is anyone else here at the University whose opinion on these questions would serve your purpose, we shall be glad to have the information sent you.

Yours very truly,

March 1st, 1904.

Mrs. Andrew McLeish,
Glencoe, Ill.

My dear Mrs. McLeish:-

Your letter to President Harper, dated February 16th, was received after he had gone to the hospital. It will be two weeks or more before he will be able to answer these questions personally. There is anyone else here at the University whose opinion on these questions would serve your purpose, we shall be glad to have the information sent you.
Yours very truly,

March 17th, 1904.

My dear Mrs. McLeish:-

Your letter of February 16th with the questions I find in my correspondence on my return from the hospital. I am not able to answer the first question, having no data.

In response to the second question I would say that women do not fill a larger number of higher educational positions in part because they have not made the preparation; in part because the higher educational positions involve supervision of men, and as a rule men of good ability refuse to have their work supervised by men. Because there is always a ~~element~~ of uncertainty about a woman's future. You can never depend upon her not changing her mind as to her career and getting married.

In reference to the third question I would say, that so far as I know, in general women in higher positions do not receive salaries equal to those of men. In the University of Chicago, however, the salaries of women are the same as those of men in the corresponding positions.

In answer to the fourth question, I am inclined to

March 17th, 1904.

My dear Mrs. McLeish:-

Your letter of February 16th with the questions I find in my correspondence on my return from the hospital. I am not able to answer the first question, having no data.

In response to the second question I would say that women do not fill a larger number of higher educational positions in part because they have not made the preparation; in part because the higher educational positions involve supervision of men, and as a rule men of good ability refuse to have their work supervised by men. Because there is always a element of uncertainty about a woman's future. You can never depend upon her not changing her mind as to her career and getting married.

In reference to the third question I would say, that so far as I know, in general women in higher positions do not receive salaries equal to those of men. In the University of Chicago, however, the salaries of women are the same as those of men in the corresponding positions.

In answer to the fourth question, I am inclined to think that the salaries of higher educational positions are sufficiently large to induce a strong class of men to work for them. These men, even if they be not so strong as certain women, seem to have the preference and consequently women are to some extent excluded.

Men are not represented in elementary and secondary schools to the same extent as women in large part because of the small salary; in part also because women of superior ability have been willing to work in these fields for small salaries.

Regretting that I cannot give you more satisfactory information, I remain

Yours very truly,

W. R. Hooper

Mrs. Andrew McLeish,

Glencoe, Ill.

think that the salaries of higher educational positions are sufficiently large to induce a strong class of men to work for them. These men, even if they be not so strong as certain women, seem to have the preference and consequently women are to some extent excluded.
Men are not represented in elementary and secondary schools to the same extent as women in large part because of the small salary; in part also because women of superior ability have been willing to work in these fields for small salaries.

Regretting that I cannot give you more satisfactory information, I remain Yours very truly,

W. R. Hoag

Mrs. Andrew McLeish,
Glencoe, Ill.

Glencoe, Ill.,
March 7, 1904.

Dear Miss Cobb,

I certainly do not want to trouble Dr. Hauger with those questions, but there is no hurry about them, and of course his experience and opinions are of the greatest value. If you think it would not trouble him to think of the matter in two or three weeks, I will wait. If the accumulation of things will be so great that he will want to be freed from everything unnecessary, You might give them to Dean Judson who probably comes next in the matter of experience.

Yours sincerely,
Martha H. MacLeish.

Mac Leish (Mrs.)
Dec. 5, 1895.

Craigie Lea.

My dear Dr. Harper,

(18)

A notice reached me a few days since of an address to be delivered yesterday by Prof. Lerney, before the Educational Department of the Women's Club, on the question of establishing a primary school under the auspices of the University.

I do not know what is intended so I could not go to the meeting;

But I wondered whether the movement could look eventually to affiliation with one of the kindergarten training schools. If that is the case I wish I might have an opportunity to see you before anything is done to commit the University to any one school. I suppose Prof. Lervey wants primarily a chance to observe children, but I thought the other a possible outcome.

Won't you going to run away soon for a few days of country quiet? We have first-class sleighing, and lots of other winter attractions.

Cordially yours

Maria H. MacLusk.

me this afternoon. He is in the department of Geology here in Washington.

The weather here is perfectly delightful. This is an ideal early spring day. I hope you can ~~now~~ have as good in Chicago.

Please give my love to Mrs.
Harper, and believe me

Yours with the very best wishes,
Martha H. MacLeish.

1215 K. St., Washington, D. C.
Feb. 26, 1905.

4
Dear Dr. Harper,

I can't refrain from sending you a little note to tell you how glad I am that you are doing so well. You have entirely justified my hopes. I felt it in my bones that you would come through that operation all right, and now those same bones are indicating that you will master any difficulty that is left.

It would do you good to know how wide-spread is the interest, and how deep the friendly feeling toward you. In Boston, Hartford, New York, and here in Washington so many people are asking about you and hoping for your full recovery.

Of course you have heard about the splendid Boston meetings. They were most inspiring. I never heard a series of papers of so uniformly high an intellectual standing, and the spirit was very warm and earnest. It seemed to me that everything is ready now for some genuine and lasting achievement. We have a good line of work laid out for the Home Department, and are going to push it. I hope we can report something really worth while at the end of the year.

I had a very nice visit with Bruce in New York. It is a great pleasure to see him developing and growing to be so much of a man. I am sure Samuel must be a great joy to you in that respect. George Fanny, an old U. of C. man, a fraternity brother of Bruce's, is coming over to see

CHICAGO WOMAN'S CLUB

203 MICHIGAN AVENUE

CHICAGO, February 14, 1904.

The Conference on "Woman in Modern Industrialism" will be held on Friday and Saturday, April first and second. There will be six sessions—one each morning at 10 a. m.; one at 3 o'clock each afternoon, and two evening sessions at 8 o'clock.

It is proposed that each Department of the Woman's Club will be in charge of one session, and that after a condensed report of the economical and financial status of woman in the various professional and trade activities represented by that Department, a discussion will be in order on one of the general topics; thus—Friday morning the Home Department will present the economics and financial status of woman in the professions and trades which underlie the home, as housekeeper, caterer, in domestic service, and woman in agriculture. The topic proposed for the discussion to follow is "Marriage As Affected by Industrialism."

Friday afternoon the Philanthropy Department will present woman's status in supervising and administering charity, as matrons, visiting nurses, friendly visitors, court officers, and on State and Charity Boards. "The Family and Financial Burdens Borne by Woman" will be the topic for discussion.

On Friday evening the Philosophy and Science Department will present the economic and financial status of woman as physicians, surgeons, dentists, chemists, pharmacists, etc. The topic for discussion will be "Woman's Health As Affected by Industrialism."

Saturday morning the Art and Literature Department will present the status of woman as author, artist, actor, journalist, photographer, sculptor, decorator, designer, musician, and the artist-artisan as represented by the Arts and Crafts, and the topic for general discussion will be "Woman's Social Life As Affected by Industrialism."

On Saturday afternoon the Educational Department will present the economic and financial status of woman as professor or teacher in all specialties, both in Public and Private Schools—as Superintendents, as University Trustees, and on Boards of Education. The general topic for discussion will be: "Education As Affected by Industrialism."

Saturday evening the Reform Department will present the status of woman in manufacturing, as clerks, stenographers, etc., as government employes and as investors, and the topics for discussion will be: "Political and Legal Disabilities Affecting Woman in Industrialism," "Woman in Trades Unions," and "Voluntary Trade Associations."

Will you not help the conference by answering as many of the following questions as interest you?

Chairman.

Art and Literature Department.

Martha H. MacLeish

Education Department.

Home Department.

Philosophy and Science Department.

Reform Department.

Philanthropy Department.