Applications should be filed from two to four weeks before the passport is required, depending upon the distance from Washington.

2. Americans residing or sojourning abroad should apply for passports through the nearest American consulate.

3. Applications for passports by persons in the Virgin Islands, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, or the Philippines, should be made to the chief executives of those islands.

4. Under the provisions of the Act of May 16, 1932, American passports are valid for two years from the date of issue unless limited to a shorter period. Such passports may be renewed under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of State for a period not to exceed two years but the final date of expiration shall not be more than four years from the original date of issue.

6. The regulations provide that when the presumption of having ceased to be an American citizen has arisen against a naturalized American citizen under Section 2 of the Act of March 2, 1907, because of protracted foreign residence, his passport shall not be renewed until he shall have submitted to the Department of State or to a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States, evidence showing that the reason for such foreign residence comes within the rules prescribed by the Secretary of State where under such presumption may be overcome.

7. Americans making their homes or residing for a prolonged period abroad should register at the nearest American consulate.
