HEADQUARTERS CENTRAL DEPARTMENT
FEDERAL BUILDING
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

October 11, 1916.

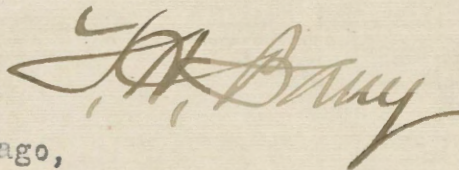

My dear Mr. Judson:-

Your letter of October 2nd at hand. I have just received from the War Department a copy of General Orders No. 49. I am not expecting any further regulations regarding Reserve Officers' Training Corps and so, therefore, will be glad to confer with you at any time, preferably some afternoon between 2 and 4 o'clock, with reference to the establishment of one or more units of the Reserve Officer's Training Corps at the University of Chicago.

It would possibly expedite matters if before the time of our conference a statement could be prepared giving particulars with reference to the University as indicated on pages 37 and 38 of G. O. 49. The regular application for the establishment of one or more units of Reserve Officers' Training Corps might well be held up until after our conference. The inspection required by paragraph 23 of G. O. 49 will, of course, naturally follow.

I believe it would be to the advantage of all concerned to have our conference at my office and should be glad to meet you at any time most convenient to you.

Dear President Judson:

Thank you for arranging the matter about the Director of my laboratories. The arrangement you suggest is of course entirely satisfactory to me. During the past two days I have received circulars from Mass. Inst. of Technology and Columbia, of which I am a graduate. They are registering every man, faculty, alumni and students for his greatest usefulness in case of war as a sort of preparedness move. I am a little doubtful about the value of it, but perhaps it will be useful. Are we doing anything of that kind? Do you not think we should move? I have received a ~~quarter~~ captain's commission in the quartermaster's corps, but I would a great deal rather shoulder a rifle and go with the boys.

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Mathews:

Your note of the 6th inst. is received. I am glad that the arrangement about the laboratories is satisfactory. The registration to which you refer has come to me, and I have submitted it to Major Bell for his judgment. Further, there is a movement on foot in which I am interested to register all members of the faculty who will, as an honorary organization to aid the Reserve Officers' Training Corps in the University. I wish I were enough younger to be an active member of the Corps, and if occasion should serve to be an active member of the Army, but alas, the years have run by, and have not left me behind them.

Dear President Judson:

Paul S. Russell, of the class of 1916, is an applicant for membership in the Officers' Reserve Training Corp, which begins May 8th at Ft. Sheridan.

He discussed with me whom he should ask to supply him with character and ability references and I find he would be particularly grateful for a letter from you. Inasmuch as he did not feel he had an intimate acquaintance with you, he hesitates to request your endorsement. I have told him I would be glad to put the matter before you.

For your ready recollection, Paul Russell came to the University in 1912 from Oak Park High School where he had done creditable work.

With us his scholastic standing was well above the average. He was prominent in University activities of all sorts.

You will remember that he was quarter-back on our Championship Football Team when only a Sophomore, which to me is indicative of the fact that he is not only capable and quick-witted, but that he has the faculty to lead men. He held this position during his three years ^{of athletics} at College and was captain of the team his Senior year, which to me further emphasizes these points.

You will also remember that at the time of graduation he received the Bond Medal for unusual ability in studies and athletics.

I mention these points as they seem to me indicative of the ability he might be expected to show as an officer in the United States Army.

If you care to write a letter of endorsement, it would be very much appreciated by him and I would consider it a personal favor.

In all my acquaintance, I know of no young man whom I am more willing to endorse unqualifiedly.

The letter should be addressed to Commanding General, Central Department, United States Army; and if you care to send it to me, I will transmit it to Mr. Russell.

Yours cordially,

Harold H. Swift

Rank of Surgeon of the 1st Regt. of Cavalry at Fort Clinch, in Indian Territory, Sept. 20, 1890.

The Surgeon General, U.S. Army,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th inst., in relation to the above-named subject.

The Surgeon General is directed to advise you that the same has been forwarded to the proper authorities for their consideration.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
J. H. Thompson,
Surgeon General, U.S. Army.

(5.)

I have tried to reach you by Telephone and did not succeed. If you care to talk with me I am available at Hyde Park 1094 between 6:15 and 7:00 tonight and could see you anytime this evening.
Planning for tomorrow's "hike" and Battalion Drill at 11 AM make it impossible to call on you this afternoon.

The accompanying list is complete and accurate, I believe. I have assumed the fraternity information would be acceptable and hope I was not wrong in so doing.

Island B. Morgan.

Subject: Reasons for failure of candidates in attendance at Officers' Training Camps.

Many letters from educational institutions and from individuals have been received at the War Department and by the various camp commanders in whose camps training schools for officers have been held, inquiring why so many candidates for commissions in the training camps were rejected and not commissioned.

The Camp Commander at Leon Springs, Texas, submitted a number of these letters to a candidate for a commission, now Major Lindsey Blayney, Infantry Reserve Corps, and Major Blayney prepared an excellent treatise. Letters have been received in the War Department complimenting the article written by Major Blayney and believing that it might be interesting and helpful to schools and colleges in the present emergency, it is quoted below.

"The qualities of mind and spirit to which I shall refer are such as would not only make a man a better candidate for military preferment but render him better able to meet the responsibilities of a man and a citizen.

"Perhaps the most glaring fault noted in aspirants to the Officers' Reserve Corps and one that might be corrected by proper attention in our high schools, preparatory schools and colleges, might be characterized by the general word, "Slouchiness." I refer to what might be termed a mental and physical indifference. I have observed many otherwise excellent men who have failed because in our school system sufficient emphasis is not placed upon the avoidance of this mental and physical handicap. In the work of the better Government Military Schools of the world, this slackness in thought, presentation, and bearing is not tolerated because the aim of all military training is accuracy. At military camps throughout the country, mental alertness, accuracy in thinking and acting, clearness in enunciation, sureness and ease of carriage and bearing must Subject: Reasons for failure of candidates in attendance at officers' Training Course.

Many letters and educational institutions and from individuals have been received at the War Department and by the various army commands in these cases training schools for officers have been held, including very few many candidates for commissions in the training course were rejected and not commissioned.

The Camp Commander at Camp B. R. Taylor, Texas, submitted a report of these letters to a candidate for a commission, now Major Sidney H. Taylor, Infantry Reserve Corps, and Major Sidney H. Taylor prepared an excellent report. Letters have been received at the War Department concerning the training of officers by Major Taylor and believing that it might be interesting and helpful to you and college in the present emergency, it is being forwarded.

The qualities of mind and spirit which I could never see were as would not only make a man a better candidate for military promotion but would also make him a better citizen.

Perhaps the most striking fault noted by candidates in the officers' training course was one that might be corrected by proper attention in our high schools, preparatory schools and colleges, and as it was pointed out by the General word, "discipline." I refer to what might be termed a mental and physical discipline. I have observed of many otherwise excellent men who have failed because in our school system sufficient emphasis is not placed upon the training of mind and physical discipline. In the case of the latter Government Military Schools of the world, this discipline is given in presentation, and training is not neglected because the aim of all military training is to secure. At military camps throughout the country, mental discipline, especially in thinking and acting, often have an educational character and aim at character and behavior.

be insisted upon, for two reasons; that success may be assured as near as human effort can guarantee it with the material and means at hand, and that priceless human lives may not be criminally sacrificed. Only by the possession of the qualities referred to, does one become a natural leader.

"A great number of men have failed at Camps, because of their inability to articulate clearly. A man who cannot impart his idea to his command in clear distinct language and with sufficient volume of voice to be heard reasonably far, is not qualified to give commands upon which human life will depend. Many men disqualified by this handicap might have become officers under their country's flag had they been properly trained in school and college. It is to be hoped therefore, that more emphasis will be placed upon the basic principles of elocution in the training of our youth. Even without prescribed training in elocution a great improvement could be wrought by the instructors in our schools and colleges, regardless of the subject, insisting that all answers be given in a loud, clear, well-rounded voice, which of course, necessitates the opening of the mouth and freemovement of the lips. It is remarkable how many excellent men suffer from this handicap, and how almost impossible it is to correct this after the formative years of life.

"In addition to this physical disability and slouchiness is what might be termed, slouchiness of mental attitude. Many men fail to measure up to the requirements set for our Officers' Reserve because they have not been trained to appreciate the importance of accuracy in thinking. Too many schools are satisfied with an approximate answer to a question. Little or no incentive is given increased mental effort to co-ordinate one's ideas and present them clearly and unequivocally. Insistence upon decision in thought and expression must never be lost sight of. This requires eternal vigilance on the part of every teacher. It is next to impossible for military instructors to do much to counteract the negligence of schools in this regard. This again has cost many men their commissions at camp. Three months is too short a time in which to teach an incorrigible 'beater-about-the-bush' that there is but one way to answer a question oral or written, and that is positively, clearly, and accurately. The form of the oral answer in our schools should be made an important consideration of instruction.

"I have further noted that even some of our better military schools have turned out products that while many of them may have the bearing of a soldier in ranks, yet their carriage is totally different as soon as they 'fall out.' Schools, military and non-military, should place more insistence upon the bearing of pupils all the time. It should become a second nature with them to walk and carry correct this after the formative years of life. Men must be brought to the point where they are able to make their own decisions. It is the responsibility of the school to give them the opportunity to do so. The school should be a place where the student is free to express his own ideas and to develop his own personality. The school should be a place where the student is free to learn and to grow. The school should be a place where the student is free to be himself. The school should be a place where the student is free to be a man.

themselves with the bearing of an Officer and a gentleman. This again is a characteristic that cannot be acquired in a short time, and, when coupled with other disqualifying elements, has mitigated against the success of men.

"And when the bearing of a gentleman is spoken of, it might be well to add that, in boarding schools, table manners and the more important amenities of polite society should be taught those whose home training may be deficient in this regard. The American Officer of today must be ready to go to distant parts of the earth and represent his country creditably in the social life of various cultured peoples.

"As a last important element that seems to me has been lacking in the moral and mental make-up of some of our students, is the characteristic of 'grit.' Not that they would have proven cowardly in battle, necessarily, but some have exhibited a tendency to throw up the sponge upon the administration of a severe rebuke or criticism. Their 'feelings have been hurt' and they resign. They have never been taught the true spirit of subordination. They are not ready for the rough edges of life. The true training school should endeavor to inculcate that indomitable spirit that enables one to get out of self, to keep one's eyes fixed upon the goal rather than upon the roughness of the path, to realize that one unable to rise above the hard knocks of discipline cannot hope to face with equanimity the tremendous responsibilities of the officer under modern conditions of warfare. This ideal of grit belongs in the school room as well as upon the campus."
