NEWS OF THE CLASSES

1890

Andros Carson, MD Rush, of Des Moines, is 84 years of age and has been practicing for 57 years.

1893

Madeline Wallin, PhM, (Mrs. George Sikes) writes from 102 Northwood Ave., Peoria, that she is a much retired grandmother living a part of the time in Texas and the rest in Illinois, watching the progress of her grandchildren.

1897

Colonel Harry D. Abells celebrated another fiftieth anniversary this fall and all of Morgan Park Military Academy joined: a huge dinner. Harry went from the Midway to Morgan Park, a University affiliate, to teach chemistry. He became principal in 1907 and superintendent in 1918. He retired in 1945 but retains an active and enthusiastic interest in "his" school.

O. J. Arnold, for many years President of Northwestern National Life Insurance Company of Minneapolis, retired from this office in September and was elected chairman of the board.

1898

N. J. Lennes, SM '04, PhD '07, has been retired for three years. He is Professor Emeritus of Mathematics, Montana State University and lives in Missoula. His daughter, Nancy, '38, is married and lives at Long Beach, California.

1900

Carlotta H. Collins, retired from the English staff and Head of the Department at the Lewis and Clark High School, Spokane, spent most of the past year traveling in Arizona and California.

1903

The Harold Melzar Barnes (she was Jennie Hall) celebrated their 41st anniversary this year. In fact, says Harold, this is the 494th celebration in which they have had pie for dinner. Mr. Barnes is now Director of Public Relations at San Angelo College, Texas.

Helen M. Benney is President of the Valparaiso (Ind.) Library Board and Publicity Chairman of the local A.A.U.W.

Henry Smith, AM, PhD '07, retired from the faculty of Bluffton (Ohio) College, was honored last spring with a Litt.D. from that college.

1904

Ovid R. Sellers has completed a quarter of a century as Professor of Old Testament at McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago.

1905

Alida J. Bigelow has retired from the National Red Cross Pacific Area after years in foreign service and at National Headquarters. The past 12 years have been spent in the Pacific Area. Now she's going to garden and travel.

Alva J. Brasted continues his interesting pastoral experiences. Early in the year he served five months as interim pastor of the Glebe Baptist Church, Arlington, Virginia. Last year, for 42 weeks, he was interim pastor of the Congress Heights Baptist Church, Washington, D. C.

Alonzo W. Fortune, DB, PhD '15, resigned the pastorate of the Central Christian Church at Lexington, Kentucky, three years ago because of failing eyesight. He had served the church for more than twenty years.

Guy E. Killie is retiring from the government service after thirty-five years of continuous service.

1906

Alice M. Dougan retired from the editorship of the Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature in April, 1946—a position she had held since 1924.

Helen Gavin, AM '37, retired from the faculty of the Wilson Branch of the Chicago City College in January of this year.

James Henry Larson is preaching in East Orange, New Jersey. He moved from Northampton, Massachusetts, to New York about three years ago. He adds: "My greatest joy is to recall the classes in the Old Testament taught by Dr. William Rainey Harper."

1907

Adeline Meyer (Mrs. G. M. Cook) is teaching in Jacksonville, Florida. The summer of 1946 she spent in Guatemala and Mexico and studying Spanish with Professor Carillo. This past summer she motored to Quebec.

Niels P. Paulsen, MD Rush, practiced in Portland, Oregon, until 1917. Following service in the first War he located in Logan, Utah, where he has practiced since. He has two sons, one in Northwestern Dental School and the other is a pre-medic at Utah State where he is an Assistant Instructor in Chemistry. Dr. Paulsen is on the staff of St. Benedict Hospital in Ogden.

Dr. Thurston W. Weum was unable to attend his class reunion in June because of a pulled tendon in his right arm which necessitated an operation. The doctor lives in Minneapolis.

1908

Geneva S. English writes from Springfield, Missouri that, at 67, she is still keeping up with her civic, club, and church activities.

Una M. Jones (Mrs. W. T. Nelson) is an instructor at the American School (correspondence) at the edge of the quadrangles—58th and Drexel, teaching English. Her son, William, '42, is at Pennsylvania State as a research assistant in chemistry.

1909

Willowdean Chatterton (Mrs. E. S. Handy) is a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Hawaii and a Trustee of the Hawaiian Historical Society.

1910

Herman J. Erhorn is working hard to relieve the national housing shortage by building homes and selling real estate in Omaha.

Frances Fenton, PhD (Mrs. E. A. Park), is a Consulting Psychologist in New York City.

Clarence Hamilton, PhD '14, of the Oberlin College faculty, is spending the fall semester in Mexico to study the work of Protestant missions.

Leverett Lyon, AM '19, PhD '21, Chief Executive Officer of the Chicago Association of Commerce, has recently been elected to the Board of Trustees of the Brookings Institution, internationally known for its studies in government and economic problems. Leverett was Executive Vice President of the Institution before taking the Chicago post. A former member of the Economics faculty on the Midway, Leverett Lyon is now a trustee of Beloit College.

Ella H. Stokes, PhD, retired two years ago at the age of 82 after teaching for 56 years—41 of which were in college work and all but one of these at William Penn College, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

1911

Florence Catlin (Mrs. M. S. Brown), when she wrote in June, had just returned from a freighter trip down the west coast of Mexico with side trips by plane. She was headed for the Paris meeting of the International Congress of Business & Professional Women and planned to remain to visit other European countries. She will spend the pre-holiday season in the East, visiting Ernestine Evans, '12, in New York and her son at the Naval Academy. Her daughter and family are living in Mrs. Brown's Coronado, California home.

S. Edwin Earle is in charge of the Department for Placement of Men in Jobs, a new department which he helped to develop in the Zinser Personnel Service, Chicago.

Ceil Noll Griffis is editor and publisher of the Andean Air Mail and Peruvian Times in Lima. Olive Bickell Griffis, '11, is a volunteer teacher of reading and writing to illiterates. She writes that Donald is a Captain in the U.S.A.R. and manager of the Air Mail...Times. David, a Lieutenant in the U.S.A.R., is in the Traffic Division of Pan American World Airways, Miami, Florida. Jean is married and living in Lima.

Charles C. Hillman, MD Rush, is Director of the Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami. He was retired from the Medical Corps with the rank of Brig. General.

With the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, the University is co-sponsoring a parents education leadership course with Ethel Kawin, AM '25, as coordinator. Miss Kawin also directs the pre-school study course for the National Parent-Teacher Magazine, lectures at the University, and is Director of Guidance for the Glencoe pub-

Three down and one to go!

To three dignitaries of the University, the way out of Stagg Field one day this autumn was as difficult as the way in when the University was secretly conducting atomic research for Uncle Sam.

The three—David Rockefeller, new Trustee revisiting the great institution his grandfather founded, President Ernest Cadman Colwell, and Vice-president Wendell R. Harrison—found themselves locked in the west stands following an inspection tour of the new Institute for the Study of Metals.

The gates at 57th street and Ellis were impregnable. The corner in which they stood was barred from the rest of the field by a barbed wire fence. The outer world was shut out from them by a thick 15-foot wall. They could see no one and they could hear nothing.

President Colwell tried rousing help by pounding the wall with a rake he found in the yard. Rockefeller, sure that the president's efforts were in vain, decided to attack the situation from another angle. He started to scale the wall.

He was half-way up, climbing a 2-by-4 support that ran along the side when a Chinese student sauntered along inside. "Please, what do you want?" he asked.

"Out," the president said tersely. The student-attendant nonchalantly unlocked the door—and Rockefeller slid down the 2-by-4.

Hutchins in a hurry

Christian civilization will have to christianize itself in a hurry if beggary and annihilation are to be forestalled, Chancellor Robert M. Hutchins declared.

Writing on "1950" in Common Cause, first monthly periodical of the Committee to Frame A World Constitution, of which he is president, Mr. Hutchins stated:

"If we wish to be saved, we shall have to practice justice and love, practices that have long been commended to us by the very highest authority. We have at the most three years for our Christian civilization to dedicate itself to the proposition that men are men before they are Englishmen, business men, workingmen, or Americans, and that all men are brothers, each charged with the other's keep."

The universal brotherhood which alone can save us must be sought under law, Hutchins wrote.

"Since the human community which must be established in short order will require law in addition to faith and education, it seems appropriate that the English and the Americans, who live under democratic law, should try to discover the human law which will embrace and bind all the members of the human community.

"We of the Committee to Frame A World Constitution hope to be ready long before 1950. We do not think, of course, that our preliminary draft will be the law of the United World. We trust, nevertheless, that the tentative result of a collective effort of years will not be in vain. The world at large will have ample occasion to learn from our success and failures and to teach us and others. The federal convention will not have to break through a wilderness of immature and contradictory proposals. A pattern will be available. We do not think it will be adopted; we dare to hope that it will not be ignored."

Edited by G. A. Borgese, secretary of the Committee and professor in the division of the humanities, Common Cause features analyses of constitutional and world government problems and studies of contemporary affairs as they affect the drive toward world government.

Progress of the Committee, which proposed to present its preliminary constitutional draft late this year, will be reported in subsequent issues of Common Cause. The Committee has held 12 meetings to date, and collected materials and discussion for its own use in 140 papers and 11 stenotyped reports totaling over 4,000 pages.

Reproduction at high altitudes

The adverse affects which high-altitude had upon sheep in the high Andes of Peru has led to the undertaking of research on the effects of rarified atmosphere by the Department of Zoology.

The experimental work, conducted in the Rocky Mountains, was directed by Carl R. Moore, chairman of the department, and Miss Dorothy Price, Assistant Professor of Zoology.

The biological investigations, which may be of interest to mountain travelers and pilots, as well as to scientists and stock raisers, are devoted primarily to a study of the effects of high altitude on reproduction, on the organs of internal secretions, and other fundamental aspects of life processes in a rarified atmosphere.

Four separate animal colonies, each consisting of more than 200 white rats and a smaller number of guinea pigs, hamsters, and mice, are maintained in the United States for the project at ascending heights above sea level.

The lowest and control station is located in the Zoology Building of the University at an elevation of approximately 600 feet. Gaining access to the Mt. Evans laboratory, highest scientific laboratory in the United States, proved especially difficult this year because of late and very heavy snowfalls in the mountains. At the request of the University of Denver, the University of Chicago scientists, and investigators from other laboratories desiring access to the rarified atmospheres, unusual measures were adopted. The state highway department under the direction of Mark U. Watrous, chief highway engineer, with the cooperation of the McKelvey Machinery Company of Denver, who donated the use of a special snow-removal equipment, were finally able to open the 25-foot snow banks blocking the road and permit the scientists to enter the laboratory on July 1.

The main portion of the year's work will be completed this fall.

45th re-union of the class of 1892 - U of Minn.
(class letter excerpt) June 14 - 1937

My son Alfred is still with the PWA and has lately been transferred to Chicago from Washington, where he had been for about three years, altho the family remained here, not knowing how long he would be kept there. He enjoys the work, altho he knows that in the nature of things it can't be permanent for persons who are not in Civil Service. Sometime he will probably get into private employment in some firm that needs chemical engineers. His children, George, eleven and Dorothy, eight are well and progressing normally in school. First thing I know I'll have a grandson in High School!

My daughter Eleanor (Mrs. Russell Peters of Peoria) is busy bringing up her two boys, Gordon and David (six and three). As an avocation she reads plays for clubs and teacher's institutes--very acceptably it would seem, as she gets paid for doing it. She is not a professional, of course, but has a sense of humor which seems to carry over to her audience. And she is not a bit bad looking, which helps too.

* Since I can't seem to get to my own class reunion, I sometimes go down to the University of Chicago, just to get the feel of a commencement, or some of the doings at least. This year and last they have had an "Alumni School", which really means that some of the best-known professors give lectures on "timely topics", and the Alumni are told many of the things they ought to know about the University, are taken around the campus to see the improvements, etc. There are luncheons and dinners and class reunions, and the University "sing" at night on the Campus and it is all quite inspiring, altho as time goes on, one sees fewer and fewer of the people he knows. But the University, like the government, goes on from one generation to the other and the Spirit of Youth is immortal! This year it was worth the trip to the University just to hear the young, witty, subtle, sophisticated President Hutchins announce a $550,000 gift towards a study of International Relations from Druggist Charles Walgreen, the man whose niece was withdrawn from the University a year or so ago because her patriotic uncle thought she was being indoctrinated with Communism, and whose accusations brought forth a legislative investigation of the teachings of the University--from which the school emerged with a clear record. Evidently Mr. Walgreen has decided to put some money into the University, to see that it gets the right "international relations"--or else his niece has helped him to see the light.

No more now, or this won't get into the mail in time. I had another sort of letter in mind, but hadn't time to write it. Maybe I will next year, if my rugged Bradford-like health continues. I'd like to probe farther into the real opinions of this remarkable class of ours--to find out what they really think about lots of things--as Stella Stearns indicates she would like to know. For instance, I'm crazy to know what Helen Stockwell thinks, now she has come back from her European trip, about the "dictatorships" she met there, compared with the one she evidently thinks we have in this country.

And did any one go to the Coronation? And what do you think about Edward and Wally and the Archbishop of Canterbury? And was it really cricket for Commoner Stanley Baldwin to take an earldom? Now I'll stop. God bless you all.

1. To-night we gladly sing the praise
Of her who owns us as her sons;
Our loyal voices let us raise,
And bless her with our benisons.
Of all fair mothers, fairest she,
Most wise of all that wisest be,
Most true of all the true, say we,
Is our dear Alma Mater

Her mighty learning we would tell,
Tho' life is something more than lore;
She could not love her sons so well,
Loved she not truth and honor more.
We prize her breadth of charity,
Her faith that truth shall make men
free,
That right shall live eternally,
We praise our Alma Mater.

The City White hath fled the earth,
But where the azure waters lie,
A nobler city hath its birth,
The City Gray that ne'er shall die.
For decades and for centuries
Its battlemented towers shall rise,
Beneath the hope-filled western skies,
Tis our dear Alma Mater.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER

2. There is a Varsity out West,
Chi-ca - go! Chi-ca - go!
Founded by cap-i - tal, backed by the best,
Go it, Chi-ca - go!
Headed by wisdom that knows no bounds,
She's making a won-der-ful show;
And others are longing to share the lot of
Chi-ca - go! go!

John D. Rockefeller,
Won-der-ful man is he,
Gives all his spare change
to the U. of C.
He keeps the ball a roll-ing
In our great Var - si - ty!
He pays Dr. Harper
To help us grow sharp - er,
To the glory of U. of C.

They say that he made it by form-ing
a trust,
Chi-ca - go! Chi-ca - go!
Be that as it may, its use is most just,
Go it, Chi-ca - go!
And of this man we all are proud,
Be it high or low,
For to him we owe our all at
Chi-ca - go! go!

We advise you, kind friends, keep an eye on this place,
Chi-ca - go! Chi-ca - go!
It has entered the race and it will set the pace,
Go it, Chi-ca - go!
The race course is long, the world
it includes,
And all who would start at the blow,
Must train with us here for many a year
Chi-ca - go! go!

3. Oh, we came here in the autumn of eighteen ninety-three
A half a dozen buildings, had then the
U. of C.
Cobb Hall was then the only place
where we could daily flunk,
And in the dear old Drexel "Dorm."
was the only place to bunk.

CHORUS

O Chicago, O Chicago, how great
you've grown to be
Since first we cast our lot with thine
in eighteen ninety-three,
O Chicago, O Chicago, how great
you've grown to be
Since first we cast our lot with thine
in eighteen ninety-three

Oh, there were more profs. than students, but then we didn't care;
They spent their days in research work, their evenings at the Fair;
And life upon the campus was one continual swing;
We watched the Ferris wheel go 'round,
and we didn't do a thing.

Oh, the commons started up that year,
this was their bill of fair:
"Sauce with mould, weak coffee cold,
and a hunk of grizzly bear;
And the man who caught the most roaches, at breakfast or at tea,
Was deemed the hero of the hour,
thereafter wore a "C."

Oh, the girls were mostly twenty-eight, and after the "Ph.D's."
They took four hours in those old days; there were no extra fees;
And the men were mostly married,
Which proved a great hoo-doo
To all society events; what could the poor girls do?

The base-ball and the foot-ball teams were poor when at their best,
But now they're great, defying fate
as champions of the West;
To Morgan Park was quite a trip for teams when we first came,
But now we go from coast to coast and seldom lose a game.

Then Stagg was catcher, pitcher, coach,
shortstop, and halfback, too,
For in those days of "auld lang syne"
our athletes were few;
But now three men with brawn and brain are trying for each place,
And these three persons with A. Stagg, decide the pennant race.

Oh, the Glee Club took a trip that year, they made it in a day;
The second stop was Downer's Grove,
the first was Aurora;
But now we feast and dance and sing;
through distance fast we're whirled,
And when the Glee Club's air ship's done, we'll tour around the world.

WAVE THE FLAG

4. Wave the flag of old Chicago,
Maroon, the Color grand.
Ever shall our teams be victors,
Known throughout the land
With the grand old man to lead them
Without a peer they'll stand;
For they're heroes, every man.
(Repeat)

ALL FOR CHICAGO

5. Tune: My Hero (Chocolate Soldier)
All, all, all for Chica-a-go,
Rah! Rah! Hoorah!
All, all, all for Chica-a-go,
Rah! Rah! Hoorah!
Cheer, cheer, cheer, for Chicago,
Go, go, go, Go Go, go, Chicago
Cheer to the end.
Rah! Rah! Rah! for Chica-a-go,
Rah! Rah! Hoorah!

A GRAND OLD STAGG

6. He's a grand old Stagg,
Though we don't like to brag,
And his worth to you soon we will prove,
He's the idol of the team we love
That fights for the dear old Maroon.

✓ SPRING HOUSE CLEANING IN POLITICS

The next regular meeting of the Civics Committee Thursday, March 3, will be a luncheon in the Main dining room at 12:30. Dr. C. H. Woody, of the Department of Political Science, University of Chicago, as guest speaker, will give some timely suggestions on "Spring House Cleaning in Politics." Dr. Woody has not only a thorough knowledge of the basic principles of government, but has also some familiarity with practical politics, as he has taken part in citizens' movements to improve political conditions in this and other cities. He is a forceful and agreeable speaker. The game of "Who's Your Little Whosis" in politics, will be played through a questionnaire on the Ward Committeeman by which everyone present may test her knowledge of the "powers, perquisites, privileges and pay" of this so-called "corner-stone" of our political system. Who is he, why is he, and how did he get that way? All Club members and their guests are welcome. Make reservations early at Central Desk. m.w.s.

FRENCH THEATRE PARTY

Members and their friends are cordially invited to join the Knowles and Favard French Class for dinner at the Club at 6:30 P. M. and for the 3-act French play by Pierre Decourcelles, "L'Autre Fils," at the Goodman Theatre, March 4, at 8:15 P. M. Discussion of the play at 5:30 P. M. For reservations consult the chairman, Mrs. Thomas L. Pusey, Sheldrake 6010.

TUDOR GALLERY

An International Exhibition is being arranged for Tudor Gallery. Opening will be announced in a later bulletin.

THE SWAN CRYSTAL SERVICE LOAN

Through the kind courtesy of Pitkin & Brooks, all the crystal for the banquet scene has been furnished free of charge.

THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN

Co-operating With A Century of Progress

The council is an affiliation of 20 national, state and local organizations, with a combined membership of over 5,000,000 women, founded in 1888. Affiliated with 43 foreign groups, through its membership in the International Council of Women.

Its immediate objective is:

1—Assembling an exhibit of progress achieved by organized women in America during the past 100 years, to be presented at the World's Fair in Chicago during 1933.

2—Promoting an International Congress of Women, to be held in the Social Science Building of the World's Fair for one week during the Summer of 1933.

An interesting feature connected with the exhibit is a book to be written by one of the foremost women authors in America, giving the history and significance of work done by the women's groups affiliated with the Council.

RESERVATIONS NECESSARY MEASURE

Reservations must be made at the Central Desk for all special luncheons and dinners. The chairmen of club committees are requested to make their final reservations with the manager by five o'clock of the evening preceding the luncheon, tea or dinner.

EXPERIMENTS IN EDUCATION

"Mathematics as a Spiritual Adventure" will be presented by Mr. Marx Holt, principal of the Medill Junior High School, on Friday, March 4, at 8 P. M. All interested persons are invited. If dinner is desired before the meeting, make reservations at Central Desk.

SUNDAY OPEN DOOR

The Lakeside Musical Club will give the program.

MAGAZINE REVIEW LUNCHEON*Monday, February 29

The Magazine Review luncheon will be served in the west end of the main dining room. Please make reservations at Central Desk.

Promptly at one o'clock the reviews will be given in Lobdell Room.

"The New Educational System," by Forest Ray Moulton, Ph.D., and other articles on the new experiment of the University of Chicago, will be reviewed by Mrs. Heineman. Mrs. Stern will review Dr. Franz Alexander's article on "Psychoanalysis and Medicine." Dr. Alexander was at the University of Chicago last year and expects to return next year.

HOURLY NURSING SERVICE

Hourly Nursing Service, sponsored by leading women's organizations of Chicago, supplies for a minimum charge, carefully selected graduate registered nurses by the hour to patients under the care of a doctor. Many patients can be adequately cared for in an hour or two when continuous care is not needed.

Visits by appointment may be arranged either daily or less frequently between the hours of 8:30 A. M. and 10:00 P. M. A four-hour service may be arranged for the purpose of relieving the regular 24-hour nurse during her time off duty.

The cost of the service is $2.00 for the first hour or fraction and $1.00 for the second hour or fraction.

Send calls to Hourly Nursing Service, 8 South Michigan Avenue, or telephone State 8542.

CURRENT EVENTS

The next meeting of the Current Events Class, led by Mrs. Brazelton, will be held in the Club Theatre, March 4, at 10:30.

The books to be reviewed: "America Faces the Future," Charles A. Beard; "Loads of Love," Anne Parish; "Small Town," Bradda Field.

SPECIAL DINNER SERVICE

The Club is prepared to serve a dollar dinner to members and friends who are attending "Mourning Becomes Electra." Prompt service is assured.

NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS BREAKFAST*Mr. Rennie Smith of England*Saturday, March 5, 12 o'clock

The speaker on this occasion, Mr. Rennie Smith, is one of the group of brilliant young British political leaders who left Parliament with the downfall of the Labor Government. His subject, "Unemployment and Poverty, Can Britain and America Do Anything?", is a problem of concern to the whole world. Club members are asked to make reservations for themselves and guests as early as possible. Breakfast, 75 cents.

"STAINED GLASS"

The program of the Art Committee for Wednesday, March 2, at 11 o'clock, will be a lecture by Miss Helen Gardner of the Art Institute, who will, with rarely beautiful slides, discuss the fascinating history of stained glass from the 12th Century Gothic (notably that in the Cathedral at Chartres), which is the basis of all stained glass; and modern glass as exemplified by the work of the famous Connick of Boston. Miss Gardner is also well known for her book, "Art Through the Ages," recognized as an authentic history of art. This will be an exceptionally interesting program. Don't miss it.

LE SALON FRANÇAIS LUNCHEON AND LECTURE*Monday, March 7, at 12:30

Monsieur Rene Weiller, the new French consul, and Madame Weiller will be guests at this luncheon.

The speaker, Monsieur Claude Coulanges, has chosen for his subject, "United States of Europe."

Miss Jeanne Shepherd, who has studied four years in Milan, will sing a group of French songs. Details in next Bulletin.

THE FIVE YEAR PLAN

"What Is the Philosophy Behind the Five Year Plan?" Mrs. W. F. Dummer and Miss Roberta Burgess will discuss this question at the Luncheon Study Class on Monday, March 7. Luncheon will be served at 12:00. Program at 12:45. All members and their guests are invited. Reservations must be made for luncheon.

Madeline Wallin (Mrs. George Sikes) has written in to say how much she enjoyed the overseas issue of last May. She adds that her own "frame of reference" is necessarily quite narrow and personal nowadays since the broken thigh bone she suffered two years ago still keeps her pretty close to home. "How I wish I could have seen Mr. Stagg and Stella at the reunion! We still have the blanket which Mr. Stagg presented to my husband in 1893 when graduate students were still allowed to play on the football team."
