

44-

The first ten students matriculated in the University
were:

Theodore Elias De Butts, graduate
Joseph Leiser, college
William Bishop Owen, graduate
George Gerard Tunell, graduate
George Eustis Robertson, unclassified.
Charles William Cabeem, graduate
Frederick Ives Carpenter, graduate
Elkanah Hulley, graduate
James Wallace Cabeem, divinity.
William Edgar Taylor, graduate.

The first ten students matriculated in the University

were:

Theodore Elias De Butts, Graduate

Joseph Lelander, College

William Bishop Owen, Graduate

George Gerard Tunnell, Graduate

George Hustis Robertson, Unclassified.

Charles William Caban, Graduate

Frederick Ives Carpenter, Graduate

Hiram Hulley, Graduate

James Wallace Caban, Divinity.

William Edgar Taylor, Graduate.

W. G. Hall
~~W. G. Hall~~
~~W. G. Hall~~
The University of Chicago.

*The Hall
Catullus file*
Chicago, December 15, 1896.

Gentlemen:

May I make a brief explanation, preparatory to a request?

In the Fourteenth Century a manuscript of Catullus, who had hitherto been practically lost to the world, was found in Verona, or was brought from elsewhere to Verona. This disappeared and probably never will be found. Two manuscripts which are believed to be copies of it, or at least to be not more than once removed from it, have been, for some time, known. Our printed texts of Catullus are founded mainly upon them. They are often, however, at variance and we have had no means of knowing which we were to follow in such cases.

During my work in Rome last year I discovered a hitherto unknown manuscript which is of the same rank with these two great ones, being either a direct copy of the lost Verona manuscript, or at least but slightly removed from it.

The great question now remaining is whether the 80 or more other manuscripts of Catullus, known to exist, are derived from one or another of these three great manuscripts which we now possess. If so, we are in a condition to restore the text of the lost Verona manuscript, from which all our emendations of the many obvious blunders must start; for we have now three authorities, so that there is <sup>really</sup> a deciding vote in case of disagreement. If, on the other hand, there is evidence that some of the 80 odd manuscripts are derived from still another early copy which has disappeared, then we need to determine what the tradition of that sub-family is in the doubtful places, and to take it into the reckoning in trying to make up our text.

The University of Chicago.

2.

The Latin Seminary is, in the present year, engaged in these problems, using the rich and entirely new material afforded by my discovery of last year. It is, however, largely blocked by the fact that the reports hitherto published, of the more important secondary manuscripts, are very inadequate and fail us at point after point.

I recently threw out the suggestion in the Seminary that no systematic work had been done upon the abbreviations used in manuscripts in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries, nor upon the spelling of the period, and that a most helpful thesis on the subject might be written, with the aid of the materials afforded by the more important Catullus manuscripts, which run through nearly a century. Mr. C. E. Dixon, a Fellow in Latin, who worked with me last year in Rome, and has had considerable experience with Catullus manuscripts, now offers to go at once to Europe in order to get materials for the thesis I suggested and, at the same time, to furnish the Seminary with the collations which it needs of 8 or 10 of the most important secondary manuscripts. The task must start; for we have now three authorities, so that there is a binding vote in case of disagreement. If, on the other hand, there is evidence that some of the old manuscripts are derived from still another early copy which has disappeared, then we need to determine what the tradition of that sub-family is in the doubtful places, and to take it into the reckoning in trying to make up our text.

The Latin Seminary is, in the present year, engaged in these problems, using the rich and entirely new material afforded by my discovery of last year. It is, however, largely blocked by the fact that the reports hitherto published, of the more important secondary manuscripts, are very inadequate and fall us at point after point.

I recently threw out the suggestion in the Seminary that no systematic work had been done upon the abbreviations used in manuscripts in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries, nor upon the spelling of the period, and that a most helpful thesis on the subject might be written, with the aid of the materials afforded by the more important Catholic manuscripts, which run through nearly a century. Mr. C. E. Dixon, a Fellow in Latin, who worked with me last year in Rome, and has had considerable experience with Catholic manuscripts, now offers to go at once to Europe in order to get materials for the thesis I suggested and, at the same time, to furnish the Seminary with the collections which it needs of 8 or 10 of the most important secondary manuscripts. The task will occupy about six months. Mr. Dixon will have to borrow money for the purpose (having only $320.00 from the University), but is willing to do so. I hereby beg the Board of Trustees to grant him leave of absence to work at Manuscripts in European libraries under my direction.

The University of Chicago.

3.

Nothing could be more delightful than the spirit shown by Mr. Dixon (for manuscript work of this kind is very severe) and nothing that a student could do would reflect greater credit upon the University. These collations will all be published, ultimately, and will be associated with his name and that of the University. I trust there will be no hesitation in granting him leave of absence, and I should be much gratified if the Board of Trustees should even, in the vote which they pass, see fit to express appreciation of his admirable devotion and scholarly spirit. I am, gentlemen,

Very respectfully yours,

W. H. Hale.

Head Professor of Latin

The University of Chicago

3 will occupy about six months. Mr. Dixon will have to borrow money for the purpose (having only $350.00 from the University), but is willing to do so. I hereby beg the Board of Trustees to grant him leave of absence to work at Manuscripts in European libraries under my direction.

Nothing could be more delightful than the spirit shown by Mr. Dixon (for manuscript work of this kind is very severe) and nothing that a student could do would reflect greater credit upon the University.
These collections will all be published, ultimately, and will be associated with his name and that of the University. I trust there will be no hesitation in granting him leave of absence, and I should be much gratified if the Board of Trustees should even in the vote which they pass, see fit to express appreciation of his admirable devotion and scholarly spirit. I am,
Gentlemen,

Very respectfully yours,

W. H. Allen
The Professor of Latin

Hale

Worcester

Greenough Place,

Newport, R. I.

Sept. 10/96.

~~Catallano~~

My dear President:

It is a long time since I have written you, and I can write but a word today. I say that we are all back safely, and that I shall be in Chicago in Oct. 1 for my duties.
I expect next week to go into the woods of Maine.

in search of the complete rest which I more and more need. I have had a very enjoyable, but very active year, which lasted late into the summer.
It is a good while now
since I have had any real vacation.

You may have heard that I have made a manuscript find of high importance, in a manuscript of Catullus, hidden under a false number in the Vatican Library. I shall publish a collection of it in the winter, in the first volume of the School. Indirectly, however, Chicago will get a part of the credit for the work.

I was glad to meet Dr.
Robert Harper in London, and to hear of your good health.

Faithfully yours,

W. H. Hale

History of University
Dear President Harper,

Among the noteworthy events in the history of the University of Chicago since July 1, 1897 I should mention the following:

- 1) The publication by Dr. F. J. J. See of his "Researches on the Evolution of the Stellar Systems"
- 2) The conferring of the astronomical medal upon Professor Barnard.
- 3) The inauguration of the work of the Haskell Oriental Lectureship by Dr. Barrows.
- 4) The erection of the Hull Biological Laboratories.
- 5) The placing of the Yerkes Telescope in the observatory at Geneva.
- 6) The establishment of a coöperative relationship with numerous worthy secondary schools throughout the middle west.

30/6/1897.

Yours faithfully,
Harry Villard Cutting

20/5/1897

John Fairbridge
Oxford

relationship with the university of Oxford in the establishment of a department of zoology
at the University of Oxford

the creation of the Department of Zoology
at the University of Oxford

the University of Oxford

the University of Oxford

the University of Oxford

the University of Oxford

the University of Oxford

the University of
Oxford

August 26th, 1905.

President William R. Harper,

The University of Chicago.

My dear President Harper:-

After consulting with Mr. Capps I have selected the following books published by members of the University during the last year as worthy of mention in your Quarterly Statement:

James R. Angell, Psychology

Thorstein B. Veblen, The Theory of Business Enterprise,

Edison, United States of America,

Charles Richmond Henderson, Modern Methods of Charity,

Ernest Dewitt Burton, A Short Introduction to The Gospels,

Studies in Gospel According to Mark

Shailer Mathews, The Messianic Hope in the New Testament

Oskar Bolza, Calculus of Variations,

Chamberlin and Salisbury, Geologic Processes and Their Results,

Lewellys F. Barker, A Laboratory Manual of Human Anatomy,

John M. Coulter, Plant Studies, Plant Structures, (Second

edition revised), Plant Relations (Third

edition, revised).

Ernst Freund, The Police Power.

August 28th, 1905.

President William R. Harper, Chicago, Illinois.

The University of Chicago.

After consulting with Mr. Capps I have selected the following books published by members of the University

during the last year as worthy of mention in your quarterly statement:

James R. Angell, Psychology
H. P. Chandler
Thorstein B. Veien, The Psychology of Business Administration

Darton S. Perkins, United States of America,

Charles Richmond Henderson, Modern Methods of Charity,
Ernest Dewitt Burton, A Short Introduction to The Gospels,

Studies in Gospel According to Mark

Shailer Mathews, The Messianic Hope in the New Testament

Oskar Bolze, Calculus of Variations,

Chamberlin and Salisbury, Geologic Processes and Their Results,

Jewell F. Barker, A Laboratory Manual of Human Anatomy,

John M. Coulter, Plant Studies, Plant Structures, (Second

edition revised), Plant Relations (Third

edition, revised).

Ernest Freund, The Police Power.

August 26th, 1905.

Paul Milyoukov, Russia and Its Crisis.

Perhaps additions could be made to this list but I confess I should have trouble in naming them. Mr. Capps and I picked out about every solid with the exception of your own work that we could think of.

during the last year as worthy of mention in your Quarterly Statement:

James R. Angell, Psychology

H. P. Chandler

Thorstein B. Veblen, The Theory of the Business Cycle

Secretary to the President

Edwin A. Sparks, United States of America,

Charles Richmond Henderson, Modern Methods of Charity,

Ernest Dewitt Burton, A Short Introduction to The Gospels,

Studies in Gospel According to Mark

Shailer Mathews, The Messianic Hope in the New Testament

Oskar Bolza, Calculus of Variations,

Chamberlin and Salisbury, Geologic Processes and Their Results,

Lewellyn F. Barker, A Laboratory Manual of Human Anatomy,

John M. Coulter, Plant Studies, Plant Structures, (Second edition revised), Plant Relations (Third edition, revised).

Ernst Freund, The Police Power.

August 28th, 1902.

PARLAMENTARY, Russia and its Crises.

Perhaps additions could be made to this list

but I confess I should have trouble in naming them. Mr.

Gaps and I picked out about every one I could with the exception of your own work that we could think of.

during the last year or so of work in your office.

Yours very truly,

Very Respectfully,

James A. Agassiz, Paleontologist.

H. P. Chandler

Secretary to the President

United States of America

Charles Richmond Henderson, Modern Methods of Teaching

Ernest Rebertus, A Short Introduction to the Geology

Studies in Geology According to the

Ernest Rebertus, The Hesperian Hope in the New Testament

Oskar Rebertus, Calculus of Variations

Chapman and Salisbury, Geologic Processes and their Results

Lawrence E. Barker, A Laboratory Manual of Human Anatomy

John A. Corliss, Plant Studies, Plant Structures, Second edition revised, Plant Histology (Third edition, revised).

Ernest Rebertus, The Police Power.

The Cap & Gown

FOR 1908

THE ANNUAL STUDENT PUBLICATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

Box 280, Faculty Exchange

Phone Hyde 725

Feb. 11th, 1908.

Schools" and "The Colleges".

Chicago, Feb. 8, '08.

Your suggestion as to such incidents as the awarding
Mr. Harry Arthur Hansen,
of the Nobel Prize and the like, I think is admirable.
Box 280, Faculty Exchange.

Mr. Fiske, in the Recorder's Office I think can make you some interesting suggestions on these lines. Dr. Goodspeed

I have your favor with regard to
no doubt would give you material about the Memorial Library the Cap and Gown and will be glad to be of any service there are a few questions of Cap and Gown. Rush Medical College is not a part of the in the matter of the dedication of the book

University and its graduates are not graduates of the University. It is one of our affiliated institutions.

Students studying medicine in the senior colleges here are also enrolled in Rush, but when they take their degree here and go over on the West Side, they are in Rush only and not in the University. I should not therefore think that it would be advisable to publish the photographs of Rush men in the same way as we do those of the law men.

You might have a separate heading for affiliated institutions, and under that, if you please, have the photographs of the Rush graduates.

By the way, may I call your attention to some errors that have heretofore been common in the Cap and Gown?

I notice in the list of fraternities for instance, that the phraseology "graduate colleges" and "Undergraduate colleges" is used. It should be instead of the graduate schools", or better perhaps "The Graduate and Professional of the book. Several names have been proposed to us - Mr. John D.

Feb. 11th, 1908.

A. A. 2

Mr. Harry Arthur Hansen,

Box 280, Faculty Exchange.

My dear Mr. Hansen:-

I have your letter with regard to the Gap and Gown and will be glad to be of any service in the matter. Rush Medical College is not a part of the University and its graduates are not graduates of the University. It is one of our affiliated institutions. Students studying medicine in the senior colleges here are also enrolled in Rush, but when they take their degree here and go over on the West Side, they are in Rush only and not in the University. I should not therefore think that it would be advisable to publish the photographs of Rush men in the same way as we do those of the law men. You might have a separate heading for affiliated institutions, and under that, if you please, have the photographs of the Rush graduates.

By the way, may I call your attention to some errors that have heretofore been common in the Gap and Gown? I notice in the list of fraternities for instance, that the phraseology "graduate colleges" and "Undergraduate colleges" is used. It should be "The Graduate and Professional schools", or better perhaps "The Graduate and Professional

The Cap & Gown

FOR 1908

THE ANNUAL STUDENT PUBLICATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

Box 221, Faculty Exchange

Phone Hyde Park 120

99

Schools and "The Colleges".

Chicago, Feb. 8, '08.

Your suggestion as to such incidents as the awarding

of the Nobel Prize and the like, I think is admirable.
Dr. Harry Pratt Judson,

Mr. Fiske in the Recorder's Office I think can make you
President, The University of Chicago.
some interesting suggestions on these lines. Dr. Goodspeed

Dear Dr. Judson;

no doubt would give you material about the Memorial

I dislike taking your time for uninteresting details, but there Library.

are a few questions of Cap and Gown which, I believe, should be If I think is excellent. Our Then proper way to handle it is to us would be for you to write directly to Mr. John D.

Rockefeller, Jr., 26 Broadway, New York, requesting following points;

his father's permission to dedicate the Cap and Gown of
Is Rush Medical school regarded as a part of the University of this year to him. If he has any objection of course

Chicago, and if so, would it be proper to publish the photographs you can then proceed.

of its wishing you all success, I am the Law men?

Very truly yours,

We wish to brighten our faculty section with short, one-page articles on work done by faculty members during the year. Will such incidents as the awarding of the Nobel prize to Dr. Michelson, the Breasted expedition, the visits of Abbe Klein and other noted men, the plans for the new library and the like be of sufficient important to merit articles. We would like to have a four-page article on the new library, if possible.

Perhaps you can give us a suggestion regarding the dedication of the book. Several names have been proposed to us - Mr. John D.

Feb. 11th, 1908.

Schools" and "The Colleges".

Your suggestion as to such incidents as the awarding of the Nobel Prize and the like, I think is admirable.

Mr. Fiske in the Recorder's Office I think can make you some interesting suggestions on these lines. Dr. Goodspeed no doubt would give you material about the Memorial Library.

Your suggestion as to the dedication of the book I think is excellent. The proper way to handle it would be for you to write directly to Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., 26 Broadway, New York, requesting his father's permission to dedicate the Gap and Gown of this year to him. I think he has no objection of course you can then proceed. I should not think it would be Wishing you all success, I am

Very truly yours,

You might have a separate heading for affiliated institutions, and under that, if you please, have the photographs of the Rush graduates.

By the way, may I call your attention to some errors that have heretofore been common in the Gap and Gown? I notice in the list of fraternities for instance, that the phraseology "graduate colleges" and "Undergraduate colleges" is used. It should be "The Graduate and Professional schools", or better perhaps "The Graduate and Professional

The Cap & Gown

FOR 1908

THE ANNUAL STUDENT PUBLICATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

Box 280, Faculty Exchange

Phone Hyde Park 436

WILLIAM FOSTER } MANAGING EDITORS
ARTHUR HANSEN }
FISHER PECK, LITERARY EDITOR
M. PATTERSON MACCRACKEN } BUSINESS MANAGERS
STUART MORRISON }

Chicago, Feb. 8, '08.

Dr. Harry Pratt Judson,

President, The University of Chicago.

Dear Dr. Judson;

I dislike taking your time for uninteresting details, but there are a few questions of Cap and Gown policy which, I believe, should be referred to you, as your opinion on them will be valuable to us in the publication of this year's annual. Can you enlighten us on the following points;

Is Rush Medical school regarded as a part of the University of Chicago, and if so, would it be proper to publish the photographs of its graduates in the Cap and Gown just as now we publish those of the Law men?

We wish to brighten our faculty section with short, one-page articles on work done by faculty members during the year. Will such incidents as the awarding of the Nobel prize to Dr. Michelson, the Breasted expedition, the visits of Abbe Klein and other noted men, the plans for the new library and the like be of sufficient importance to merit articles. We would like to have a four-page article on the new library, if possible.

Perhaps you can give us a suggestion regarding the dedication of the book. Several names have been proposed to us - Mr. John D.

The Gap & Gown

FOR 1908

THE ANNUAL STUDENT PUBLICATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

Box 555, Chicago, Ill.

Phone 1111

Chicago, Feb. 8, '08.

Dr. Henry Pratt Hudson,

President, The University of Chicago.

Dear Dr. Hudson:

I dislike taking your time for uninteresting details, but there are a few questions of Gap and Gown policy which, I believe, should be referred to you, as your opinion on them will be valuable to us in the publication of this year's annual. Can you enlighten us on the following points:

Is Rush Medical School regarded as a part of the University of Chicago, and if so, would it be proper to publish the photographs of its graduates in the Gap and Gown just as now we publish those of the Law men?

We wish to brighten our faculty section with short, one-page articles on work done by faculty members during the year. Will such incidents as the awarding of the Nobel prize to Dr. Michelson, the Breasted expedition, the visits of Abbe Klein and other noted men, the plans for the new library and the like be of sufficient importance to merit articles. We would like to have a four-page article on the new library, if possible.

Perhaps you can give us a suggestion regarding the dedication of the book. Several names have been proposed to us - Mr. John D.

The Cap & Gown

FOR 1908

THE ANNUAL STUDENT PUBLICATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

Box 280, Faculty Exchange

Phone Hyde Park 426

JUNHAM FOSTER } MANAGING EDITORS
ARTHUR HANSEN }
FISHER PECK, LITERARY EDITOR
JAM PATTERSON MACCRACKEN } BUSINESS MANAGERS
PER STUART MORRISON }

H A H -2

Rockefeller, Prof. Michelson, Dean Tufts and Dean Lovett. The board seems to feel this would be a good time to give some recognition to the founder of the University.

If I may confer with you some time later as the book progresses it would be of great help to us.

Very sincerely yours,

Managing Editor.

Arthur Hansen

THE DAILY NEWS
FOR 1908
THE ANNUAL STUDENT PUBLICATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
Box 388, Security Exchange
Phone Hyde Park 430

WALTER STUART MORRISON
WILLIAM PATTERSON HANCOCK
WILLIAM PATTERSON HANCOCK
WILLIAM PATTERSON HANCOCK
WILLIAM PATTERSON HANCOCK
WILLIAM PATTERSON HANCOCK
WILLIAM PATTERSON HANCOCK
WILLIAM PATTERSON HANCOCK
WILLIAM PATTERSON HANCOCK
WILLIAM PATTERSON HANCOCK

H A H - S

it would be of great help to us.
If I may confer with you some time later as the book progresses recognition to the founder of the University.
board seems to feel this would be a good time to give some Ricketteller, Prof. Nicholson, Dean Tuttle and Dean Lovett. The

Very sincerely yours,

Walter Stuart Morrison