Mr. Mason, and Friends:

The University is profoundly gratified to receive at your hands the memorial of Colonel Francis W. Parker. It is highly appropriate that such memorial should be placed here in the heart of Emmons Blaine Hall, and in the midst of the busy work of which he was the founder. Colonel Parker was one whose lifework by no means disappeared when he passed from earth. A teacher's work, it is true, is not in its results embodied in material form. An architect rears a stately building; an engineer constructs a bridge of steel: and either may stand through the ages as the visible embodiment of its creator's power. The teacher's work seems to vanish away, to be dissipated in the silent forces which move society. In fact, however, it lives, and always will live, in the characters of many, and passes on from them in a continually widening sphere.

Colonel Parker as a teacher was a spirit; he was not a system. He meant primarily love for children, and not the construction or mac

a prophet, and no

construction of machinery for teaching children. He was a prophet, and not an organizer. His life was the incarnation, then, of all his ideas and ideals. It is therefore, as I have said, peculiarly fitting that this memorial, placed where it is, should be here in enduring bronze, so that all the coming generations may learn to know and revere the memory of the man.

My dear President Judson:

At a recent meeting of the Francis Parker Club it was decided to print as a memorial the addresses given December ninth at the presentation of the bust of Col. Parker to the University. I was appointed as a committee of one to ascertain if the speaker would were willing for this to be done and if the manuscript of the address is could be obtained.

Your remarks were so greatly appreciated by all present, that the Club member who had the good fortune to be present, as well as those unable to attend.

Mrs. Blaine's relatives and other friends, will appreciate most highly a printed copy your excellent statement.

Trusting you can allow this favor, I am yours
most cordially, Zonia Baker

Dear Miss Baber:

Your note of the 8th inst. is received. My little talk on occasion of the presentation of the Parker Memorial was not written, was in the main spontaneous, and I am sorry to say I did not dictate it at the time. It could not then be reproduced. The substance of it perhaps you will find in the "University Record" for January, which is just out.

Very truly yours,

H.P.J. - L.
