To Dr. William R. Harper.

My dear President Harper.

Seeing by the daily papers that a public sale of Professor Swings' books would take place next Saturday, I felt an inward protest against the indiscriminate scattering of his library, even though I am sure his library will in no way represent the man who was less than most the result of his reading.

Many books are naturally included in his collection which accumulated without his own choice. but I would be glad if a selection might be made of such as would be useful to the University of Chicago - and then if friends of Professor Swings and of the University would give purchase them for that purpose. If practically for there to be kept together as a David Swing library I would like that best. Though I can see this would diminish their serviceableness.

I do not know that the money could be raised for the purpose. but I think it could be.

I spoke of the matter to Judge Kohlstedt this morning. He says he is to meet you at dinner this evening. If it seems to you at all worth while to consider the matter - to take the trouble to look the books over - you will excuse my troubling you with the matter, and will speak with

Judge Kohlbeut about
it. You may know it all
from some pure reason
in the nature of things that it is not worth while to try. The two or three hundred dollars which I knew I could count upon is perhaps too small an amount to be considered as a beginning

My dear Dr. Harper

Since writing to you I have looked over Professor Swings' library with the thought in my mind I express to you of wishing that all or a portion of it, might be kept intact in his room ~~and~~ placed in the University, but an examination of the collection showed, what, with better insight, I might have expected - that Professor Swings' books were in no wise his tools, scarcely his companions. His thought was made quite otherwise.

He was more the thinker than the scholar. His library is in no way distinctive or representative. As a collection it would not help to construct an idea of him in the mind of any not knowing him, as, many times, I think, a library does do. Therefore my wish had not the basis that I thought I do not mean that a creditable selection might not be made - or that duplicates of what you already have might not be useful. but I have no farther impulse & ask you to act in the matter

even so much as to inspect the books so I only withdrew my request
to that effect.

If I could find
time to examine the collection
I would not have mentioned the matter to you - and
only hope it has cost you
no time.

My dear Mrs. Wilmarth:-
For these reasons I have I have a matter to lay before you which I confess I hesitate to write, and yet I think that perhaps you would wish me to present it. Mr. Thompson has completed a book of great scientific value. Our Press editors have considered it and wish H. P. Judson to publish it. At the same time it is their opinion that in all probability it is a book so technical in its character that its sale will be limited to libraries and the scholarly few. It is not at all likely to pay expenses. They feel that they would not be authorized in undertaking the publication unless assured of a guarantee fund of $1000. Of course it is possible that they may be over-conservative in their judgment, and that the sales may be sufficient to cover the cost, aside from the fund, either in whole or in part. They naturally are taking the conservative view. The only subsidy fund at the control of the University is all engaged in similar undertakings, and it will be some time before any of it comes back

Your kind favor of the 27th inst. is at hand. I am greatly pleased to receive your generous guarantee of the book in question, which makes possible immediate steps looking to its publication. I am very sure that the result will be of credit to the University, and a decided addition to the reputation of the able young author. The whole matter will be treated as confidential until you direct otherwise. My understanding will be that the author will be notified that the University will guarantee the publication to the amount indicated. Meanwhile my confidential understanding with you is that you stand back of the University in the matter. If the guarantee should be called in of course the payments might be entirely at your convenience. It isn't a question of cash at any particular time that interests the Press, so much as to feel sure that ultimately there is no loss involved to their capital.

Your kind favor of the 25th inst. I find on my return from the east. I went to Quebec to meet Mrs. Judson, on her way home from Europe, and we came back together Sunday evening. She is very well and greatly rested.

As to the subject matter of your letter, I may say that there will be no immediate occasion whatever for any payments on your part. After the book is farther along the Director of the Press may feel the need of an advance of cash. Possibly that will not be needed at all until the sales show how the matter is to come out. All that he really wants is a guaranty against ultimate loss. That being the case, if it meets your approval I suggest that the whole matter be held subject to call on our part, with the understanding that payments may be made at your convenience and discretion at any time after notice that any sums are needed. The memorandum which you sent I think is very well for us to have on file, although your previous letter answers every purpose.

Dear Mrs. Wilmarth:-

In accordance with my letter of September 30th I take up now the question of the guarantee for Mr. Thompson's book. The Director of the Press would like to have the guarantee paid now at such times as may be convenient to you so that he may have the entire amount in hand by the time the book is published. This will enable him to meet the cost of the work as the costs accrue. He writes me, "Regarding the reimbursement of the donor, it is suggested that this should take place after the Press investment has been returned. It is probable that we can pay back half the amount, and, perhaps, as much as three-fourths."

A time so near Christmas is not altogether a gracious moment for calling in guarantee payments, but business knows no law but its own needs.

Dear Sir:-

Mrs. H. M. Wilmarth is just about leaving for Europe and has requested me to attend to the matter of the payment of the guaranty for Professor Thompson's book. She is not unwilling or reluctant to meet the wishes of the director of the Press, but the call was somewhat unexpected, her seemingly imperfect knowledge of the way in which the business was to be done leading her to suppose that the guaranty would be called in later. However, I am authorized and requested by her to meet the wishes of the Director of the Press, and therefore ~~to~~ request that I should be given definite information as to the amounts and time of the installments which are desired. My understanding is that $1,000 is to be paid in all, and that the requirement of the Press is that it should be all advanced and then a portion of it repaid, but that the advances may be made in installments as the work goes through the press. Is that correct? I desire to say that I am also authorized to receive such repayments as may be made if Mrs. Wilmarth is still abroad and, indeed, under present arrangements even if she had returned, and I also desire - although it is probably needless - to remind you that Mrs. Wilmarth is very anxious that this business arrangement should

My dear Mr. Robertson,

To recapitulate what we were considering over the telephone last evening. I will say:

The regular meeting of the Executive Committee of the Students Fund Society will be held Tuesday next, October 14, at eleven o'clock in the South East parlor of the Woman's Club room on ninth floor of the Fine Arts Building 410 North Michigan Avenue. Luncheon (very brief and informal) will be served at twelve o'clock.

The officers of The Society
are asked to join us at luncheon,
for a conference—

A card is inclosed addressed, for your use if you should be hindered from coming— I should consider it disastrous for the plan if you could not be present.

I learn from the Secretary of the Board of Officers that they have not met for years. I think we want closer cooperation.

Yours sincerely

The Chicago Branch of the Woman's Peace Party has arranged for a mass meeting at the Auditorium Theatre on October 1st, in honor of Dr. Aletta Jacobs of Holland, Madame Rosika Schwimmer of Hungary and Miss Chrystal Macmillan of England.

These women as members of the committee sent to visit the European capitals by the Women's Hague Congress, had the distinction of being received by the King of Sweden and also of making the difficult journey into Russia.

Senator LaFontaine of Belgium and Madame LaFontaine will also be present at the meeting.

In order to defray the expenses of the mass meeting so as to avoid an admission fee, the committee in charge of the arrangements will sell the boxes. Will you not assist by engaging one? The boxes are being offered for the nominal sum of ten dollars, but additional contribution is welcomed.

Tickets reserving sittings until 7:45 P.M. may be secured at Peace Headquarters, Room 500, 116 S. Michigan Avenue.

You are earnestly requested to assist the committee in charge by giving the widest possible publicity to this meeting through clubs and organizations to which you belong, and to make the welcome to these distinguished guests a suitable one by lending your presence and sympathetic support on the evening of October the first.

In order to defray the expenses of the mass meeting so as to avoid an admission fee, the committee in charge of the arrangements will sell the boxes. Will you not assist by giving one? The boxes are being offered for the regular sum of ten dollars, but additional contribution is welcomed.

Tickets reserving sitting until 7:15 P.M. may be secured at Pease Headquarters, Room 500, 115 S. Michigan Avenue.

You are earnestly requested to assist the committee in charge by giving the widest possible publicity to this meeting through clubs and organizations to which you belong, and to make the welcome to these distinguished guests a suitable one by lending your presence and sympathetic support on the evening of October the first.

Yours respectfully,

President
