Dear Mr. Robertson:

The best I could suggest in regard to the letters would be their publication in the American Historical Review, J. F. Jameson, editor, Carnegie Institution, Washington, D. C. I do not think any Chicago paper would either pay for them or even print them in any desirable way. Mr. Jameson

O.S. See if you are not made an effective representation as to the pending of the originals to us.
If I had the letters in hand or could see them I would see Garrison in October and get his best answer. I shall be in Washington in October.

on the other hand publishes over a quarter a considerable mass of letters and documents of this sort.

Since we have a good many letters and papers of Harrison and Croghan in our Durrett collection, I should be glad if the originals of these could come to us to make our collection complete. Mr Hunt of the Library of Congress will not say any more & I trouble to know.

Yours sincerely
Wm E. Dodd

My dear Friend Judson:

I have just finished a history of the intensely Battle of Lower Sandusky, O., - August 3^d & - 1813. For some time I have had a large collection of unpublished letters - letters of Harrison & of Croghan, & of their contemporaries, in regard to the forbidden her splendid & manuscript kept - There are fine chapters of great length; including letters & my historical See note in left margin - when the letter from - Battle of Aug 3^d 1813, is worth of a separate letter - in my collection.

leading papers - I wonder if the Chicago papers wish this to print them - & if in the volume - or a just - clean history - I do not care to sacrifice the & Cheekman, either in the paper, or the consequence - I send readily & from the & you if you like you can handle them for me; and need appropriate the paper - if you wish just "a way" then. W. men ~~these~~ means of admiring and loving & commending yourself and the others of the University, May leaving yours, Oliver's Mother

Treatment of them - I had almost my reason they would appear in the Century Magazine of May as Mr. Buell (Ed^r) was enthusiastic over my
"find", & I left the MSS Articles with him - As he was so ^{strongly} interested in them, & ~~was~~ and seemed desirous of publishing them - I left them in his hands, and receiving no word - except his having them, I felt secure in the prospect of his acceptance. At the last of weeks I instructed my son, George, to call & see how things progressed, and bring with enough & money, & when he handed the to him saying he found "he need not fear" - ~~and~~ "the late" I was deeply impressed. He did not inform me, saying seemed as if he could not criticize them - and was with a mild rejoicing to do so - Now, I have them as my home, and was to place them in a good humble Magazine -

My Dear President Judson:

"Jessie" and I are at our usual resort here by the sea, and all of us are well. I write to inquire if any leading paper or Magazine of N York would like a historical article I have written about the Battle of Long Sandusky, ^{Aug. 2, 1813,} all of original matter; none of it - some two or three letters, none yet published. Some years ago a quantity of letters came into my hands relating to it. The correspondence between Harriam & Croghan - fought by C. apt. H's report & reported commands; at won by the brave chief of 21 - with 180 riflemen against the same number of British with 5 self-powders, & I remember looking Indians, about 1000 of them the Reds. I have a great many letters - & they, with my filling in &c. &c. - make a decidedly new reading. I am almost tempted by new libraries to sell to them; but I paper & have written up the story with full details from original sources, (& of course some of what has been printed) but nearly all original - It takes 5 pretty good chapters - The Century Co. declined my story to take it up, for the Magazine - but were already crowded - but they only let me know the result a few days since -

I want it to go into a good magazine Magazine, or perhaps one of the leading Daily Chicago papers - It could go into 2 or 3 Sunday papers, or Weeklies - Of course, I should expect honorable pay - if you would like to see it, I will send it right on - Two large libraries at Washington DC, & Des Moines want the Mass. & will pay good money - either before or after publication - But I prefer to put out the thing out in the book literary line -

What are you going to suggest?

We do hope that Mrs. Jordan and yourself and Clinton are well; and prosperous & happy, as surely you seem to be.

With kind regards to you all

Believe me truly,
Worlman
