Memories

Of all the many riders

That have rid upon my back,
I've tender memories of one

Who really had the knack.

I'd jump and shy at chipmunks,
at strange dogs & take a fright,
She'd speak to me most soothingly and handle me just right.

She'd talk to me real intimate,
and point to me the View.

She spoke to me of Botany,
and taught me all I knew.

She showed me all her Kodak prints of me and her together.

I wish I had one in my stall,
to look at in bad weather!

We had full mamya goodby trot,
And cartered mamya a mile
I wish she had n't gone away.
Or would come back a while!
