Dear Mother -

We are s[illegible]ting on the edge here waiting for the boat to take us across the lake. Then we come back & go to Glacier Park Lake - We are on the boat now - being chewed up by mosquitoes - I didn't know they grew here.

I selected the prettiest of the post cards - I didn't know whether you would have room to keep them or not.

This is where we have been for the past two days. a gorgeous place with loads of saddle horses - awful mild & passive. Dad takes great effort to make them trot.

go after all - rode 14 miles most of it in the clouds. Coming back they lifted a bit & we saw gorgeous views. The Bear Grass (a lily) was in full bloom & a beautiful glacier lily, & heather & countless other brilliant flowers were growing right by the snow. We rode across snow & forded a real torrential stream!! Something I have always longed to do. It was narrow to be sure, but thrilling. The guide rode a cute little pinto pony & me (I, leader horse) for a good part of the way.

We also walked to Grinnell Lake (See other side) - 15 min. from the Hotel & took a short launch ride on it - Been looking for Rocky Mt. goats, but they always turn out to be patches of snow, for they never seem to move.

The mountains are solid rock - all brown with patches of snow in the crevices + glaciers spending near the top - Very little green - what there is - is a gray-green - mostly spruce + a scrubby pine + some aspens.

Later -

Waiting for train to take us to western part of park - where we spend 4 days. I hope for a 2 day horse back trip - Am spending all my money thusly - Hope you're contented.

We are always on the jump - early risings & always doing something. Having the time of my life. Like you are too. P.S.
